naked bodies being painted with the colors and symbols of his favorite science. Upon his return to England, Gibbon was made, in 1670, "Blue Mantle Pursuivant of Arms in the Heralds' College." In his work styled, Introductio ad Latnian Blasoniam, he describes Lee as descended from the Lees of Shropshire, and his coat-of-arms as "Gul. a fess. chequy or, Bl between 8 billets arg." I find Gibbon's book in the published list of the books of Col. Richard Lee, the second of the name.[9]

The Englishmen on the banks of the Potomac mingled elegant pleasures with rude labors and perilous enterprises. There is a record of a contract in 1670 between John Lee, son of Col. Richard Lee, then deceased, Henry Corbin, Isaac Allerton, and Dr. Thomas Gerrard, for building a banqueting house at or near their respective lands.[10] The English colonist acted as far as the circumstances would permit, precisely as he would in London. It was a rare thing if the richer settlers did not visit the mother country once during each year. Very different was this from the experience of the western trappers, of whom Daniel Boone was the pioneer, and who were truly isolated among the savages by the vast plains and mountain barriers.

Some miles above Machodic, at Nomini Creek, resided Walter Brodhurst, who came to Virginia from Maryland about the same time as Dr. Gerrard, and was the son of William Brodhurst, Esq., of Lilleshall, Shropshire county, England; Edmund Brent, a kinsman of Col. Giles Brent, formerly Governor of Maryland, and afterwards of Stafford county;[11] Nicholas Spencer, formerly of Cople, in Bedfordshire, and afterwards President of the Virginia council; Valentine Peyton,[12] son of Henry Peyton, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Middlesex county, Eng., Major John Hallowes,[13] or Hollis, formerly a carpenter and servant of Capt. Thomas Cornwallis, afterwards justice, colonel, burgess, etc.

Still further up the river, beyond Nomini, were Samuel Hayward,[15] living at Chotank, in what is now Stafford county, and Col. Giles Brent[16] and his famous sister, Margaret Brent, at "Peace" on Acquia Creek. Other settlers were Capt. John Ashton,[17] Capt. John Lord, brother of Richard Lord, of Hartford, New England; Capt. William Hardwich, a tailor from Maryland, brother-in-law of Mrs. Washington; Thomas Sturman,[18] of Maryland; Daniel Hutt, formerly of London; John Rosier,[19] minister; Anthony Bridges, Capt. George Mason (born in 1629), John Hillier, Capt. Thomas Ewell,[20] Col. Gerrard Fowke,[21] Col. Thomas Speke,[22] Capt. William Pierce,[23] Capt. John Appleton,[24] Col. Thomas Blagg, Capt. Alexander Bainham, Col. John Dodman,[25] Lewis Markham,[26] Clement Spelman,[27] William Browne,[28] of Plymouth, Daniel Lisson,[29] Robert Vaulx,[30] and Capt. Thomas and William Baldridge.[31]

Of all these early immigrants, Col. John Washington, ancestor of the President, naturally attracts the most attention. The records of Westmoreland afford some conclusive evidence regarding him.[32]

Time of Arrival.—According to the deposition of William Meares, aged thirty-two, Washington arrived in Virginia in 1656, in the capacity of "second man" or mate to Edward Prescott, a merchant. Mr. Stanard errs in giving an earlier settlement. The commission to which he refers does not contain the name of Washington, as he supposes. This I know from careful personal examination. But here it is:

The first letter of Major John Hollowes's name is written something like a "w," and probably it was this similarity that led Mr. Stanard into error.

Age of Col. John Washington.—Mr. Stanard states[34] his age to be forty-five in 1674, but perhaps this cannot be positively affirmed. The will of Richard Cole was proved June 24, 1674, and the affidavit of Col. Washington has reference to this will:

"Deposition of Coll. John Washington, aged 45 years or thereabouts, Declareth that hee hath heard M^r rich^d Cole Deceased declare that hee had made a will, and given his whole estate to younge Mr Nicholas Spencer and further saith not. John Washington."

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS.

UNDER the charter granted April 6, 1606, to Sir Thomas Gates and others, for the planting of Virginia, the early settlers were declared entitled to all the liberties of British subjects. Except during the period of the martial laws introduced by Sir Thomas Smythe and Sir Thomas Dale, the common law and English statutes of a general character were in full force in the Colony, as is shown by the records of the County and General Courts. So when Robert Beverley was arrested by Sir Henry Chicheley in May, 1682, for complicity in the plant-cutting in Middlesex, and he applied for the proper mandate, though the writ was at first denied, on the pretext that the subject of his confinement had been transmitted for the decision of his Majesty, it was subsequently granted, and the said Beverley was produced in court by the sheriff of York County, on whom the writ had been served, and was bailed in the penalty of £2,000 sterling.[1] Beverley's lawyer, William Fitzhugh, descants to his client, in his letters of May 29, 1682, and January 8, 1682–'83, of the effect on his case of Magna Charta, the Petition of Right, the Habeas Corpus, and the other English statutes protecting the liberty of the subject, and fully recognized in Virginia.

In York county, the Governor, acting as Chief-Justice, granted the writ in a civil case pending at nearly the same time, of which the following is the record:[2]

"York County:

"Complaint being made to mee by ffrancis Page[3] Late Sheriff, that Mrs Elisheba Vaulx[4] standeth indebted to him y sum of three thousand and odd hundred pounds of tobacco & forty shillings sterl. by account for fees and shee by a writt of Habeas Corpus from ye Rt Honble ye Governr being delivered to ye sheriff of James Citty & process according to Law not to bee had agt her in this county,

NOTES.

[1] Hen. Statutes, iii., 541-571. Hening errs in saying that "the immediate actors in the plant-cutting escaped prosecution." Some were executed. See ibid., page 563.

[3] Francis Page, eldest son of John Page, of the Council, was born in 1657, and died May 10, 1692. He was a justice of the peace of York county, and the first clerk of the House of Burgesses appointed by the Governor. He married Mary, daughter of Governor Edward Digges.

[4] Elisheba Vaulx was wife of James Vaulx, merchant of London in 1663, justice of York county in Virginia in 1670, and died in 1681-2. His son, Robert, removed to Dorchester county, Md., and his wife married there one John Franke. James Vaulx was brother of Robert, Humphrey, and Thomas Vaulx, whose descendants located in Westmoreland County Va.

[5] Otho Thorpe was doubtless of the family of George Thorpe, Esq., of the King's Privy Council, and who was massacred by the Indians in 1622, while acting as superintendent of the college land. He married, 1st, Elizabeth, the widow of his kinsman, Richard Thorpe (died in York county in 1660), who had two sons, Richard and George. He married, 2ndly, Dorothy, widow of Samuel Fenn; 3rd, Frances, who survived him, and married John Annesley, of Westminster, England. His step-daughter, Sarah Fenn, married Thomas Claiborne. Thorpe died in the parish of All-Hallows-the-Wall in London in 1686-7. His devisees were: Thomas Thorpe, his nephew, and his wife Catharine, daughter of Francis Seaton, of Polebrook, in Northampton county, Eng-ary, 1677-'78, devises his property to his brother, Robert, under age, and appoints his brother, James, in England, guardian; a horse to Mary Hardwich for nursing him.

[28] William Browne died about 1668. His sister, Jane, was wife of Richard Hurrill, of Plymouth, merchant, who gave a power to Robert Hodges, of Norfolk county, in Virginia.

[29] Daniel Lisson was a magistrate and Indian interpreter, and accompanied Col. Washington in 1675 against the Susquehanna Fort.

[30] Robert Vaulx (born 1651) was son of Robert Vaulx and Elizabeth Burwell, his wife. He married Mary ——, and died in 1685, leaving his father surviving him in London. Mrs. Mary Vaulx (she married, secondly, Alexander Gorges) in 1685 complained to the court that some persons had confederated to deprive her of 6,000 acres (called "Vaulxland"), patented by her father-in-law June 9, 1655, and on which "her husband had long lived." Her son was Robert Vaulx (will recorded December, 1721), who had sons, Robert and James. The last Robert (will proved 26th March, 1755) had Milly, Molly, Katy, Kenner, Betty, and Sally Vaulx, son-in-law, Lawrence Washington. Robert Vaulx, the immigrant, had brothers, Thomas, James, and Humphrey.

[31] The Baldridge family was prominent from an early date in Maryland. Lt. Thomas Baldridge appears as early as 1637 in the Maryland Records. The following, from the Westmoreland county Records, may be worth adding: Granddaughter of Mrs. Dorothy Baldridge, widow, was wife of Capt. Alexander Bainham, deceased in 1662, leaving a daughter Anne. William Baldridge's will (24 in 1655) was proved in 1658, and mentions son Charles and wife Elizabeth. Deed of James Baldridge, "administrator of my late brother, Major Thomas Baldridge, 1656." Grace Baldridge, widow of Major Thomas Baldridge, married John Tew, a justice of Westmoreland county.

[32] For a most interesting examination of the Washington genealogy, see New England H. and G. Register, Vols. XLIII., XLIV., and XLV., WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE QUARTERLY, April, 1893.

[33] In the Surry County Records occur the following entries: Marriage license signed by "Nicholas Merriwether Cl. Com." between Thomas, alias Sackeferd Brewster of Sackferd Hall, in the county of Suffolk, gent., of the one partie and Elizabeth Watkins of the other part, dated 22 April, 1655. The license is addressed "To o^r well beloved in Christ Mr Thos Lake minister"; certificate of the Rev. Lake that he married the persons within specified on 23 April, 1655, in the presence of John Corker that gave her; marriage contract between said Sackville and said Elizabeth, widow of John Watkins, deced, in behalf of present and future children—22 April, 1655.

KENNER FAMILY.

Since the account of this family which appeared in Quarterly IX., 185, the Editor has come into possession of material which renders it feasable to give a more accurate story.

1. RICHARD[1] KENNER resided in Northumberland County, Virginia, and married Elizabeth, daughter of Matthew Rodham and Elizabeth his wife, who made a deed in 1664 in consideration of Kenner's marriage with their daughter. Hannah Rodham, sister of Elizabeth, married Captain Christopher Neale.

Richard[1] Kenner was a member of the House of Burgesses in 1688, 1691 and 1692, with the rank of Captain. Issue: (St. Stephen's Parish Register) 2 Rodham, born March 23, 1671;

3 Richard, born March 3, 1673; 4 Francis, born Dec. 27, 1675; 5 Elizabeth, born Dec. 18, 1681; 6 John. In 1702 John Kenner, of Westmoreland Co. made a deed to Rodham Kenner, of Northumberland (Westmoreland Co. records); 7 Matthew Kenner was another son of Richard Kenner.

2 RODHAM[2] KENNER (Richard[1]) married Hannah Fox, born July 25, 1671, daughter of Capt. David Fox and Hannah Ball (Quarterly, VIII., 109; Hayden, Va. Genealogies, 60) captain, justice, member of the House of Burgesses in 1696 and in other years. Issue: 8 Richard; 9 Elizabeth, married (1) Richard Bushrod, son of Thomas Bushrod (Note 1) She married (II) Robert Vaulx of Westmoreland (Note 2); (III) Rev. Lawrence de Butts (Note 3); 10 Hannah, born August 31, 1695, married (I) Richard Hull, (II) John Harris, (III) Thomas Crallé, (IV.) John Crallé. Col. Rodham Kenner died in 1706 in Northumberland County.

Rodham Kenner's widow, Hannah, married 2dly. Clement Spelman (Note 3), and had issue: Frances Spelman, who married Parish Garner (See wills of Col. Rodham Kenner proved Aug. 21, 1706, and of Richard Kenner proved January 18, 1727, in Northumberland Co., and William Fox, proved Nov. 2, 1718, in Lancaster Co.)

7 RICHARD[3] KENNER (Rodham,[2] Richard[1]) married Elizabeth ——, and in his will dated Feb. 2, 1725, proved January 18, 1726-'7, he names wife Elizabeth, sisters Elizabeth de Butts and Hannah Crallé, godson Richard Straughan, and children: 11 Hannah, married January 10, 1742 William Ball, 12 Rodham, born January 2, 1717, 13 Richard, died Feb. 12, 1729.

12 RODHAM[4] KENNER (Richard,[3] Rodham,[2] Richard[1]) married Susanna Opie, daughter of John and Ann Opie, on April 24, 1735, and had issue: 14 Richard, born July 18, 1738, 15 Rodham. His will was proved August 8, 1743.

15 RODHAM[4] KENNER (Richard,[3] Rodham,[2] Richard[1]) was probably Col. Rodham Kenner, scholar at William and Mary College in 1760, burgess for Northumberland county in 1773; member of the State Convention in 1776, and one of the signers of the Westmoreland address February 1776; county lieutenant in 1785. He married in 1763 Elizabeth Plater, daughter of George Plater, Esq., (marriage bond—Quarterly VII. 191.)

3 RICHARD[2] KENNER (Richard[1]) married Elizabeth Winder, born 1691, daughter of Captain Thomas Winder, (son of Lt. Col. John Winder, of Maryland) and Elizabeth Brereton his wife, daughter of Col. Thomas Brereton and Jane Claiborne (daughter of Col. William Claiborne). He mentions, in his will proved in Westmoreland Co., May 27, 1719., his brother John Kenner, mother-in-law Elizabeth Winder and children: 16 Winder, 17 Elizabeth, 18 Richard, 19 Rodham, 20 Francis.

16 WINDER[3] KENNER (Richard,[2] Richard[1]) married, and made his will Aug. 23, 1759, proved April 12, 1762 in Northumberland Co., and had issue; 21 Brereton, born Feb. 8, 1732, 22 Richard born Feb. 29, 1733, 23 Winder, born Aug. 16, 1735 who alone survived his father.

21 BRERETON[4] KENNER (Winder,[3] Richard,[2] Richard[1]) married Judith, daughter of Willoughby Newton, and had issue, named in their grandfather Kenner's will 24 Mary, married Thomas Rouand of Lancaster, gent., 25 Elizabeth, 26 Judith. It is stated in the records in 1755 that Elizabeth and Judith are dead and that Mary Rouand, Brereton Kenner's daughter, was heir-at-law to her father, who had a fee tail estate under the will of his grandmother Elizabeth Winder.

23 WINDER[4] KENNER, (Winder,[3] Richard,[2] Richard[1]) married Mary Ball, daughter of Col. Spencer Mottrom Ball, and was one of the signers of the Westmoreland address in 1766. His will was proved Aug. 8, 1785, and names issue: 27 Mary Winder, 28 Frances Ball, 29 Elizabeth. Executors of will wife Mary, Capt. Spencer Mottrom Ball and Captain Robert Conway.

4 FRANCIS[2] KENNER (Richard[1]) was born December 27, 1677, and his will was proved in Northumberland county April 18, 1728. He had issue, 30 Rodham, whom he directed in his will "should be kept at school and learning till he is 21;" 31 Elizabeth, 32 Howson.

30 RODHAM KENNER[3] (Francis,[2] Richard[1]) was probably Rev. Rodham Kenner, to whom the St. Bees Grammar School register, date after 1686, referred to by Mr. Winder[1] as a scholar there, describes, "born at Cherry Point, Virginia, went to Glasgow and thence to Virginia as minister." He was born Sept. 28, 1707, and in 1728 was recommended to St. George's Parish, Spotsylvania county. (Meade, Old Churches, &c.) In 1730 he married Judith, daughter of Harry Beverley. Dr. James Blair referred to him as " a very good man," and in March, 1734-35, he was reported as "dead or dying." (Perry, Papers relating to the church in Virginia).

32 HOWSON[3] KENNER (Francis,[2] Richard[1]) chose John Cralle as guardian in June, 1728; married Margaret [illegible], and his will was proved in Fauquier county 1778. He had issue, named in his will, 33 Francis, 34 Betty, married Seaton, and had George, 35 Rebecca, married Clifton, 36 Mary, married Seaton, 37 George Turberville, and had Rodham, 38 Peggy, married Stephen Pritchard, 39 Rodham, 40 Kate, married Markham, and had Mary Ann, 41 Susanna married in 1780, Spencer Morgan, 42 Marry Ann, married Eskridge, and had Samuel. Howson Kenner was vestryman of Dettingen Parish, Prince William county, in 1749, with Richard Kenner.

33 FRANCIS[4] KENNER (Howson,[3] Francis,[2] Richard[1]) had issue: 43 Rodham, who in his will proved in Fauquier county, June 29, 1793, names issue: 44 Lucy, 45 Judith, and 46 Lawrence, which last was to be "given at ten years to his uncle Rodham to be educated."

39 RODHAM KENNER (Howson,[3] Francis,[2] Richard[1]) studied for the ministry in England and returned in 1772. In States, 16 Corbin deceased before 1810. 17 Jane married William Washington, 18 Mildred md. Thomas Lee, 3 Thomas[2] Bushrod, son of Richard[1] Bushrod, married Anne —— and his will was dated Sept. 1, 1697. He had: 19 Richard[3], born Feb. 10, 1690, who married Elizabeth Kenner, daughter of Rodham Kenner, and daughter 20 Ann, born March 16, 1694, who married Griffin Fauntleroy. Captain Griffin Fauntleroy died Oct. 28, 1755, and had issue: 1 Catherine, born January 16, 1709, 2 Moore, born July 30, 1711, 3 Ann, born Dec. 29, 1713, 4 William, born August 17, 1718. (St. Stephen's Parish Register). In 1711 Richard, son of Thomas Bushrod, was dead, leaving issue by Elizabeth Kenner a son Richard, ward to George Eskridge. (Northumberland Co. Records.)

Note 2. Robert[1] Vaulx was a prominent merchant dealing with Virginia, and probably married Elizabeth Burwell, sister of Major Lewis Burwell, whom he calls "brother." He had three brothers, who came with him to Virginia: Humphrey, Thomas and James. James Vaulx was justice of York Co., Virginia, in 1670, and married Elizabeth ——, and son Robert removed to Dorchester Co., Maryland, where his mother married John Franke. Robert[2] Vaulx, (born 1651,) was son of Robert[1] Vaulx and Elizabeth Burwell, his wife. He married Mary ——, and died in 1685, leaving his father surviving him in London. Mrs. Mary Vaulx (she married, secondly, Alexander Gorges) in 1685 complained to the court of Westmoreland Co. that some persons had confederated to deprive her of 6000 acres (called "Vaulxland"), patented by her father-in-law June 9, 1655, and on which "her husband had long lived." Her son was Robert[3] Vaulx (will recorded December, 1721), who by Elizabeth Kenner had sons, Robert[4] and James[4]. This last Robert[4] (will proved in Westmoreland Co., 26th March, 1755) had Milly, Molly Katy, Kenner, Betty, and Sally Vaulx, son-in-law, Lawrence Washington. (Quarterly II., 231., III., 14, 153, IV., 42.)

Note 3. In 1721 Rev. Lawrence de Butts received the customary bounty of 20 pounds to sail to Virginia, and soon after reported to Governor Spotswood, who assigned him to Washington Parish, Westmoreland Co. He also served in St. Stephen's Parish in Northumberland, Farnham in Richmond and Cople parish in Westmoreland. In 1735 Mr. de Butts removed to Maryland, and describing himself as " of the parish of William and Mary in St. Mary's County, in the Province of Maryland," he in 1752 made a deed for 450 acres in Prince William Co., Va., to Wharton Ransdell (Prince William Co. Records). In the same year Robert de Butts, of Frederick Co., in Maryland, gave a power of attorney to Henry Lee, stating that his brother Rev. Lawrence de Butts, late of St. Mary's Co., Maryland, had died intestate. (Northumberland Co. Records.)

Note 4. Spelman or Spilman. This family was represented in the early history of Virginia by Henry Spelman, son of the antiquarian Sir Henry Spelman. He was killed by the Indians, in 1622, near the

of Mrs. Washington; Thomas Sturman,[18] of Maryland; Daniel Hutt, formerly of London; John Rosier,[19] minister; Anthony Bridges, Capt. George Mason (born in 1629), John Hillier, Capt. Thomas Ewell,[20] Col. Gerrard Fowke,[21] Col. Thomas Speke,[22] Capt. William Pierce,[23] Capt. John Appleton,[24] Col. Thomas Blagg, Capt. Alexander Bainham, Col. John Dodman,[25] Lewis Markham,[26] Clement Spelman,[27] William Browne,[28] of Plymouth, Daniel Lisson,[29] Robert Vaulx,[30] and Capt. Thomas and William Baldridge.[31]

Of all these early immigrants, Col. John Washington, ancestor of the President, naturally attracts the most attention. The records of Westmoreland afford some conclusive evidence regarding him.[32]

Time of Arrival.—According to the deposition of William Meares, aged thirty-two, Washington arrived in Virginia in 1656, in the capacity of "second man" or mate to Edward Prescott, a merchant. Mr. Stanard errs in giving an earlier settlement. The commission to which he refers does not contain the name of Washington, as he supposes. This I know from careful personal examination. But here it is:

"4th April, 1655. Com^rs for ye County of Westmoreland,

Mr Thomas Speke, Mr Nathaniel Pope, Mr John Hallowes, Mr Walter Brodhurst, Mr John Hillier,	These first five to be of ye quorum.	Mr John Dodman, Mr Gerrard ffowke, Mr James Baldridge, Mr Alex Bainham, Lieu^t Tho. Blagg.

"These appointed by ye Govern^r & councell to be of ye Militia for ye said County of Westmoreland Colonel Thomas Speke, Lieu^t Col^l Nath: Pope, Major John Hallowes, Capt Tho Blagg, Capt Alex Bainham.

"Vera copia Sack Brewer[33] 20 July 1655 this order was Recorded."

The first letter of Major John Hollowes's name is written something like a "w," and probably it was this similarity that led Mr. Stanard into error.

Age of Col. John Washington.—Mr. Stanard states[34] his age to be forty-five in 1674, but perhaps this cannot be positively affirmed. The will of Richard Cole was proved June 24, 1674, and the affidavit of Col. Washington has reference to this will:

"Deposition of Coll. John Washington, aged 45 years or thereabouts, Declareth that hee hath heard M^r rich^d Cole Deceased declare that hee had made a will, and given his whole estate to younge Mr Nicholas Spencer and further saith not. John Washington."

Wm & M, III

ary, 1677–'78, devises his property to his brother, Robert, under age, and appoints his brother, James, in England, guardian; a horse to Mary Hardwich for nursing him.

[28] William Browne died about 1668. His sister, Jane, was wife of Richard Hurrill, of Plymouth, merchant, who gave a power to Robert Hodges, of Norfolk county, in Virginia.

[29] Daniel Lisson was a magistrate and Indian interpreter, and accompanied Col. Washington in 1675 against the Susquehanna Fort.

[30] Robert Vaulx (born 1651) was son of Robert Vaulx and Elizabeth Burwell, his wife. He married Mary ——, and died in 1685, leaving his father surviving him in London. Mrs. Mary Vaulx (she married, secondly, Alexander Gorges) in 1685 complained to the court that some persons had confederated to deprive her of 6,000 acres (called "Vaulxland"), patented by her father-in-law June 9, 1655, and on which "her husband had long lived." Her son was Robert Vaulx (will recorded December, 1721), who had sons, Robert and James. The last Robert (will proved 26th March, 1755) had Milly, Molly, Katy, Kenner, Betty, and Sally Vaulx, son-in-law, Lawrence Washington. Robert Vaulx, the immigrant, had brothers, Thomas, James, and Humphrey.

[31] The Baldridge family was prominent from an early date in Maryland. Lt. Thomas Baldridge appears as early as 1637 in the Maryland Records. The following, from the Westmoreland county Records, may be worth adding: Granddaughter of Mrs. Dorothy Baldridge, widow, was wife of Capt. Alexander Bainham, deceased in 1662, leaving a daughter Anne. William Baldridge's will (24 in 1655) was proved in 1658, and mentions son Charles and wife Elizabeth. Deed of James Baldridge, "administrator of my late brother, Major Thomas Baldridge, 1656." Grace Baldridge, widow of Major Thomas Baldridge, married John Tew, a justice of Westmoreland county.

[32] For a most interesting examination of the Washington genealogy, see New England H. and G. Register, Vols. XLIII., XLIV., and XLV., WILLIAM AND MARY COLLEGE QUARTERLY, April, 1893.

[33] In the Surry County Records occur the following entries: Marriage license signed by "Nicholas Merriwether Cl. Com." between Thomas, alias Sackeferd Brewster of Sackferd Hall, in the county of Suffolk, gent., of the one partie and Elizabeth Watkins of the other part, dated 22 April, 1655. The license is addressed "To o^r well beloved in Christ Mr Thos Lake minister"; certificate of the Rev. Lake that he married the persons within specified on 23 April, 1655, in the presence of John Corker that gave her; marriage contract between said Sackville and said Elizabeth, widow of John Watkins, deced, in behalf of present and future children—22 April, 1655.

EARLY HISTORY OF CARTER COUNTY

This provided for a two-year collection by the sheriff or other collectors and provided for strict accounting as in the case of all public money. Apparently the tax to be levied over the two-year period was insufficient to meet the cost of construction of the court house inasmuch as a tax rate for 1799 included a levy to complete the construction.[11] The building was probably begun immediately and completed without much delay. Like most public buildings on the frontier, it was probably constructed of logs and stood on the town square. It remained sufficient for the needs of the new county for the next twenty-five years until it was replaced by a two-story building.

Early County Court

The first court was composed of the existing magistrates, commonly called esquires or justices of the peace. It included Andrew Greer, Landon Carter, Nathaniel Taylor, David McNabb, Zachariah Campbell, Guttredge Garland, John Vaught, Joseph Lands, and Reuben Thornton.[12]

[11]A total of $866.72 was collected for the courthouse as follows: 1796--$271.18; 1797--$143.25; 1796--$160.16; 1799--$292.13. Account Book, 1796-1835 (County Court Clerk's Office, Elizabethton).

[12]Goodspeed, op. cit., 908. Some of these had probably held a squire's commission since the days of the state of Franklin under one authority or another. Unfortunately the minutes of the first years of the county court activities are not available; fires and maybe theft have destroyed many historical records of the county. It might well be that in 1880's when the Goodspeed history was written that these original records were then available.

This provided for a two-year collection by the Sheriff or other authorities and payment for wheat, whenever as in the case of all public money, hypothetically the tax to be levied over the two-year period was insufficient to meet the cost of construction of the court house. Assuming as a tax rate for 1795 included a levy to complete the construction,[11] the building was probably begun immediately and completed without much delay. Like most public buildings on the frontier, it was probably constructed of logs not stood on the time square. It provided sufficient for the needs of the new county for the next twenty-odd years until it was replaced by a brick-stone building.

Early County Court

The first court was composed of the presiding magistrate, commonly called assistant or justices of the peace. It included Andrew Moore, Joshua Barker, Reinhard Ingler, David Brooks, Jacob Wright, Christopher Gardner, John Young, Jesse Lewis, and Thomas Thompson.[12]

[11] A total of $2064.77 was collected for the courthouse at letting. 1796--$1212.50; 1797--$1212.50; 1798--$1212.50; 1799--$1272.50. Journal "A", 1794-1815 (Monroe County Clerk's Office, Bloomington).

[12] Goodspeed, op. cit., 508. Some of these are probably only a quarter's assistance since the date of the sale of Reinhard Moore was contested by another. Nevertheless the minutes of the first years of the court have been destroyed and relatively few are available. There are reports that data dealing with physical records of the county, it might well be that in 1820's when the Goodspeed history was written that these original records were then available.

A governmental theory of the day was that all property including slaves should be taxed and our early state constitutions so provided. Thus the slaveowner was frequently "hit hard" by taxes on his slave property. In 1796 a twenty-five cent tax was levied on each slave and by 1804 the tax was seventy-five cents. Later it was reduced to 62½ cents for the year 1820, then to 50 cents in 1830, but the rate was increased to 87½ for the years 1827, 1828, and 1831. By the next year, 1832, it had reached an all-time high of a $1.00 per slave,[7] with specific assessments as follows: 25 cents for the contingent fund (operating expenses), 25 cents as a poor tax, 37½ cents to build a new jail, and 12½ listed as an additional tax to cover various appropriations.

Concerning the sale and transfer of slaves in this county, the writer has reached certain tentative and general conclusions after an extensive analysis of bills of sale covering such transactions as recorded in the Register's Office, Elizabethton.[8] In the first place, the selling price of slaves in most cases depended upon age, physical conditions, special abilities, and the like. A young boy or girl, age ranging from 11 or 12 up to 17 or 20, would bring from about three to five hundred dollars. A few examples:

1807 Mary Greer to A. M. Carter, a girl, age 16, $463.00
1807 Godfrey Carriger to John Carriger, a boy, 15, $400.00
1808 Johnston Hampton to Joseph Vaught, a girl, $350.00
1809 James S. Johnson to A. M. Carter, a mulatto boy, 17, $400.00
1821 Thomas D. Love to James P. Taylor, a girl, age 13, $400.00
1824 William B. Carter to James P. Taylor, a girl, age 14, $400.00
1827 Valentine Bowers to Godfrey Nave, a boy, age 12, $350.00

A governmental theory of the day was that all property belonging either absolute or tied and our society was constituted a monarchical. Thus the slaveholder was frequently this based by taxes on the slave property. In 1704 a twenty-five cent tax was levied on each slave and by 1723 the tax was twenty-five cents. Later it was reduced to 5¢ cents for the year 1730, then to 50 cents in 1740, but the rate was increased to 8¢ for the years 1721, 1726, and 1732. By the end year 1817, it had reached an all-time high of a $1.00 per slave, with exception volunteers in Italians. 25 cents for the contingent fund importing expenses, 25 cents as a poor tax, 17½ cents to build a jail and 12½ lashes as in addition was to cover various expenses.

Concerning the sale and transfer of slaves in this county, the action has resulted certain results and received specimens after an extensive analysis of bills of sale covering such transactions as recorded in the Negroville office. Examination, in the first place, the selling price of slaves in most cases depended upon physical conditions, mental abilities, and the time. A young boy or girl, exceeding from 12 to 15 or 17 or 20, would bring from seven dollars to five hundred dollars. A few examples:

1847 Mary Ann to A. M. Carter, a girl, age 16, $521.00
1847 Jonathan Carter to John Cartright, a boy, 25, $500.00
1850 Jeremiah Rawlins to Joseph Vaughn, a girl, 12, $300.00
1847 Henry E. Jonson to A. M. Carter, a mulatto boy, 17, $500.00
1851 Thomas G. Love to Jesse R. Taylor, a girl, age 10, $[illegible].00
1852 William S. Carter to James E. Carter, a girl, age 10, $[illegible].00
1847 Valentine Somers to Jeremiah Dunn, a boy, age 12, $[illegible].00

There is a story of various tax rates levied for the years mentioned.
Details [illegible] omitted.

Figures and amounts given are derived from a careful study of more than 500 bills of sale. Dean Blount's thesis, p. 1708-1821.

Another competent authority states that the early ancestors of the Vogt family were living in the region which now comprises Saxe-Weimar as early as the fourteenth century, and also refers to Christoph Vogt, who was a bourgomeister in the city of Zittau in 1512. Another representative of this family patronymic, Daniel Vogt, was a doctor of medicine, and for a number of years held the office of superintendent at Hessen, in the province of Saxony, from 1668 to 1675. We also find reference to Michael Christoph Vogt, who was a pastor, and held an official position with the court. His son, Franz Ernst Vogt, was born in the town of Buckeburg, in the principality of Schaumburg-Lippe, July 4, 1680. In 1696 he entered the high school at Rinteln, and in 1699 he is referred to as having gone to Oldenberg, where he held a position as governor to the young nobleman, Johann Heinrich von Engels. In 1700 Franz Ernst Vogt entered the army as an auditeur (auditor) under Colonel von Wedel. In 1703 he held the official position of Riscal to the Count Friedrich Christian of Schaumberg-Lippe, and in 1705 he was one of the judiciary for the town of Buckeburg. The same authority refers to another representative of this family patronymic, namely Gabriel Vogt, who, in 1668, served as Chur-Sachsicher Hof and Berg Rath. Still another representative of this family patronymic is mentioned as George Vogt, who was a celebrated organ builder in his day, and is accredited with having built the noted organ in the church at Mark-Ranstadt.

CHAPTER I

The Beginnings

Western Wythe County was predominantly settled by the Germans, receiving decidedly the largest number of Germans of any area in Southwest Virginia. These Germans, both Lutheran and Reformed, came to this section from Pennsylvania, generally following the "Great Philadelphia Road" via Lancaster and York, entering the Shenandoah Valley near Winchester. There they followed the former Indian trails which had become the renowned Wilderness Road, traversing Virginia from the Potomac to Cumberland Gap. They traveled in wagons or on horseback, through the meadows of the Valley and on into the rugged Southwest. Due to the extreme hardships of their prior life on the Continent, these settlers were a hardy, rugged type, well suited to the trials and tribulations of frontier life.

The majority of these settlers originally came from the Palatinate, although some were from Wurtemberg, as well as Switzerland. The Palatinate, a fertile section of Germany along the Rhine River, extending over a hundred miles east and west about sixty miles north and south, was considered by many to be the Garden Spot of Europe, and was constantly sought after by neighboring powers. The inhabitants were among the best farmers in the world, having cultivated the soil for many generations.

This emigration to the New World was primarily brought about by the terrible civil and religious wars that ravaged Europe for over a century and again and again swept over the Rhine Valley. The religious wars of 1618-1648, also labeled the Thirty Years' War, "created devastation and general chaos with harvests destroyed, industry and commerce disrupted and plagues that took the lives of thousands who were fortunate enough to survive bloodshed by the sword."[1] Then Louis XIV of France attempted to seize the area in the conflict of 1688-1697. Again in 1701-1713 when the War of Spanish Succession broke out the area suffered the woes of war.

All the while there was conflict between the Lutherans and the Calvinists; nagging and oppression by the Catholics; tyranny, extravagance, and corruption by the rulers; periodic adverse weather; and unsettled economic conditions creating widespread poverty. These factors combined forces to make life intolerable for the inhabitants.

In 1677 William Penn had visited the Rhine Valley and had seen the conditions there. Upon receiving his grant of Pennsylvania in 1681, he sought to attract these oppressed people with promises of good land and religious freedom. Queen Anne of England, moved by their suffering and recognizing their qualifications for colonizing her American provinces, patronized their venture to the New World. Shipowners found transporting emigrants to be profitable so they promoted a flow of migration which began in 1708 and gained momentum for decades.[2] It should be pointed out that this was in no way a German sponsored colonization effort as Germany at that time was a large number of independent states or principalities.

The trip to America was prolonged and hazardous. As they proceeded down the Rhine there were numerous delays at the twenty-six toll points along the river. There were usually weeks of waiting in Holland for a ship to take them across the English Channel to England, where further delays could be expected. The treacherous passage across the Atlantic took from six to twelve weeks, often with the captains failing to provide adequate food, and the people huddled in overcrowded, unsanitary quarters.[3] Their staunch faith and religious habits were constantly notable on board ship with their daily services and their frequent singing of hymns.

Philadelphia was the port of entry for practically all of the settlers who came to Southwest Virginia. They were lured to Pennsylvania, Virginia, and the Carolinas by religious toleration, a generous land policy, and land which lent itself to the type of farming familiar to them. By 1730 farmland in the lowlands of Southeastern Pennsylvania was becoming scarce and expensive. The settlers began to move into Maryland and Virginia during the next decades, extending in time into Southwestern Virginia. The trek from Pennsylvania to Virginia was usually made in the fall after harvest. A family, usually with several nearly grown sons, would set out together to cope with the wilderness journey. The trip could be made in a week on horseback. For a family driving a wagon loaded with family belongings and herding a few head of livestock, this trip required several weeks.

The first land taken up in what became western Wythe County was the 620 acre "Long Glade" tract, on a branch of Reed Creek, surveyed for Colonel James Patton on March 7, 1746.[4] This land adjoined the property later owned by St. Paul Church on the north and west. During the next years explorers visited the area and some stayed. Then, suddenly, all of this was halted due to Indian attacks in the New River settlement and along the Holston River. Settlers who had progressed there were killed, captured, or driven back to more populous settlements.[5] During the French and Indian War (1754-1763) all settlement was halted. Many prospective settlers visited this section during the ensuing years, but few permanent settlements were made before 1770. Treaties were concluded with the Six Indian Nations and the Cherokees by this time.

New River Tithables 1770-1773, compiled by Mary B. Kegley, lists a number of the early German Lutheran stalwarts who had settled the headwaters of Reed Creek and consequently were taxed at that time. Captain Robert Doak's company militia in Dunsmore's War went out from this Reed Creek settlement to fight the Shawnees at Point Pleasant. The following names of persons later connected with St. Paul were included in this company: Buck, Catron, Cline, Creggar, Dutton, Gordon, Gullion, Hedrick, Hounshell, Irvin, Kinder, Kincer, King, Litz, Messersmith, Miller, Porter, Staley, Steffey, Tobler, Vaught, Wampler, Weaver, and Williams. Klaus Wust states in his book The Virginia Germans, "In western Wythe County as many as seventy-five German families settled on the upper reaches of Reed Creek and Cripple Creek prior to the Revolution."[6]

Rev. Alexander Phillippi, D.D., a son of St. Paul, wrote in the Wytheville Dispatch of April 9, 1897,

> The early Germans who came to Wythe County, with few exceptions, had some means, and were a hardy, industrious, moral, intelligent, Christian people. The Bibles . . . which they brought with them . . . had a place in almost every family. (Some very costly and beautiful copies are still found in the possession of their posterity, with many other useful and religious books.)

> These people were not aristocrats and they were not of the peasant class. They were of the better class of the so-called Pennsylvania Dutch, independent, hard-working, honest citizens not belonging to any sect or colonizing group. Most of them were loyal church people of the Lutheran or Reformed groups with enough money and property to settle quickly and look after their spiritual and material needs.[7]

Historically, religion was most meaningful to these people. Soon after settlements were made they joined together to worship God, in homes or in forests until a church could be built. Before the arrival of any ministers, elders and deacons were elected, congregations organized and worship services instituted.

With so many settlers located in this proximity of Reed Creek in the early 1770's, the tradition that the congregation at St. Paul was organized and the first crude log church built in 1776 is totally feasible. At that time it was a common practice for buildings to be constructed on land before it was deeded. Paul Henkel referred to this church in his diary in 1789 as "the old church," which indicates it had been in existence for more than a few years. However, tangible evidence to prove the baptisms believed to have been performed in 1776 and projected in numerous write-ups about the church is lacking. St. Paul is the oldest church in the county still in operation and functioning from its original location. It is the oldest Lutheran congregation located west of New River. Other area Lutheran churches were built later: Zion in 1794, Kimberling in 1797, and St. John's in 1800.

During the Revolution these Germans were devoted to the cause of American independence and many fought in the war.

The early Germans who came to Upper County, with few exceptions, had some means, and were a sturdy, industrious, moral, intelligent, religious people. The Bibles . . . which they brought with them . . . had a place in almost every family. Some very costly and beautiful copies are still found in the possession of their posterity, with many other useful and religious books.

* * * * * * *

These people were not aristocrats and they were not of the peasant class. They were of the better class of the so-called Kleinbürgerstand Dutch, independent, hard-working, honest citizens not belonging to any sect or colonizing group. Most of them were loyal church people of the Lutheran or Reformed persuasion, enough money and property to make quietly and look after their spiritual and material needs.

Religiously, religion was most meaningful to these people. Such other activities were means they joined together to worship God, to honor or to provide until a church could be built. Before the arrival of any ministers, elders and deacons were elected, congregations organized and worship services instituted.

Even so many settlers located in this proximity of Fend Creek in the early 1770's, the tradition that the congregation at St. Paul was organized and the first crude log church built in 1772 is totally fanciful. At that time it was a common practice for buildings to be constructed on land before it was deeded. That Hanko referred to this church in his diary in 1773 as "the old church," which indicates it had been in existence for more than a few years. However, tangible evidence to prove the Lutherans believed to have been performed in 1772 and projected in manuscripts written upon the church is lacking. St. Paul is the oldest church in the county still in operation and functioning from its original location. It is the oldest Lutheran congregation located west of New River. Other area Lutheran churches were built later: Zion in 1774, Hawksbring in 1777, and St. John's in 1804.

During the Revolution these Germans were divided in the issue of American independence and many fought in the war.

They were God-fearing, liberty-loving people, who were ready to fight when their liberties or rights were encroached upon.

In 1779 a record book was purchased for the use of the Evangelical Lutheran Congregation on the waters of Rith (Reed) Creek. The use of this book was shared with an adjoining community and is located with the records of Kimberling Church rather than those of St. Paul. Early baptisms listed therein include those of families with life-long ties with St. Paul. The following, quoted from this early Kimberling record book, further identifies the joint usage:

> In the year 1784 a communion service was bought for the Church on Rith Creek for the administration of sacraments.

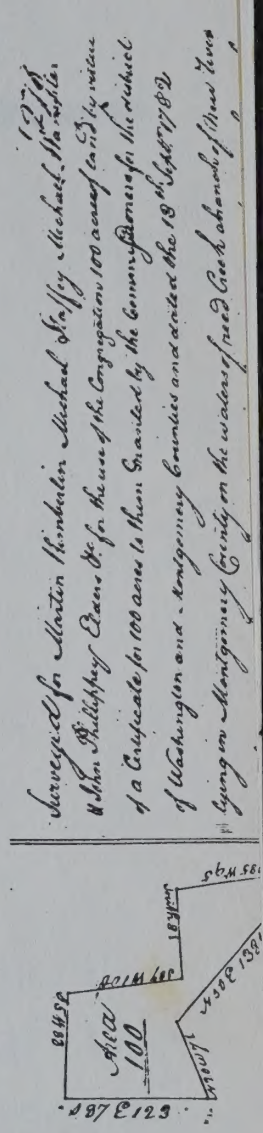
The communion cloth, given by Mrs. Michael Creggar, is at St. Paul and has been on display for a number of years. It is of homegrown and homespun flax with considerable needle work. The date of 1784 is specified and the following letters: C.A.D., R.I.N., N.A.K. The meaning of these letters is uncertain. This cloth was used until 1916 when the present communion set was purchased. Just what happened to the other items mentioned is unknown. In 1793 a second record book was purchased and only the baptisms and records of St. Paul are recorded in it. This book is still in the church's possession.

A deed dated September 13, 1782 for a tract of land containing one hundred acres was surveyed for Martin Kimberling,



Vaught Reunion

The Vaught Association Of The United States Will Hold Their ANNUAL REUNION Sunday, July 31, 1988 At The Holiday Inn Somerset, Kentucky

This is an Association of all persons who are of VAUGHT LINEAGE. The purpose of the Association is to trace, record and preserve the history of the surname VAUGHT. Registration will start at 9:00 a.m. on Sunday, July 31. No meals are planned at the reunion. All persons with VAUGHT LINEAGE are invited and encouraged to attend.

THE VAUGHT ASSOCIATION OF THE

UNITED STATES

WILL HOLD THEIR THIRD ANNUAL REUNION

JULY 31, 1988

The VAUGHT ASSOCIATION of the UNITED STATES, will hold their third annual reunion at the Holiday Inn, Somerset, Kentucky, on Sunday July 31st. This is an association of persons who are of the lineage of the surname "Vaught". Last year approximately 300 persons attended the reunion. They came from nineteen (19) different states, from the west to the east coast, and from the southern to the northern borders. The purpose of the association is to trace the genealogy of the families who attend. Many who attend are not "Vaughts", as the names change as the "Vaught" girls married, but their families are of Vaught lineage. There will be a library of research material available at the reunion, as well as resource persons, so that those who attend can have help in tracing their "family tree". Each year cousins meet for the first time. There are always some happy and some sentimental moments. For years family history was passed on to generations by word of mouth, as most families lived near each other. With our mobile society this is no longer possible. It is important to keep the written record. This is one of the purposes of the Vaught Association. Many of the "Vaught Families" came through the Virginias and worked their way north, south and west. However, some of these families remained in Virginia, as it is a very common name there to this day.

Registration for the reunion will start at 9:00 A.M., on July 31st, at the Holiday Inn. No meals are planned for the day, as there will be a break for lunch. There are no dues for membership in the association. For additional information one may contact the corresponding secretary, Aneta Vaught Gentry, P.O. Box 2044, Murfreesboro, Tennessee 37130; or James F. Vaught, P.O. Box #230, Somerset Kentucky 42501, 606/679-1888.

Christmas Time 1971

Dear Mrs. Calvert:

Hope you are now enjoying good health. We are pretty well. My husband retired in February and now has a wood lathe. He has been making nice plates, bowls, and candlesticks. He also has a hobby of making rock jewelry.

As chairman of the Francis Vigo Genealogical Records committee, I have been helping prepare some cemetery records in Knox County for the D.A.R. Have also collected some church history on Asbury Chapel — the church John and Christiana Vaught Hoy helped found — and material on the early families connected with it (many of whom came from Wythe Co. Va.)

In an old Bible that belonged to Lucy (Fox) A. Vaught Huddle (1860-1951), dau. of George W. and Martha F. Taylor Vaught I found two short newspaper clippings (pasted on the fly sheet)

One was probably from a Ky. paper and said "In 1879 Andrew Vaught died at age 92." He was the father of Rev. Steven K. Vaught of West Virginia. (That was all the genealogical information it contained. It would indicate that he was born in 1787 or 1788, depending on date of birth.) Over

The other clipping was probably from a Knox Co. Ind. paper and is the obituary of Andrew Jackson Vaught. According to the clipping he was born in Wythe Co. in 1815 and moved to Kentucky when a small boy. In 1840 he was married to Elizabeth Woolsey and in 1863 they moved to Indiana. He had a daughter who died before he did.

I have heard her name was Dale and that she mar. a Mr. Lovett (?)

Andrew Jackson Vaught is buried at Asbury Chapel here.

Elizabeth Vaught, wife of A. J. Vaught

(probably there was no one in the family to have the stone engraved with her death.)

Did you get your Vaught and Phillips supplementals through headquarters at Washington D.C.? If so, I should love to have copies of them. Don't think I shall try for supplementals, but my niece has gone in on the Wittenmyer line. I should like to have what Eichelberger data you have, too. You spoke of having some back to Germany. (at side)

Best wishes for a Merry Christmas with your friends.
Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. McCormick:

I was so sorry to hear of your mother's death. How I would like to have known her! My mother died in Jan., 1953 and I took her back to Kentucky to bury her beside my father in Harrodsburg. Many relatives I had never known were there and since then, every summer, I have spent from two to five weeks in Ky., driving up many times. I could so easily have come up to Bicknell. I just looked at the map and Evansville, Ind. where I was several times, is not very far from Bicknell.

I was so disappointed about my trip. It was cancelled because not enough passengers signed up to go.

Enclosed is a copy of my George Vaught supplemental sent in March 1. If and when it is approved, I'll just add Christley on and send that in. I'll take the chance of their accepting Judge Vaught's statement and Christley's will for his being George Vaught's father. Please send the application back sometime, as I plan to send it on to a cousin. I should have had more copies made. No hurry at all. In a pinch I could get another copy made.

Here is all I could find on the vaughts and Horns in the 1820 Wythe census/ Some day I'll go over it still another time. I think ~~it~~ I'll take a magnifying glass down to the Library. Some of the microfilms are hard to read.

I have my Gose line documented back to Stephen Gose, b. 1719 in Germany, came to Phila. in 1752, to Wythe Co. or I guess it was Montgomery then, in 1779, but no proof of any Rev. service or assistance. His son, Stephen Gose, Jr. is in the Patriot Index, but he is a brother of my Catherine Gose, and not her father, as I had hoped. I am looking in Public Claims for him. 57 years old- he might have provided food, or horses, or something. He might even have served.

Then John Phillippi is ready to go. He is in the P. I. Would you like ~~y~~ to have a copy when I type that? Because he is your ancestor, too. It is easy for me to have copies made. There is a place close to the P.O. where I go every day. Two of the proofs on this line came from the papers of Miss Garnett Phillippi Meyer and Mrs. Martha Meyer Libby, both members of your chapter. By the way, how many members do you have?

The Eichelberger line, another of yours, is in question right now. I though it was the line that has 2 patriots in the index, but it seems that Barbara was the daughter of John Geo. Eichelbergerand Juliana Beam or Ream, instead of John Frederick and Anna Maria Kintz. It's all the same family, tho, and it may work out all right. When I thought those two patriots were her father and grandfather, I had the line clear back to John E. born in Germany in 1670. I've had several peculiar complications in various lines that finally were srtaightened out.

I recently received 8 typed pages of information on my Crain-Rousseau line from a woman in Idaho Falls. Our ~~grk.~~ grt. grandfathers who were brothers married sisters, so our grandmothers were double first cousins. Graggs m. Crains. on the Crain line I need documentation for one or two points only. Service is proven, Samuel Crain. Rousseau is proven except the fact of service. The patriot would be James Rousseau, son of David. David m. Mary Harrison, niece of Benjamin Harrison. Gen. Rousseau, famed in the Civil War was a grt. grt. grandson. I believe that made him a cousin of my grandmother's. My aunts used to talk of him as a cousin. This Mrs. Duddleson (who is a State DAR officer in Idaho) and I both need information on Graggs. Weel, I must answer some other letters. Write when you have time. Sincerely,

If a man says that he does not care to know where his grandfather lived, what he did, and what were that grandfather's politics and religious creed, it can merely mean that he is incapable of taking interest in one of the most interesting forms of human knowledge—the knowledge of the details of the past.—"The Spectator."

FOREWORD

The beginning of these records was made many years ago, when a great grandmother, at the ripe age of one hundred and more years, used to tell to the little great-grandson at her knee the story of the Revolution as she knew it. She told him of the sweetheart who marched away to fight; who promised to come back and marry her when the war was at an end; then would come the oft-repeated question—"And did he, Granny?"—and the oft-repeated answer—"Yes, he did; and I was the girl, and your great-grandfather was the soldier." This episode of her girlhood occurred in New Jersey, far from the Tennessee home where the little lad lived and where "Granny" rounded out her well-spent days.

"Granny" also told the little lad of his great-great-grandparents, Johannes and Catharine: how they had eloped and come to America from Germany because they knew they would never gain the consent of Catharine's parents to her marriage; Catharine was supposed to have been of noble birth. Told of the voyage over, of the ship with their goods not reaching port; how they spent all they had to sustain them on the long voyage, so that when they reached these shores they went to live with a millwright in Philadelphia, and Johannes learned the trade. All of this and much more besides she told the child, and when a few years later, after her death, he went to visit his grandparents, his grandmother continued the story of his ancestors, beginning where "Granny" Fite had left off. She bade him take pencil and paper and take notes of what she said. This he did, and this paper, written in the boyish hand, is still preserved, and its contents formed the basis for this book.

The original idea was to record only the direct descendants of Johannes Fite and his wife, Catharine; upon mature consideration the decision was made to record the descendants of Henry Fite and Hans Jacob Fite, and all others of the name, wherever found, in the United States. This decision has led to some interesting discoveries, and while the labor of compiling has been very great, it has been equally a pleasure, for it has been the means of bringing to the author many interesting and gracious letters and acquaintances, which otherwise she would have missed.

For all of the kindly interest expressed in this work, the author is most grateful, and sincerely hopes the contents of the book may not be of a disappointing nature to the many kinspeople who have rendered her such valuable assistance, for which she expresses here her very sincere thanks.

INTRODUCTORY

The cost of a voyage from Rotterdam to Philadelphia, during the early years of the German immigration, was $350 in copper coin, according to Acrelius' History of New Sweden. This amount was for passage alone and did not include food or provide comforts for the passenger; those things he had to provide himself, or pay for, extra. Some of the Germans came with the funds necessary to establish themselves in a new land, while a very large number spent their all for passage and necessities, or perhaps had not even the money to pay for the passage, in which event they bound themselves out to learn some trade in payment for their passage, and they were known as "Redemptioners." Geiser explains that Redemptioners "enjoyed all the privileges and rights of a free citizen," and were "regarded as laborers, at present, bound by contract to perform a specified amount of labor in a given time."

The early Germans were almost universally a religious people. In his "History of the Early Germans of New Jersey" Chambers says that the history of the Germans was largely the history of their churches. They were not only intelligent but were an educated people, and demanded from the start catechists or teachers for their children, and insisted upon an educated ministry. They came to this country, not so much because of religious persecutions, as has been supposed, but because of "the privations and restrictions of their lives at home, which had been caused through their faithfulness to the truth in previous years." They were a peace-loving people; being content to follow their professions, or to cultivate their fields, and "enjoy the blessings of civil and religious liberty."

The Germans cared little for political offices, but they came to Pennsylvania in such great numbers that their votes became of considerable importance; especially in the election of members of the Colonial Assembly, when, as a rule, they were cast as a unit. Their names appear seldom in the official lists, for the reason stated above, and because of "their almost exclusive use of the German language, which disqualified them from holding office." It was a rare thing for the first generation to learn to speak English; in many cases, to be found to-day, in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, the descendants of these people continue to speak German, with but little knowledge of English. The better educated and more ambitious, naturally, had their children taught English, and their teachers and ministers were required to be scholarly men, with a knowledge of several languages. This is by way of leading up to the families, who bear the name used in the title of this book—namely Vogt—anglicized Fite.

Occasionally, one hears the remark uttered, apparently in sincerity, "I know nothing concerning my ancestors, and care less." Do we not at least owe to those who have been responsible for our being in this world, those who for generations have toiled and struggled toward advancement and enlightenment, by whose efforts we have been benefited and stand where we are to-day, the slight recognition of perpetuating their records, if nothing more? This is the very least we can do for "the pioneers who 'blazed the way' to our present freedom and prosperity." It has been observed that, even in the Scriptures of the Old Testament, family genealogies are accorded a place, and in the New Testament the noble lineage of the Saviour is deemed matter worthy of record. Feeling the truth of this so strongly, the author has experienced much satisfaction in recording for preservation the names of men and women of the Fite families, and somewhat of their histories, as far as could be gathered.

The present spelling of the name Fite has come down to this generation through many changes. Strange as it may appear to those not familiar with German, the original name was Vogt; other spellings of the name, according to the German authorities, are Vogd, Voigt, Voit, Vod, Vot, and Fauth; derived from the Latin Vocatus, meaning one who is called or appointed. Oscar Kuhns, in his "Pennsylvania—German names," tells us that there are three general groups of German family names; first those derived from personal names; second, those derived from trades or professions; third, those derived from places. The authorities are unanimous in giving the derivation of Vogt, from the profession, which was that of a governor, warden or bailiff; the name is pronounced Faut or Foit, the F and V being interchangeable in German (see foot-note). The meaning of the name is very clearly illustrated in Schiller's drama of William Tell, where Gessler is mentioned as being the "Imperial Vogt"; again, as the "Landvogt," and he speaks of himself as a "ruler." He was in authority over a district or province under the emperor.

There is no English word that exactly expresses the meaning of the name, so that in the English translation of "William Tell," the German word "Vogt" is retained. In this country, the numerous and varied spellings of the name, produced by the efforts to anglicize it, were due to the clerks, registrars and tax collectors, who for the most part were English-speaking men, with slight, if any knowledge of German, and in their efforts to write the name as it sounded to them, it has came down to us recorded Fogt, Foight, Feit, Feight, Fight, Ficht, and Fite; the last spelling being the one almost universally adopted after the Revolution. Many families named Vogt or Voigt living to-day in the United States, especially in New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania, have retained the German name; they are doubtless descended from the same stock as the Fites. Newcomers in this country during the past century have seldom Anglicized their names.

NOTE.—The Standard Dictionary (Funk and Wagnalls Co.), section of proper names, gives the pronunciation of the name, Johannes Voight, as FEIHT. Vogtland is translated as FÔHT'LANT.

Heinrich, Johannes and Hans Jacob Vogt, said to be brothers, landed at Philadelphia September 28, 1749; they came on the ship Ann, via Rotterdam, from the province of Hesse-Kassel in Saxony; a few miles distant from "Vogtland," which was an ancient division of Saxony, founded in 1122 and named, presumably, for some especially prominent official bearing the name Vogt. In Germany, unlike England, all the families living in the same province, bearing the same name, were entitled to the use of the arms, borne by the head family of the name, owning the principal estates. The Vogts, of Hessen, came originally from Frohnhausen, a village in Hesse-Kassel. (This province, since 1866, annexed by Prussia and now named Hesse-Nassaw.) The family entitled to the estates became extinct in the direct male line in 1568; but there were many of the name remaining in the province, notably in Treyssa; in 1615 the latter possessed estates in Eastern Prussia. Frohnhausen and Treyssa are in the same district.

The list of Vogt names appended to this introductory, is notable because of the number of professions represented. It is readily to be seen that the family as a whole, throughout Germany in the early days, were intellectual people, and "in authority," as the name implies. These given names are repeated in every instance, with two or three exceptions, in the families of Vogts living in this country prior to the Revolution.

(1) Heinrich[1] Vogt founded the Maryland family; (1) Johannes[1] Vogt founded the Tennessee family, and (1) Hans[1] Jacob Vogt, presumably, founded the Lancaster Co., Pa., family, whose descendants are mostly in Ohio at the present day. What relation these three brothers bore to (1) Casper[1] Fight—Fite, who was the founder of the Roxborough, Pa., family, is not known. Casper came over some sixteen years earlier than the three brothers (see foot-note).

The tradition that (1) Johannes[1], founder of the Tennessee family, was descended from Jan Fyt, the Dutch painter of Antwerp, 1611–1661, is, so far as the author can determine, due to the tradition that (1) Johannes[1] was also a portrait painter, and to the similarity of the names. It is, however, perfectly possible that there was some connection. Jan Fyt had a brother Jacques who painted and a son who painted; he was two generations ahead of (1) Johannes[1] Vogt (Fite), founder of the Tennessee family. The author has not attempted to trace the direct connection with the family on the other side. That would entail great expense and labor, not possible at this time; but sufficient data is given to enable others to do so, should they so desire. The fact of the three Vogts

NOTE.—The number preceding a name indicates the individual number by which that person will be known throughout the records; the number over the name denotes the generation to which the individual belongs.

having come from Hesse-Kassel is established by the Maryland branch, who has preserved the record of Heinrich[1] Vogt's birth in Hesse-Kassel; and the fact of Johannes[1] and Heinrich[1] being brothers is established through a descendant of Johannes[1], (279) Edwin[4] C. Fite, who says his grandfather always referred to Henry[1], of Maryland, as "Uncle Henry." For the date of arrival, and names of the three brothers, see Rupps' "Thirty Thousand Emigrants" and Pennsylvania Archives.

In the Immigration period, between 1710–1750 and later, it was customary to send most of the baggage, and household goods of passengers on separate ships used only for freight; the ship bearing the chests of Heinrich[1], Johannes[1] and Hans[1] Jacob never came to port, so that when they landed they had only the baggage which they had brought on the passenger ship, including an iron chest belonging to Henry[1] which is still preserved by his descendants. It is in the possession of Mrs. Bailey, of Baltimore.

The Vogts were Lutherans, not German Reformed; Chambers says there was a sharply dividing line between the two sects; the Lutherans were Reformed Catholics, and took their name from the great Reformer. The German Reformed were Reformed Lutherans. In Church Government the Lutherans became Episcopalians and the Reformed were Presbyterial. At the present day there is but slight difference between these two great divisions of German Protestantism.

FITE FAMILY

HESSEN-KASSEL LINE

JOHANNES, HEINRICH and HANS JACOB VOGT, brothers, from the province of [Hessen-Kassel, Germany, landed at Philadelphia, Pa., September 28, 1749.

(1) JOHANNES[1] founded the Tennessee branch.

(1) HEINRICH[1] founded the Maryland branch.

(1) HANS JACOB[1] founded the Lancaster Co., Pa., branch.

(1) Johannes[1] Vogt—anglicized Fite—was one of the three brothers referred to in the Introductory, who landed in America, at Philadelphia, September 28, 1749. He came from the province of Hessen-Kassel, which adjoined Vogtland in Saxony. Coming from this province, he and his sons were entitled to the use of the ancient arms of the Vogts of Hessen-Kassel, but were not entitled to the estates; as previously mentioned, the direct male line, entitled to the estates, became extinct in the sixteenth century, according to Helmer.

There are two traditions extant regarding the meeting of (1) Johannes[1] with Catharine, whom he married upon the arrival of the ship Ann at Philadelphia; one is to the effect that (1) Johannes[1] was a portrait painter, and while painting the portrait of Catharine, a young lady of noble birth, they fell in love and eloped to this country, knowing they would not gain consent to their union. The other tradition, and the one to which most credence is given by their descendants is that (1) Johannes[1] and Catharine met on the boat coming over, and their attachment being mutual, they were married on their arrival at Philadelphia. Which one of these traditions is correct is not known; but it is certain that Johannes[1] and Catharine were not married until they reached this country. The ship bearing their chests containing most of their clothes and money never came to port, so that upon landing, Johannes[1] went to work for a millwright near Philadelphia and learned the trade; several of his children were born there. In five or six years he moved, with his little family, to Greenwich Township, Sussex Co., New Jersey, where he followed his trade as a millwright.

He also owned a mill, which afforded him the means of furnishing General Green's army with some of his supplies during the early years of the Revolutionary War. Whether Johannes[1] lived on his own land in New Jersey or on the "West Jersey Society Lands," is not known, but most probably it was the latter; these lands in Hunterdon Co. (included Sussex, Warren and Morris) were leased for a term of years. Had Johannes[1] owned land, he would most probably have left a will; but such is not the case; at least no will of his was probated in New Jersey.

In Greenwich Township, several of Johannes[1], and Catharine's children were born and married, and the family were members of the St. James Lutheran Church, of which the following is quoted from the History of Sussex and Warren Co. by J. P. Snell:

NOTE.—Johannes and his descendants are given precedence in the book for the reason that he was the progenitor of those for whom these records were compiled; Heinrich[1] was the elder of the three brothers.

"From the earliest records which have been preserved we learn that originally there was a union between the German Reformed and Lutheran Churches, but the former becoming extinct by removals and deaths, the Lutherans became the sole occupants of the church and possessors of the property, and afterwards formed a new organization under a special constitution. In its early history this church was affiliated with St. Michael's Lutheran Church of Philadelphia, and with it held the faith of the Reformation, as declared in the Augsburg Confession, for more than a hundred years. The only names which have come down through the history of the church to the present are those of Shipman, Feit, Ensley, and Melick. Tradition states that the first building for the purposes of worship, was constructed of logs and was about 30 x 40 feet in size. It was thatched with straw, which caused it to be generally known as the "Straw Church." The first regular pastor was Rev. Peter Muhlenberg, from 1769 to 1773, followed by Rev. Christian Streit, from 1773 to 1777; Mr. Braas, 1777–1781; and Rev. John Frederick Ernst, 1781–1792."

This church is also known as old "Greenwich Church," and is standing and in use to-day, the Rev. Hugh Walker being the present pastor. The Session Records have been kept from 1769 to date; baptisms, 1778 to date; marriages 1780 to date; communicants, 1804 to date, and deaths, 1838 to date. Owing to the death records of the early members not being preserved, the author has been unable to learn the exact dates of decease of (1) Johannes[1] Fite and his wife Catharine; they must have occurred just prior to 1787, as at that date their children moved to North Carolina, and this move did not take place "until after the death of their parents." It is shown by the preserved Session Records, that (1) Johannes[1] Fite and his son (2) Peter[2] signed the "Articles of Faith and Order," of St. James Lutheran Church, in 1772.

(1) Johannes[1] Fite and his wife Catharine "raised a large family." The names of only nine of these children have been preserved, however; possibly because these were the children who went to North Carolina, thence to Tennessee, forming what is now known as the Tennessee branch.

Issue of (1) Johannes[1] Fite and his wife Catharine, as follows:

(2) Peter[2] Fite, p. 17.
(3) Catharine[2] Fite, p. 27.
(4) Conrad[2] Fite, p. 28.
(5) Mary[2] Fite, p. 28.
(6) Christina[2] Fite, p. 28.
(7) John[2] Fite, p. 28.
(8) Leonard[2] Fite, p. 44.
(9) Jacob[2] Fite, presumably the son of (1) Johannes[1], known to be brother of (10) Gilbert[2]; moved to North Carolina, thence to Kentucky, where he disappeared and was supposed to have been killed by Indians.

(10) Gilbert[2] Fite, p. 102.

(2) Peter[2] Fite (Johannes[1]), son of (1) Johannes[1] Fite and his wife Catharine, was born in Pennsylvania, and moved with his parents to Greenwich Township, Sussex Co., N. J. He was born about 1750 or '51, and was the eldest son. Peter married many years before moving to North Carolina with his family and brothers and sisters in 1787; he had several children prior to that date. In 1772 he signed the "Articles of Faith and Order" in St. James Lutheran Church, better known as "Old Greenwich Church" and "Straw Church," and his name, so recorded, is one of the few names preserved, of the communicants of this church (see Wm. Nelson's Church Records in New Jersey). We have every reason to believe that (2) Peter[2] was a soldier of the Revolution; the documentary evidence, however, is missing. His descendants have had it so handed down to them and the other branches of the family have been told by old "Granny Fite," who lived to be one hundred and four years of age, that her husband Leonard and all of his brothers were in the War. The evidence of (7) John[2] and (8) Leonard's[2] service is on file at Washington, but an extensive search has failed to find the record of (2) Peter's[2] service. The Revolutionary files are still far from complete, and this record may materialize in time. (2) Peter[2] Fite married Barbara Hedenger and had thirteen children. In 1790 the Federal Census of North Carolina shows that three of (2) Peter's[2] sons were "sixteen years and upwards," and there were also four daughters at that date; the remaining six children were born after 1790. (2) Peter[2] and his brother (4) Conrad[2] settled near Salisbury, in Rowan Co., while (7) John[2] and (8) Leonard[2] settled in Lincoln Co. They were not far apart, however.

About the year 1800 Peter and some of his family moved to Wythe Court House, Va., and lived there one year; thence to Tennessee, where he settled on the Holston River in Knox Co., and died there.

(11) Jacob[3] Fite, p. 18.
(12) Elias[3] Fite is said to have settled in Illinois.
(13) Henry[3] Fite, p. 18.
(14) Christina[3] Fite married Lewis Pearse.
(15) Rachel[3] Fite married John Simpson.
(16) Mary[3] Fite married John Murray.
(17) Catharine[3] Elizabeth Fite, p. 19.
(18) Peter[3] Fite, p. 20.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am interested in obtaining a copy of your book on Christley Vaught.

A correspondant friend attended your last gathering and wrote me about your compilation. I come into the Vaught family through Amanda Jane Coley who married my Wm.Washington Flanagan in Wythe Co.,VA. Her father was Francis Coley, mother was Sarah (Sally) Vaught, dau/ Christley Vaught, Jr. and Anna Elizabeth Phillippi.

Enclosed is a SASE. I would appreciate any address that you might send to me of anyone working on the Phillippi/Eighleberger.families.

Of course I am also interested in the Coley/Vaught families. Please advise your membership charges in your Vaught Association.

I am retired from the Clayton Library Staff here in Houston, TX. Have you any extra bulletins or newsletters that you might want to give to them? This is always a good way to let the public know that you are around. I would be pleased to see that they get what ever you would like to donate.

One of your members, my friend Jim Francis, has been a valuable and able co-researcher on the above families. I don't think that I could add to your records but if I could, I would be happy to do what ever I could.

Sincerely,

September 1991

Greetings:

The theme for the reunion this year was "The Colonial Vaughts and their Churches." A tour to the churches, cemeteries, farms, and the Settlers Museum of South West Virginia located on the Phillippi farm which includes the farm of Thomas Jefferson Vaught was an added touch. All who went on the tour felt a special closeness to our ancestors. The tree in the Kimberling Church yard was a special conversation piece. Mickey Martin researched and learned the tree is a varity of the Magnolia Tree family. The tree produced a fruit that looked a lot like a cucumber, thus the common name Cucumber Tree.

A big "thank you" to the Vaught Association for making it possible for us to have a group reunion each year. Thanks to the dedicated work of our officers and committees of the Vaught Association. We are growing and getting better every year. Nothing is impossible when we do it together.

A special "THANK YOU" to Stephen, Karen, Stephanie, Stephen Jr. and to Michael Hager for making this a reunion none of us will ever forget. (Michael and Stephanie are engaged.)

We had two major items of business this year. The first was condensing the By-Laws for non-profit status. The second was setting a small fee for receiving the letter twice a year.

Every year the cost of sending our semi-annual letters increases. Since we operate totally on contributions, the members voted to set a minimum annual contribution of $5.00 to receive the newsletters. Those who do not make a contribution will remain on the membership list but will not receive the latest news about the Vaught family. As everyone knows the $5.00 will barely cover the cost of the letters with no operation costs. Since we have many members on fixed income we wanted to set the fee low enough for everyone to afford.

Each year a donation container is placed on a table so members can make contribution to the Vaught Association. This year we had several items donated for auction and two items donated for raffle. The total amount collected was: $603.00. A special THANK YOU to all who donated items.

Helen Spurlin and Mickey Martin are requesting information on the Henry Vaught family. If you have not sent your lineage sheet or family group sheet PLEASE do so now. Send them to: Vaught Association, PO Box 2044, Murfreesboro, TN 37133-2044. They become a part of the files of the Vaught Association and copies are sent to Helen and Mickey for inclusion in the books of the Vaught Lineage Research Group.

We have four books under way at this time. They are:

Henry Vaught who married 1. Catherine Datteringer
2. Esther Baugh

George Vaught who married Christiana Phillippi

Christian Vaught II who married Nancy and lived in Giles County, VA

Simeon Vaught who married 1. Elizabeth ??
2. Phebe Hawley

Corrections are needed for the Christley book. We have sold out of the Christley book and we are currently accepting orders. PLEASE do not assume we have been told of an error or addition. We are trying to keep them at a minimum but they do happen. WE ARE HUMAN! All we ask is to be told and sent the correction with the proof or where the proof can be found. We will not just change anything without proof. Helen and Mickey have spent many hours working on these books and when you become tired errors are likley to happen.

Next year the reunion will be back at Somerset, KY on Saturday July 25 and Sunday July 26, 1992. The board voted to continue the two day reunion. Everyone who attended likes the two days. There is just too much to get covered in one evening and one day. So many times we have heard people say they need to leave early on Sunday afternoon to get back to work for Monday. Nothing is in stone. Tell us what you want and we will try it. If the majority like it we will continue to do it until someone else askes us to change. I PROMISE WE DO LISTEN. This organization is for all of us.

Mark your calendar for the eighth reunion on July 24 and 25, 1993 at Staunton, VA located in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley. More about this one later.

Some births: Grandson of Bill and Chris Padon, b 31 Oct 1990. Niece of Loretta B. Weigel, Kristin Lonore Brown, b 8 Apr 1990. This is the part I like least of my job as your corresponding secretary. I regret that I have some deaths to report. Mrs. Sara Frances Vaught Huttchson, sister of Mrs. Hermine Parkerson (#220), died 24 Apr 1990. Mrs. Frances Muse (#288), mother of Marilyn Kuhnapfel, died 25 Nov 1990. Mr. John Guadagnola, husband of Carlene Guadagnola (#117), died Jan 1991. Mrs. Maggie Lee Todd Vaught (#466), mother of Mrs. Hermine Parkerson (#220), died 11 Jun 1991. Estel V. Wilson, died 4 May 1991. Ruth Vaught, died 17 Sept 1990. Mrs. Oliva Vaught (#421), died 8 May 1991. Mrs. Opal Vaught Brown, mother of Loretta Weigel (#288), died 25 Feb 1989. Mr. Clarence G. Brown, brother of Loretta Weigel (#288), died 10 Oct 1989. If I failed to list your family member, please let me know, I will see it is printed in the Spring letter. We all want to know.

I would like to share some new or updated books on our Vaught families:

Mrs. Thelma Sargent, 518 N. Olive, Mesa, AZ 85203 has reprinted, "My Folks II." This book covers 1. William Vaught wife not known, 1.1. John Vaught m Nancy Hatfield, 1.1.1. Benjamin Franklin Vaught m Sarah McAnally, 1.1.1.1. Silas Perron Vaught m 1. to Lucinda Carolina Tweedle 2. to Elizabeth Jane Petty Ellington. Thelma has a limited supply of books. If you are interested in getting a copy she sells these for $25.00 plus postage.

Mr. Larry Shuck, 164 Jules Lane, Cincinnati, OH 45218 has a book,"Shuck, Fleshman, Sydenstricker Families." Larry's book covers the Giles County Vaught families and sells for $30.00.

Mickey Martin and Helen Spurlin had their second book on the Vaught families at the reunion in Virginia. This volume is on the descendants of Gaspar who was the son of Andrew Vaught. The major lines will be: Creager, Goodman, Mercer, Newby, Meece and of course Vaught. The title of the book is,"There was a Gaspar in the family." The cost of the book will be $25.00 plus $2.00 for postage. It is hardback. They had 100 copies printed. If you want a copy you can place your order by sending a check to: Vaught Lineage Research Group, PO Box 887, Murfreesboro, TN 37133-0887. (This is a group of Vaughts who are writing their histories or are interested in seeing Vaught histories written.)

Chris Padon has been working on a Vaught Cookbook. We had hoped to have it complete for this reunion. We have been slow in responding to her request for recipes and stories. Chris said she has some wonderful stories but not very many recipes. We are going to hold it over one more year. PLEASE send those recipes and stories to Chris Padon, 1009 Berkley Dr., Cleburne, TX 76031.

Enclosed you will find a copy of the minutes of the board of directors and the annual meeting. Please read them. We go to a lot of effort to see you get copies. We want you to know everything that is happening with the Vaught Association.

Our new officers are: Vice President - Stephen Vaught, Four year Board Member - Wally Vaught, Recording Secretary - Marilyn Kuhnapfel, Treasurer - James E. Vaught, Corresponding Secretary - Dale Vaught, Audit Committee - Doug Vaught, chairman, Robert L. Vaught, and Aneta Vaught Gentry.

I requested to be replaced as your corresponding secretary so I could help Helen and Mickey write books. I am remaining as your membership chairman. I will receive all correspondence and direct to the right person and that the books are published as soon as they are completed. I felt I needed to take some time off to write. I had always promised my mother I would do her line. Even though it is on my computer she never saw the finished product. I could not let my Vaught book be the same way. Dale Vaught has agreed to do the job for me so I can work on books. Semi-annual letters will be signed by him in the future.

Sincerely,

Aneta Vaught Gentry

THE VAUGHT ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES

BOARD MEETING

The annual Board Meeting for the Vaught Association of the United States was called to order at 7:45 p.m. on Friday, July 26, 1991, by President Dale Vaught.

The following members were present:

Dale Vaught	John M. Vaught	Olaf Vaught	Sam Vaught
Aneta Gentry	Marilyn Kuhnapfel	Doug Vaught	James E. Vaught
James F. Vaught	Stephen Vaught	Harold Gentry

Board members Howard Vaught and Robert L. Vaught were absent and Dorothy Ashley of the Reunion Committee.

The minutes from last years meeting were read by Marilyn and accepted.

James E. Vaught gave the treasurer's report and it was accepted.

Stephen Vaught gave the Reunion Committee's report on the activities planned for the next two days. James F. Vaught resigned as chairman for the 1992 reunion. Marilyn was asked and accepted the position for next years' reunion with a committee of helpers consisting of Bernice Price, Dorothy Ashley, and James Vaught.

The Audit Committee report was given. It was stated that the books need to be reviewed by the audit committee, and this will be done soon.

For the Fund Raising Committee, no report was given other than all the hats and key rings that James F. Vaught had had been turned over to the organization for sale. James F. Vaught resigned as chairman of this committee. A new chairman was not appointed, the Board agreed to oversee the fund raising.

The Membership Committee report was given by Aneta Gentry. She needs address corrections for the mailing list. She is getting a lot of mail back as not deliverable.

The nomination and election of officers took place, our new officers are as follows:

Vice President - Stephen Vaught
4 yr. Board Member - Wally Vaught
Recording Secretary - Marilyn Kuhnapfel
Treasurer - James E. Vaught
Corresponding Secretary - Dale Vaught
Audit Committee - Doug Vaught, Chairman
Harold Gentry
Robert Vaught

There was no old business.

New business was called for and Doug Vaught explained that we need to adopt an amended, condensed version of the by-laws and send it to the IRS for non-profit status. A motion to accept the new by-laws was made by Olaf and seconded by Sam. A vote was taken and the motion carried. (Copy of condensed by-laws attached)

Also as new business Aneta Gentry recommended that we have two types of membership. One type will be "Active" and would pay a yearly fee to receive all communications. The other type would be "Inactive" and they would remain a member but would not receive communications. The board is going to study the yearly cost of mailing to set the fee. A vote was taken and the motion of two types of membership passed.

THE VAUGHT ASSOCIATION OF THE UNITED STATES

The sixth annual Vaught Reunion was held Saturday and Sunday, July 27 and 28, 1991, in Wytheville, VA. Saturday was spent at Rural Retreat Lake on a picnic, and Sunday was at the Holiday Inn.

The reunion was called to order by President Dale Vaught.

The theme of this years reunion was Colonial Vaughts and their Churches.

After a few opening remarks about the days activities, John M. Vaught had our devotional.

The minutes of last years reunion were read and a brief report of Friday nights Board meeting was given by Marilyn Kuhnapfel.

James E. Vaught gave the treasurer's report.

Dale Vaught introduced the new officers to the group. John M. Vaught is the new President, Stephen Vaught is Vice-President, Wally Vaught is the new 4 year Board Member, and Dale Vaught is the new Corresponding Secretary.

Several items were auctioned off and numerous door prizes were given away.

Ribbons were given out for the winners of Saturdays games.

Plaques were given to the oldest in attendance, Alberta Kirkwood(88), the youngest, Ryan Vanhook (3 weeks), the largest family in attendance, Laban Vaught's and Mrs. Kirkwood had traveled the farthest.

Mrs. Alberta Kirkwood led the group in several old songs.

Two items of business that were brought up before the group were having the By-Laws condensed down so they can be sent to the IRS for Non-profit status, and two types of membership, active mail status for a fee and just a membership status that doesn't receive all the mailings. Both items were brought to a vote before the group and both passed.

At the close of the day a drawing was held for the two items that had been donated for raffle. A pendant, blue topaz, was donated by Olaf Vaught it was won by Bea Welch of Salem, OR. A hand carved Cardinal was donated by R. Johnson it was won by Genie Tanner of Somerset, KY.

The formal meeting adjourned at 1:00 p.m.

Respectfully submitted,

Marilyn Kuhnapfel

Dear Mrs. Wright:

Isn't it amazing how our names and who we are working on gets around?

Yes, I have a Vaught line and it seems to be the one that you outlined in your letter. May I add to the information?

Christley Vaught's wife was Anna Elizabeth Phillippi.

From the Zion Lutheran Church Records of Wythe Co., Va. in other records, I find:
Taken in order as they were named in his will....
George ca 1789 in Va m. Elizabeth ?
Barbara m Henry Copenhaver
Elizabeth m Henry / George Wert (don't know which!!)
Christiana m 24 June 1809 John Burket(t)
Rosanna m ca 1812 Adam Shaver
Christly(Christian) m 9 Mar 1819 Charity Rosenbaum
Henry b Apr 1792 Va.
Sally (Sarah) b ca 1805 m 21 May 1824 Francis Thomas Coley
Polly b 1785 m George Burkett
Leah 7 Apr 1804 m 25 Apr 1822 Jacob Dutton
Catherine b ca 1801
John b ca 1834 m Elizabeth ?

An excellent book for you to look at is..They Came to Kentucky by Alberta Carson Kirkwood published by Gateway Press, Inc., Baltimore, Md. 1976. She updates and corrects the work of Judge Edgar S. Vaught who work a history long ago. Believe that the main surname is Carson but she does have a good write up on the Vaught-Phillippi Families. If your library can't interlibrary loan it for you, this runs about 8-9 pages,(doubled) so it won't be much to xerox and mail to you, if you wish.

Also, assuming that you haven't already done so, $4.00 to the DAR in Washington will give you Christley Vaught's lineage. He was b ca 1732 . The DAR paper #634701 is the one I received and you will have a REv. War ancestor.

Good Luck.

Dear Cousin:

d hope that this is readable!! I' using a machine here at the Library that is very strang acting. You know how things are when you work for the city government...nothing ever, ever gets repaired until the 'think' just falls apart. Our beautiful IBM machines were stolen last Christmas when dwe were robbed and as kyet no replacements!! This was over a year ago.

Sounds like you have been in a fix with your wrist all bunged up. That can really s ow you down. Perhaps by the time this gets to you ...everything will be fine again.

Tkhe DAR has yet to come through with my copies of the Christley Vaughts papers. I'm enclosing the will for Christley.. I'm planning a vacation the latter part of April to do some research in UTAH. So I will naturally look up Vaughts... if my time and money hold out!!!

Your copies of Alberta Kirkwoods' They Came to Kentucky ; I had not seen before Thank you for the copies. I had seen the Naturalization of Foreigh Protestants .....Have you seen the enclosed Index ..Passenger and Immigration Lists Index. This is fairly new to our library.

I'm still looking for the records that some patron is supposed to send me from Virginia on the Vaughts. He 'acted' as if he knew all about the Vaughts when he was in the library. (we shall see).

Must run and go to lunch. Keep ;in touch. k (oh this typewriter1234566879809-0=-

Dear 'Cousin':

I had to snatch a letter to you from the hands of the postman (practically) because in the meantime you had written. It is sooo nice to be on the receiving end of information.....it seems to happen to me so seldom. Altho, please don't misunderstand, I'm always glad to help anyone, but your information and Mrs. Marlins' is such a nice Christmas gift!!!

This is going to read very disjointed, I'm afraid, but I have somethings to ask and tell, as the case may be....so bear with me.

I had found John Paul Vaught and wife and children....someone else had told me that they thought that my Christley was the son of John Gasper/Casper V. This was a patron in our library who was visiting from McLean, Va. and his records were back there. He promises to write when he returns home. In the meantime, what documentation do you have that Christley is the son of Andrew? Is there a will...for John Paul and for Andrew? I would sure like to have that information for I want the proof in hand of generation link.

There is a letter in the mail now, trying to get the documentation for the statement that they gave me that Anna Elizabeth Phillippe was the wife of Christley.

Also have the DAR sending me Christley Vaughts' lineage papers..maybe they will send me yours? Are you a member?

The DAR did, just recently, send me the papers for John Phillippe and listed as one of his children Cristina who m. Geo. Vaught; Elizabeth who m. Christian Vaught. If you wish a copy of these papers please let me know. So her last name is Phillippe!!

Is there a Bible record floating around for the Vaughts/Phillippe?
In Christleys' will, he names his children....Polly is married to George Burkett Elizabeth is married to George Wert. If you need a copy of this will, let me know.

Unfortunately, I've got to run to work. On Wednesday I go from noon 'til 9 p.m. I do have some references on John Paul V. and other Vaughts if you are interested. From Henning Statutes; Orange Co., Va. Deeds; AugustatCo., Will book; Fincastle Co. Surveys(land).

I'm also trying to line up the father of our Phillippe girls. Any ideas??

Have a good Holiday season..

I had found John Paul Vaught and wife and children....someone else had told me that they thought that my Christley was the son of John Casper/Casper V. This was a patron in our library who was visiting from McLean, Va. and his records were back there. He promises to write when he returns home. In the meantime, what documentation do you have that Christley is the son of Andrew? Is there a will...for John Paul and for Andrew? I would sure like to have that information for I want the proof in hand of generation link.

There is a letter in the mail now, trying to get the documentation for the statement that they gave me that Anna Elizabeth Phillippe was the wife of Christley.

Also have the DAR sending me Christley Vaught's Titness papers..maybe they will send me yours? Are you a member?

The DAR did, just recently, send me the papers for John Phillippe and listed as one of his children Christina who m. Geo. Vaught; Elizabeth who m. Christian Vaught. If you wish a copy of these papers please let me know. So her last name is Phillippe!!

Is there a Bible record floating around for the Vaught/Phillippe? In Christleys' will, he names his children....Polly is married to George Burkett Elizabeth is married to George Wert. If you need a copy of this will, let me know.

Unfortunately, I've got to run to work. On Wednesday I go from noon 'til 9 p.m. I believe some references on John Paul V. and other Vaughts if you are interested. From Henning Statutes; Orange Co., Va. Deeds; Augusta Co., Will book; Fluvanna Co. Surveys(land).

I'm also trying to line up the father of our Phillippe girls. Any ideas??

Have a good Holiday season..

Dear Mrs. Jordan:

My friend, Alene Marlin, from here in Lawrenceville, has given me your letter of Nov. 17 because I am descended from the Christley Vaught branch of the Vaught family. In fact I have received so much information of my line through Mrs. Marlin because in trying to locate her line of Vaughts all the information she receives seems to pertain to my line. I have been most fortunate.

The following is the Vaught line as I have found it thus far:

John Paul Vaught m. Mary Catrina ___?___. ~~He~~ They arrived in Philadelphia on the "Charming Betsy" with John Bull, Master, from London, England, qualified Oct. 12, 1733.

Dear Vivian,

Please excuse the "handwritten" letter. I fell in the snow & fractured my left wrist, hence I cannot type due to cast!

Sorry to be so long in answering your good letter of December 17-'80. I was away over the holidays & then the wrist!

(1) I have been in correspondence (again through Alene Martin) with another Vaught descendant. She is Mrs Frances (Estol C.) Lamb
555 Giordano Drive
Yorktown Heights
New York 10598

She sent me over 50 zeroxed pages from her record book. However she has Christley's record but no notation of his father's name.

(2) a Philippi person living here in Lawrenceville has given me several copies of her research. On this there is the ancestor listed as follows:

Christiana Vaught daughter of Johannes Philipi married George Vaught son of Christley and Elizabeth Vaught.

This came from a relative of hers who secured the record from D.A.R. records.

(3) I am enclosing zerox copies of various records I have. Hope they will help you.

Yes, I would very much like to have a copy of John Phillippe's will. Also a copy of Christley's will, and they will certainly add to my records.

Will keep looking for the father of Anna Elizabeth Phillippe.

Again, I am sorry I've been so slow in getting an answer off to you.

Sincerely,

(Cousin) Barbara Cornelia

I hope you had a good Holdday and that the flu bug didn't bite! My husband had a rather light case, for which I'm grateful.

Your friend was most prompt in writing to me. In fact, I had to grab my letter to her, out of the postmans hands! I answered her before Christmas. My Sarah Vaught Coley is sister to her George Vaught, ch. of Christley and Elizabeth.

I'm still waiting on the proof of Anna Elizabeth Phillippe being the full name of the wife of Christley. Believe that the Virginia snows have prevented this correspondent from getting out to do some zeroxing for me.

Thank you again for putting me in touch with Miss Carter.

Dear Mrs. Marlin:

In answer to your ad in the 'Helper', re Christian Vaught.

I really don't know if we have any connection, but the name 'Christian-Christly-Chrisopher' runs in my Vaught line..not back as far, time wise, but perhaps we can ehelp each other in some way.

My Christley Vaught, d 1830 Wythe Co., Va. He and wife Elizabeth _____ had 12 children, according to Christley's will, prob. 9 Aug 1830. One of these was my Sarah (Sally) b. 1805 in Wythe Co., m. 1824 to Francis Coley. A dau. from this union married my Wm. W. Flanagan..my maternal line.

I have a little on the Vaughts/Vaut/Vaulx line, but do not know how it connects with my known Christley Vaught in Wythe. Most of my time, when I work on the Flanagan line is spent on the Coley/Flanagan ancestors. My time is rather limited, I'm a professional genealogist and have worked as such at a major genealogical library here in Houston, Clayton Library, for many years. I try to help people as much as I can, as time will allow, and in turn maybe there information can help me.

If you like, and if the above information seems to fit with any information you might have, I would be happy to share my misc. Vaught records. I enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelpe for your convenience.

One of my allied lines, in the Flanagan family, is the family of Christly Vaught, of Wythe Co. Va. A daughter of Christly's, Barbara - married Henry Copenhaver. This information is from Christley's will, date ca. 1830. Another dau., Sally, married my Francis Coley.

It would be nice to fill in a little on Henry Copenhaver. Were the Copenhavers from Germany? My Flanagans & Coleys were Irish - but I think the Vaughts were German.

Dear Mrs. Marlin:

Thank you for your letter of 14 Oct. with the suggestions of where to look for my Vaught line. We have an excellent genealogical Library here in Houston and I did find the Vaught names in the references that you mentioned. But, so far, I can't really tie into my Christly Vaught, b. middle 1700's, (iI guess) m. Anna Elizabeth Phillippi and had my ancestor Sarah (S lly) who m. Francis Coley 1824 in Wythe Co.

I've sent off to the DAR for copies of the lineage papers for Christian Vaught. kPerhaps that will give me a handle on connecting to the John Paul Vogt that you mentioned.

May I impose on you and ask for a name and address of one of these ladies that you said had gone into the DAR on Christley? That might give me a clue to the man also.

Thank you again for your time and graciousness.

Dear Mrs. Jordan: —
There are a number of people in this area that are descendants of Christley Vaught — your ancestor — Several are in DAR on his service — The Vaught, Wampler, Bird, Phillippe and Steffy families all came here from Wythe Co. Va.

The Wythe Co. Vaughts came from those who settled in that part of ~~Shenandoah~~ Augusta Co. Va that became Rockingham County — You will, if you haven't already find this family in Orange Co. Va Records (History of) when they took Oaths of Allegiance — You will also find them in Strausberger's German Pioneers — If I remember correctly it was 1733 — the head of the family was John Paul Vogt, the wife and 4 children are named —

This is not my line — mine apparently came from Penn. to Maryland then to Shenandoah Co — You will find your line in Chalkley's — Scotch Irish Chronicles of Augusta Co. Va — I collected a lot of information on that line before I could rule them out as my ancestor — My great grandmother, Malinda Duke, was the daughter of Edward Duke and Mary Vaught - married in Shenandoah Co 1800 - if I remember correctly - They lived in that part of Culpeper Co. Va that became Rappahannock - Mary Vaught's father, Simeon Vaught lived in the part of Shenandoah Co that became Warren Co - Va - Simeon had a brother, Christian -

Thank you very much for your letter re: Vaughts - it is very kind of you to offer your notes -

Christian Vaught, the father of Simeon, was in Frederick Co. Md. and married Hannah Crum there - b. ca 1720 If you have anything on this Vaught line please let me know -

Most sincerely

It would be impossible for your Jackson and Christley Vaught (mine) to be brothers. Christley was born in 1732 prob. in Augusta Co., Va. There were several Christian (Christley) Vaughts down through the years.

Dear Mrs. Jordan:

I am writing in regard to your advertisement in the February 1981 issue of the Southwest Virginian.

I too am tracing the VAUGHT Family lineage. I do not have any information on your Sarah "Sally" Vaught, but I am searching for a Sarah Vaught, daughter of Jackson and Amanda Vaught who lived in Grayson County, Virginia, which borders Wythe County, Virginia.

The family appeared in the 1870 Grayson County, Virginia Census as follows:

		Age
VAUGHT,	Jackson	48
	Amanda	44
	Alexander	19
	Sarah Elvira	15	Birthplace for
	George	11	all is Virginia
	Franklin	10
	Caroline	8
	Ellen	4

Immediately above the listing for the VAUGHT Family was a family as follows:

PINION,	Lydia	47	Birthplace for
	Daily R.	14	both is Virginia

Sarah VAUGHT married Daily R. PINION in Grayson County, Virginia on Nov. 7, 1877. Sarah was 22 and Daily was 21.

Sarah and Daily were the parents of eight children all born in Grayson County.

James Albert	George F.
F. Worley	Lillard
Ocie	Gertrude
Rose	Pearl

Sarah died in Wythe County on January 5, 1914. On the death certificate, her father's birthplace was Grayson County and her mother, Mandy Miller, was born in Wythe County. Daily had died sometime around 1898, but I have been unable to verify that date for certain.

Do you have any information in your files on the particular Sarah VAUGHT I have mentioned? Could it be that Christly and Jackson VAUGHT were brothers?

I am enclosing a SASE for a reply at your convenience. I will be glad to exchange information with you if we are trcing the same VAUGHT Family lineage.

Sincerely,

Beverly Pinion

Dear Mr. & Mrs. Conolly:

I must of missed you on any of your other visits to our Clayton Library. I'm the lady at the front desk who was interested in the Vaughts.

Now the Christmas and the holidays are behind me, I'm trying to straighten out this mess that I'm in in trying to find out just who is the father of my Christley Vaught.

Christly Vaught was married to Anna Elizabeth Phillippi, perhaps in Wythe Co., Va. He was born ca 1732. Of their 12 known children, my Sarah(Sally) married Francis Coley in Wythe Co. Va. 21 May 1824. She was b ca 1805.

A correspondent has sent me some exceppts from They Came to Kentucky by Alberta Carson Kirkwood, on the Vaught-Phillippi family. This states that Andrew is the father of Christley and that John Paul is the grandfather of Christley.

If I remember correctly, Mr. Conolly, you seemed to thing (from memory) that Christley was the son of Casper. Would you mind checking your records? and sending me the proofs that you have? I would be so grateful!!

Dear Mrs. Jorgensen:

How nice to hear from another Vaught/Vogt researcher! I haven't worked on this line for quite awhile, it is not really a direct line.

My main line is Flanagan, Philip b ca 1805 in NC & probably in TN for this is where I loose him, after he leaves Crockett, Wythe Co.,VA. I find him in Wythe Co.,VA in 1850 nowhere in 1860, then he pops up in Hawkins Co.,TN, New Canton.

I had thought perhaps, after he lost his farm in Crockett, Wythe,VA he went to some Pafford relations of his wife's, but maybe it was the Vaughts!!

William W. Flanagan, son of Philip, m A manda Jane Coley. Her father was Francis Coley b NC , mother was Sarah(Sally) Vaught b 1805 VA. Her father was Christly(Christopher) Vaught her mother Anna Elizabeth Phillippi.

I've had the Carson book for a number of years. I do thank you for the trouble of sending me the xerox papers, I return them for your future use. From the markings, it appears that you located my branch.

I have never collected the Vaughts of TN/MO, wish I could help you in your search. From the ages, it could be that your John b ca 1790 might be connected, a generation removed. Christly was b ca 1732, and died ca 1830 in Wythe Co.,VA He had one John b ca 1834 VA and m Elizabeth ???. Christly had 12 children that I know of, George;Barbara;Elizabeth'Christiana;Rosanna; Christly;Henry;Sally;Polly;Leah;Catherine;John. Don't know b dates...got this mostly from a will.

Must close and get this in the mail. Thank you for writing. I will keep your info and let you know if anything turns up.

MRS. E. C. LAMB

DEAR MRS. LAMB:

I HAVE SEEN YOUR LINEAGE CHART IN THE 1983 SOUTHWEST VIRGINIAN AND AM INTERESTED IN EXCHANGING INFORMATION WITH YOU ON THE VAUGHT, PHILLIPPI, EICHELBERGER NAMES IN VA.

MY MOTHER WAS A FLANAGAN AND HER GRANDMOTHER, AMANDA JANE COLEY B 1828 IN WYTHE CO., VA. WAS THE DAU OF SARAH(SALLY) VAUGHT... SARAH(SALLY) WAS THE WIFE OF FRANCIS COLEY AND THE DAU OF CHRISTLY VAUGHT D 1830 WYTHE CO., VA.

CHRISTLY VAUGHT'S WIFE WAS ANNA ELIZABETH PHILLIPPI THE DAU OF JOHN PHILLIPPI AND BARBARA EICHELBERGER.

THIS IS ABOUT ALL I KNOW AND THIS WAS OBTAINED MOSTLY FROM THE BOOK, THEY CAME TO KENTUCKY BY ALBERTA KIRKWOOD. THIS GIVES THE VAUGHT HISTORY PRETTY WELL, BUT THE OTHER TWO ARE RATHER SKETCHY.

IF YOU ARE NOT FAMILIAR WITH THIS BOOK, I WOULD BE PLEASED TO XEROX THE VAUGHT MATERIAL.

LOOKING FORWARD TO HEARING FROM YOU.

SINCERELY,

Mrs. Vivian Hill Jordan

Mrs. E. C. Lamb

Yorktown Heights, N. Y. 10598

Dear Mrs. Lamb:

I have seen your lineage chart in the 1983 Southwest Virginian and am interested in exchanging information with you on the Vaught, Phillippi, Eichelberger names in VA.

My mother was a Flanagan and her grandmother, Amanda Jane Coley b. 1828 in Wythe Co., VA. was the dau of Sarah(Sally)Vaught... Sarah(Sally) was the wife of Francis Coley and the dau of Christly Vaught b 1830 Wythe Co., VA.

Christly Vaught's wife was Anna Elizabeth Phillippi the dau of John Phillippi and Barbara Eichelberger.

This is about all I know and this was obtained mostly from the book, They Came to Kentucky by Alberta Kirkwood. This gives the Vaught history pretty well, but the other two are rather sketchy.

If you are not familiar with this book, I would be pleased to xerox the Vaught material.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely

Dear Mrs. Ashley:

Aneta Vaught Gentry of Murfresboro, TN has given me your name as one who is working on the Phillippi family.

My main interests are my Mothers' line of Flanagan in Wythe Co.,VA.

Wm Washington Flanagan m Amanda Jane Coley 1851 in Wythe Co.,VA

Amandas' father was Francis Coley who mar Sally Vaught in 1824 in Wythe Co.

Sarah(Sally)'s father was Christly Vaught and mother was Anna Elizabeth Phillippi.

I have seen several different family histories on the Vaught/Phillippi family , 'They Came to Kentucky' being upper most. Also in Wythville Public Library, I believe, I found some Phillippi and Eichelberger info.

Has anyone done an up to date history of the Phillippi family?

Where does your family come into this line?

I enclose a SASE for your answer. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Called me Dec. 2 '91 -
Has lots of Phillippi &
Vaught info.
Will send to me.

Dear Mrs. Jordan,

The first book on Christley Vaught has been sold out. I have added your name to the list of people requesting copies. We hope to have a second printing in either 1992 or 1993. I will see you are notified when it is available.

I am not sure about the Eichleberger family but for the Phillippi family you can get help from: Dorothy Ashley, PO Box 92, Science Hill, KY 42553; Helen Spurlin, PO Box 1377, Diamond Springs, CA 95619; or Mickey Martin, 6000 Manganite, Diamond Springs, CA 95619.

I am interested in the size of the genealogical section of the Clayton Library. We are always interested in placing books in the libraries where they can be used the most. I will send copies of the Vaught Connections publications for you to take to the library.

The publication only lasted three years. When my mother became ill I had to give up writting the publication. Since we have the books coming out, it was decided by the board of directors that the books were more important than the publication.

Sincerely,

Aneta Vaught Gentry

Dear Mrs. Gentry:

Thank you for the issues of the Vaught Connections. I took them to the Library the other day. You should be receiving a 'thank you' soon.

Thanks for the addresses of Phillippi researchers. I shall jot a letter to them soon.

Clayton Library, Center for Genealogical Research is an entire Library devoted to nothing but genealogy. We are a division of the Houston Public Library but since 1979, I believe, the Library has had it's own facilities. William Clayton, one of Houston's biggest Cotton Brokers left his home to the Genealogy division of HPL. It covers two city blocks and we used every square inch of the huge two storied home until three years ago when a new family facility (22,000sq ft) was built on land that was donated by the Clayton/that adjoined the old facilites.

The City is now remodeling the old house, the two story guest house and the two story four car garage. The plans will be to house the foreighn collection and meeting rooms and offices in this facility.

The Library is ranked up there with SLC and Fort Wayne,IN. When I retired over two years ago, I don't know what the attendance was but the parking lot is far from adequate and they are fast out growing thennew facilities. The second floor is nothing but film. They senter on the East Coast as well as the Gulf Coast but try to cover the rest of the U.S. as best as they can. Truly a fabulous collection.

Thanks again for your thoughtfulness.

Dear Vivian,

I am embarassed in that I cannot find the originals for the references to the Vaught series. I had a definite location in mind where I would find them but they weren't there. I just made another try and looked in the Spurlin correspondence file but they weren't there. What I did find there was a copy of a Fishback Bible so I believe that probably tells the story. I have misfiled the notes somewhere.

I looked in the Vaught book for references and I did not find anything there either. My copy is an early edition in which there is no index or references.

Partially as compensation, I am sending the names of three people who have a Vaught interest. I believe that Kay Lee Wrage Gunn has done the most work.

Dear Ms.Jordan:

As a descendant of John Paul Vogt, I am doing genealogical research. John Blankenbaker gave us your name and address as a possible contact with whom we could share information.

Enclosed is a genealogical report for you of all the information we have acquired. We are hopeful that you will be able to assist us in filling in some of the gaps in our family history, too.

My e-mail address is: faught@gtw.net.

Thank you so much for your recent mailing of your Faught line.
I came into this line through Sarah(Sally) Vaught b 1805 who m Francis Coley in 1824 in Wythe CO. VA. Their dau Amanda Jane Coley m my grt grandfather, Wm.W. Flanagan.

I've spend most of my research time on my elusive Irish Flanagans! The Coley line isn't much better. Most of my Vogt/Vaught research has been from others whom I knew from experience as good researchers.
When in the Wytheville Library in VA, there I fell into several compilations on the Phillippi and Eichelberger families. If those are of interest I would be pleased to copy and send to you.

The DAR Library in Washington had an account on the Desc. Of Simon and Christina Vought by Wm. Gordon Ver Planck, pub in 1907.
Salt Lake City Library also had some family histories of interest.
'They Came to KY' by Alberta Carson Kirkwood is excellent on the Vaught/Phillippi families.(pub 1976)
The Vaught Assoc. of the U. S. has pub in 1989 a good rendition on Christley Vaught, son/ John Paul-(my line).
Somewhere?- I obtained a copy of a small book by Edgar S. Vaught entitled 'A Partial History of the Vaught Family' pub 1950. He writes that he remembered many of the old people and says that he received most of the info from George Vaught, son of Charles and that he had a long visit with him in 1916 and received a great deal of info from him. Edgar S. Vaught was b in 1873.
Clifford Canfield has also done extensive research overseas on the Phillippi, Echelberger and Allied Fams
I mention the above references just in case you didn't already know about them.

I'm in the process of putting all my filing cabinets information on my computer. Unfortunately, these allied families are not on the computer as yet. Hopefully I'll live long enough to get it all on for the sake of my grandchildren:):) I'm 80 now so I had better hop to it!!

I commend you on your research. It is obvious that you have been at it a long time and have put in many hours. Please let me know if I could answer any of your questions or send you copies of anything. Vivian Jordan vhillj@aol.com

Descendants of Johan Paull Vogt Faught

Generation No. 1

1. JOHAN PAULL VOGT[1] FAUGHT was born Abt. 1680 in Palatinate Frankfurt (Pfalz, Bayern) Germany, and died August 18, 1761 in Augusta Co. Virginia. He married MARIA KATRINE CATHERINA 1704 in Carlsbad, Germ.. She was born Abt. 1687 in Carlsbad Germany Palatinate, and died 1793 in Probably Johnstown, Bates Co, Missouri.

Notes for JOHAN PAULL VOGT FAUGHT:

John Paull Vogt was born circa 1680 in Frankfurt, Palatinate (Pfalz Bayern) Germany. John was married to Marie Catherine some time between 1704 and 1714. Their children were Catharine Margret, Maria Catherine, John Androus Andrew and Casper. All six arrived at Philadelphia aboard the "Charming Betty" out of London in October 1733. The only German name on the ship's roster that was later associated with John Paul was Burger. Spellings for the Vogt name in the old records include Vaught, Vaut, Vought, Vot, Faut, Faught, Wacht, Wocht, Nacht, and Bellfaut.

A decendant, Chester Vaught, reported that it was family tradition that John Paul came from Luckenberg, Germany. This small village is near Thalfang which is between Trier and Cochem and near the Mosel River. Luckenberg is too small to have a church or to appear on most maps. Any church records would be those in Thalfang. Dr. Helmut Hilgenfreld, a priest and a local historian, in Thalfang, Germany, did not find Vogts in the records there. Dr. Hilgenfang stated that, in his opinion, John Paul Vogt could have been a stranger to the district. Strangers were not allowed into the district by the Bishop of Trier who was the small lord in charge. As a stranger the millers had no rights. For example, they could not hold land. This could be one reason that John Paul Vogt emigrated.

1. JOHAN PAUL VOGT FAUGHT was born Abt. 1690 in Palatinate Rhenish (Pfalz, Bavaria) Germany, and died August 18, 1761 in Augusta Co. Virginia. He married MARIA KOSVANE CATHERINA 1704 in Carlsbad, Germ.. She was born Abt. 1687 in Carlsbad Germany Palatinate, and died 1783 in Probably Independence, Bates Co. Missouri.

Notes for JOHAN PAUL VOGT FAUGHT:

John Paul Vogt was born circa 1690 in Frankfurt, Palatinate (Pfalz) Germany. John was married to Maria Catherine some time between 1704 and 1711. Their children were Catharine Margret, Maria Catherine, John Andrew Jungen and Conner. All six arrived in Philadelphia aboard the "Charming Betty" out of London in October 1728. The only German name on the ship's roster that was later associated with John Paul was Hunger. Spellings for the Vogt name in the old records include Vaugh, Vaut, Vaught, Vot, Faut, Faugt, Waut, Waut, Wacht, Wecht, and Hallman.

A descendant, Conner Vaught, reported that it was family tradition that John Paul came from Laukenberg, Germany. This small village is near Thallang which is between Trier and Coblenz and near the Mosel River. Laukenberg is too small to have a church or to appear on most maps. Any church nearby would be those in Thallang. Dr. Helmut Hilgenfeld, a priest and a local historian, in Thallang, Germany, did not find Vogts in the records there. Dr. Hilgenfeld stated that, in his opinion, John Paul Vogt could have been a stranger to the district. Strangers were not allowed into the district by the Bishop of Trier who was the small local in charge. As a stranger the miller had no rights. For example, they could not hold land. This could be one reason that John Paul Vogt emigrated.

Most of the land in the Great Fork between the Happhannock and Hapidan Rivers is what is today Madison and Culpepper Counties in Virginia was settled by Germans. John Paull's patent for land in Orange Co., VA was recorded in 1735.

The year that John Paul Vaught moved to the Great Valley of VA, 1744, a peace treaty between the Germans and the Indians took place at a spring that is now in the courtyard of Friedens Church. A log cabin was built on the edge of John Paul's land and next to the spring in 1744. It was used as a church by two denominations, the Lutherans and the Congregationalists. The church was named for the peace treaty, "Friedens Kirke" or "Church of Peace".

He was naturalized in 1744 in General Court, VA. Some Germans went to the colonial capital for the ceremony. The clerk of the General Court recorded detailed information on each case and by doing so gave some indication of the places In German speaking lands where the immigrants came from. A year later, "John Bum Gardner" (no doubt Hans Baumgartner), "native of Risenhach," took his oath. With him John Paul Vogt of Frankfort and AndrewVogt of "Carlsbad In Germany" became subjects.

John Paull and his wife Mary Catherine sold 170 acres, part of his original patent, to William Caul on 07 JUL 1744. John Paul also sold 470 acres, the rest of his patent,in 1744 to John Thomas for 5 shillings. John Paul may have moved to the Massannuten Mt. Area between July 1744 and October 1744. John purchased 400 acres of David Logan in 1744. He patented land on a north draft of the North River of the Shenandoah 20 SEP 1745. John Paul died at his home in the Shenandoah Valley on 18 AUG 1761. When he moved there in in 1744 the county was Orange. When he died there the county was Augusta. Today the county is Rockingham.

Children of JOHAN FAUGHT and MARIA CATHERINA are:

2. i. JOHN GASPAR (CASPAR)VOGT[2] FAUGHT, b. 1725, Frankfurt, Germany; d. 1787, Botetourt Co. VA.

3. ii. CATHARINA MARGARET FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1715, Palinate Germany; d. Abt. 1793, Probably Augusta Co, VA.

iii. MARIA CATHERINE (CATHERINA)FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1717, German Palatinate; d. Bet. 1745 - 1759; m. JOHN WENDEL THOMAS, 1739, Possibly Germany.

Virginia was settled by Germans. John Faul's patent for land in Orange Co., VA was recorded in 1743.

The year that John Paul Vaught moved to the Great Valley of VA, 1744, a peace treaty between the Germans and the Indians took place at a spring that is now in the monetyard of Broadway Church. A log cabin was built on the edge of John Faul's land and next to the spring in 1744. It was used as a church by two denominations, the Lutherans and the Congregationalists. The church was named for the magic money, "Die dens Kirke" or "Church of Peace".

He was naturalized in 1744 in General Court, VA. Some Germans went to the colonial capital for the ceremony. The clerk of the General Court recorded detailed information on each case and by doing so gave some indication of the places in Germany speaking lands where the immigrants came from. A year later, "John Ham Carolus" (an doubtful Hans Hanneyartner), "native of Hesseland," took his oath. With him John Paul Vogt of Frankfort and Andrew Vogt of "Zatsland in Germany" became subjects.

John Faul and his wife Mary Catherine sold 170 acres, part of his original patent, to William Cant on 07 JUL 1774. John Paul also sold 470 acres, the rest of his patent, in 1774 to John Thomas for 5 shillings. John Paul may have moved to the Shenandoah in Mt. Airy between July 1744 and October 1744. John purchased 100 acres of David Logan in 1744. He patented land on a north draft of the North River of the Shenandoah 20 SEP 1745. John Paul died at his home in the Shenandoah Valley on 18 AUG 1761. When he moved there in in 1744 the county was Orange. When he died there the county was Augusta. Today the county is Rockingham.

Children of JOHAN PAUCHT and MARIA CATHERINA are:

2. i. JOHN CASPAR GERARD VOGT PAUCHT, b. 1724, Frankfurt, Germany; d. 1787, Botetourt Co. VA.

3. ii. CATHARINA MARGARET PAUCHT, b. Abt. 1716, Pfalzgrafenweiler, Germany; d. Abt. 1793, Probably Augusta Co. VA.

iii. MARIA CATHERINE CATHERINA PAUCHT, b. Abt. 1742, Germany; Palatinate; d. Bef. 1745 - 1793, m. JOHN WEBBER THOMAS, 1759, Possibly Germany.

Notes for MARIA CATHERINE (CATHERINA)FAUGHT:
John Paull's will was dated 09 OCT 1759 and was proved 18 AUG 1761. His estate sale and appraisal was dated 10 SEPT 1761. Besides the sons Andrew and Gaspar, only one daughter, the one who married Christian Clements, is mentioned in John's will. It is therefore assumed that the other daughter, Mary Catherine, died without issue prior to October, 1759, the date of John's will.

4. iv. JOHN ANDREAS (ANDREW)SR. FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1721, Carlsbad Germany Palatinate; d. 1787, Wythe, Virginia.

Generation No. 2

2. JOHN GASPAR (CASPAR)VOGT[2] FAUGHT (JOHAN PAULL VOGT[1]) was born 1725 in Frankfurt, Germany, and died 1787 in Botetourt Co. VA. He married ELIZABETH WILKISS Abt. 1750 in Augusta Co. VA. She was born Bet. 1721 - 1741, and died Bet. 1756 - 1825.

Notes for JOHN GASPAR (CASPAR)VOGT FAUGHT:
Gaspar (circa 1725), son of John Paull, left married sons and daughters in Rockingham County and in Botetourt County. Some sons moved west to Greenbriar county and on to Franklin County, KY. This branch of the family spells the surname with an "F". Gaspar is a direct ancestor of the current Virginia Faught family through his son Adam.

Children of JOHN FAUGHT and ELIZABETH WILKISS are:

5. i. ADAM[3] FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1759, Augusta Co., Virginia; d. 1805, Rockingham Co. Virginia.
ii. MARTIN FAUGHT, b. 1755, Augusta Co. Virginia.
iii. PAUL (OR POWELL) FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1763, Augusta Co., Virginia.
iv. SARAH FAUGHT, b. November 28, 1761, Augusta Co., Virginia.
v. GASPER FAUGHT, JR., b. September 05, 1763, Augusta Co., Virginia; d. December 1795, Greenbriar Co. WV.
vi. LEONARD FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1765, Augusta Co.; Virginia;

Notes for MARIA CATHERINE (CATHERINE) FAUGHT:
John Faught's will was dated 03 OCT 1759 and was proved 18 AUG 1761. His estate sale and appraisal was dated 19 SEPT 1761. Besides the sons Andrew and Casper, only one daughter, the one who married Christian Clingenfels, is mentioned in John's will. It is therefore assumed that the other daughter, Mary Catherine, died without issue prior to October, 1759, the date of John's will.

4. iv. JOHN ANDREAS (ANDREW)(3) FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1721, Carlsbad Germany Palatinate; d. 1787, Wythe, Virginia.

Generation No. 2

2. JOHN CASPAR (CASPAR)(2)(1) FAUGHT (JOHANN JACOB FAUST) was born 1690 in Frankfurt, Germany, and died 1747 in Rockingham Co. VA. He married ELIZABETH WILDISS Abt. 1720 in Augusta Co VA. She was born Bet. 1721 - 1731, and died Bet. 1788 - 1826.

Notes for JOHN CASPAR (CASPAR)(2) FAUGHT:
Casper (circa 1725), son of John Faught, left married sons and daughters in Rockingham County and in Rockbridge County. Some were moved west to Greenbrier county and on to Franklin County, KY. This branch of the family spells the surname with an "F". Casper is a direct ancestor of the current Virginia Faught family through his son Adam.

Children of JOHN FAUGHT and ELIZABETH WILDISS are:
5. i. ADAM FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1729, Augusta Co., Virginia; d. 1806, Rockingham Co. Virginia.
ii. MARTIN FAUGHT, b. 1728, Augusta Co. Virginia.

6. ix. GEORGE VOGT FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1771, Botetourt Co. VA; d. July 01, 1831, Cripple Creek VA.

3. CATHARINA MARGARET[2] FAUGHT (JOHAN PAULL VOGT[1]) was born Abt. 1715 in Palinate Germany, and died Abt. 1793 in Probably Augusta Co, VA. She married CHRISTIAN CLEMENTS Abt. 1735 in Staunton, Augusta Co., Virginia. He was born in Palatinate Germany, and died March 18, 1783 in Augusta Co., VA.

Notes for CATHARINA MARGARET FAUGHT:
John Paull's land adjoined that of Christian Clements. Christian's land was on Deep Run and was patented 21 NOV 1734, a year before John Paul got his patent. Christian married one of John Paul's two daughters, probably Catherine Margret, since Christian's wife is referred to as Catherine. The marriage may have taken place before John Paul moved to the Great Valley circa 1744. Christian Clements patented land on the SE side of the South River of the Shenandoah 25 SEP 1746. In 1749 John Paull an Christian Clements had a survey run on land on South River.

Children of CATHARINA FAUGHT and CHRISTIAN CLEMENTS are:

7. i. MARY (CATHERINE)[3] CLEMENTS, b. 1717, Germany; d. Bef. October 1759.

8. ii. GASPAR CLEMENTS, b. 1746, Johnstown, Bates Co., Missouri; d. February 27, 1815, Johnstown, Bates Co., Missouri.

9. iii. ELIZABETH CLEMENTS.

iv. JOHN CLEMENTS, m. ELIZABETH.

10. v. MARGARET CLEMENTS, d. Bef. 1769.

4. JOHN ANDREAS (ANDREW)SR.[2] FAUGHT (JOHAN PAULL VOGT[1]) was born Abt. 1721 in Carlsbad Germany Palatinate, and died 1787 in Wythe, Virginia. He married ELIZABETH Abt. 1743 in Orange Co., VA. She was born Abt. 1721 in Wythe, Virginia, and died Bet. 1767 - 1819.

Notes for JOHN ANDREAS (ANDREW)SR. FAUGHT:
One of the expansion areas from the Shenanoah Valley was

d. 1834.

vii. BARBARA FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1767, Augusta Co., Virginia.

viii. ELIZABETH FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1768, Virginia.

6. ix. GEORGE WOLF FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1771, Rockbridge Co., VA; d. July 01, 1831, Cripple Creek, VA.

8. CATHARINA MARGARET FAUGHT (GORDAY ZEATZ, FRENCH) was born Abt. 1718 in Palinate Germany, and died Abt. 1793 in Probably Augusta Co, VA. She married CHRISTIAN CLEMENTS Abt. 1735 in Staunton, Augusta Co., Virginia. He was born in Palatinate Germany, and died March 18, 1783 in Augusta Co, VA.

Notes for CATHARINA MARGARET FAUGHT:
John Paul's land adjoined that of Christian Clements. Christian's land was on Deep Run and was patented 21 NOV 1734, a year before John Paul got his patent. Christian married one of John Paul's two daughters, probably Catherine Margret, since Christian's wife is referred to as Catherine. The marriage may have taken place before John Paul moved to the Cowe Valley circa 1744. Christian Clements patented land on the SE side of the South River of the Shenandoah 26 SEP 1748. In 1749 John Paul an Christian Clements had a survey run on land on South River.

Children of CATHARINA FAUGHT and CHRISTIAN CLEMENTS are:

7. i. MARY CATHERINE CLEMENTS, b. 1717, Germany; d. Bef. October 1768.

8. ii. CANNAN CLEMENTS, b. 1718, Johnstown, Botte Co., Missouri; d. February 27, 1815, Johnstown, Botte Co., Missouri.

4. JOHN ANDREW (ANDREWSER) FAUGHT (CONRAD ZEATZ, FRENCH) was born Abt. 1721 in Carlsbad Germany Palatinate, and died 1787 in Wythe, Virginia. He married ELIZABETH Abt. 1743 in Orange Co., VA. She was born Abt. 1721 in Wythe, Virginia, and died Bef. 1787 - 1810.

Notes for JOHN ANDREW (ANDREWSER) FAUGHT:
One of the separation areas from the Shenandoah Valley was southwestern Virginia on Reed Creek and Cripple Creek, tributaries of the New River. Seventy five German families were there before the Revolution. One of these was John Andrew Vaught, sone of John Paul Vogt. He and his familu used the spelling "Vaught". Andrew was the assignee of John Parkes for 600 acres on the head of Reed Creek.

By 1772 the Vaught name appears on the militia lists from SW Virginia so Andrew apparently moved there between 1768 and 1772. George Vaught (circa 1745), son of Andrew, Sr., was in the Continental Army and was mustered out in 1775 because he owned a mill. Another son, John Vaught, was in the militia in 1772. Also, David, was in the militia during the Indian Wars.

The Vaught Branch of the family in Southwestern Virginia were sympathetic to the Loyalists and not to the Revolution. On 18 APR 1779, in Wythe Co., Michael Henniger claimed in court that a group of 4,000 men under John Griffeth had shown Loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaught and "the old Vaught who owned the mill". At the trial of these men, John and David Vaught were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught of Cripple Creek was included in the group with Loyalist sympathies by testimony of Peter Kinder. These Germans took their Oath to the King seriously. John and David Vaught were later fined 1,000 pounds each. John, David and Andrew, sons of Andrew, Sr., and Elizabeth, went to Tennessee circa 1790. It is possible that John and David left Wythe Co. rather than pay such a heavy fine.

From Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee descendants spread out to Missouri, Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas and Illinois. Now Andrew's descendants extend across the United States and use the name Vaught.

Children of JOHN FAUGHT and ELIZABETH are:

11. i. B.[3], b. Abt. 1745, Augusta Co., VA; d. August 11, 1835, Wythe Co., VA.
12. ii. JOHN FAUGHT, b. 1747, Augusta Co., VA; d. Abt. 1806, Blount Co, TN.
13. iii. GASPAR FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1749, Augusta Co., VA; d. 1830, Pulaski Co., KY.
14. iv. CHRISTIAN CHRISTLEY FAUGHT, b. Abt. 1752, Augusta southwestern Virginia on Reed Creek and Temple Creek, tributaries of the New River. Seventy five German families were there before the Revolution. One of these was John Andrew Vaught, son of John Paul Vogt. He and his family used the spelling "Vaught". Andrew was the assignee of John Parkes for 600 acres on the head of Reed Creek.

By 1772 the Vaught name appears on the militia lists from SW Virginia so Andrew apparently moved there between 1768 and 1772. George Vaught (since 1.1(3), son of Andrew, Sr., was in the Continental Army and was mustered out in 1778 because he owned a mill. Another son, John Vaught, was in the militia in 1772. Also, David, was in the militia during the Indian Wars.

The Vaught Branch of the family in Southwestern Virginia were sympathetic to the Loyalists and not to the Revolution. On 18 April 1779, in Wythe Co., Michael Hemlinger claimed in court that a group of 1,000 men under John Griffith had shown Loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaughn and "the old Vaught who owned the mill". As the trial of these men, John and David Vaught were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught of Tringle Creek was included in the group with Loyalist sympathies by testimony of Peter Kinder. These Germans took the Oath to the King reluctantly. John and David Vaught were later fined 1,000 pounds each. John, David and Andrew, sons of Andrew, Sr., and Elizabeth, went to Tennessee circa 1779. It is possible that John and David left Wythe Co. rather than pay such a heavy fine.

From Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee descendants spread out to Missouri, Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas and Illinois. Now Andrew's descendants extend across the United States and use the name Vaughn.

(7) Vol 3, p 109 (County Court Tuckahoe, VA Colony) The suit of John Paul Vaughn and his wife Catherine, Cooper Vaughn and his wife Elizabeth vs Robert Moore, 24 Oct 1760.

(8) Vol 3, p 79 (Will Book 1 p 304)-- 16 May 1754 Paul Long's bond as appointed guardian to Conrad and Jacob Long, orphans of Cooper Vaughn, deceased, with Surety, John Taylor.

(9) Vol 3, p 144 (Land Entry Book 1,)-- 1754 Proceedings by Robert Moore and Pat Trimble, vs. Andrew Cooper Vaughn for John Paul Vaughn.

Items (2), (3), (5), and (6) above, refer to areas that are currently in Rockingham Co., VA.

Catherine Vaughn, wife John Paul Vaughn and his wife Maria Catherine, was b about 1732 in Germany. She married Christian Clemmens (Clemmen, Clymmen, Clymmen, etc.) about 1752 in VA. (See items (2), (3), and (8) above) Christian's will was dated 1767 and was proved 1772. Christian's will was dated 1760 and was proved 1762. Ch were Cooper, John, Catherine, who married Joseph Trout, Elizabeth, who married Henry Kiser, and perhaps a

Margaret who married Jacob Barger.

Maria Vaught, d/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina, was b about 1717 in Germany. She apparently had no children, as none are mentioned in her father's will. She is not mentioned either. Nothing more is known of Maria.

Andrew Vaught, s/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina, was b about 1721 in Karlsbad, Germany. His name was possibly Johan(nes) Andreas Paulus Vogt. The name appears occasionally as John Andrew. The Paul is from the 'Bellfaut' references. These are not just John Bellfaut, for John Paul Faut, but also Gaspar Bellfaut, for Gaspar Paul Faut, and Andrew Bellfaut, for Andrew Paul Faut?

Andrew m Elizabeth ca 1743, when he was about 22 years old. Item (3) above indicates that Andrew's wife was an Elizabeth.

Andrew Vaught was assignee of John Parkes for 600 acres on the head of Reed Creek. This tract of land was surveyed under the Loyal Company in 1753 and 1754. Andrew was to pay the interest starting 17 Nov 1762.

Andrew sold land to his brother Gaspar in May 1762, and again in Feb 1763. This would have been land in the Peaked Mountain area. Before 1772, Andrew and his family moved to Montgomery Co., now Wy. Co., VA.

A tax list of 1787 in Wy. Co., VA lists both Andrew Vaught and Andrew Vaught Jr. Andrew was still alive in 1787. In 1786 George Vaught granted 572 acres at headwaters of Cripple Creek, to Henry Vaught and to Christley Vaught for 20 pounds. On the same day Henry granted 130 acres of his share to Christley Vaught for 10 pounds. In 1788, the old survey above, 1753-54 was assigned to Gaspar Vaught, viz, 200 acres to Adam Dutton and 200 acres to Philip Dutton. In 1790 (Survey Book D p 61 item 463) Gaspar Vaught bought 600 acres in the name of Andrew Vaught on Reed Creek, Wy. Co., VA. The old survey (1753-4) apparently was being settled.

The above land maneuvers tend to paint a picture of estate settlement, and it is possible that Andrew Vaught Sr. died ca 1787-1788 in Wy. Co., VA.

Andrew's children are not known at this time. However, item (3) above has as teste a George Faut. Also, a fracktur found in the Neikirk-Vaught family bible states that the father of the baby Andrew is George Vaught, and that the grandfather is Andrew. This is certainly evidence that Andrew had a son George. During the 1770's in Wy. Co., VA, names of other Vaughts begin to appear in the records, starting with John Vaught in 1772. These are probably sons of Andrew Vaught Sr. who are reaching adulthood.

There is no evidence that Gaspar Vaught and his family ever got as far south as Wy. Co. So John, David, George, Gaspar, Christley, Andrew Jr., and Henry all may have been sons of Andrew.

Gaspar Vaught, s/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina was b about 1725 in Germany. His name was possibly Johan(nes) Gaspar Paulus Vogt.

Gaspar was only age 19 when his father and brother went to Williamsburg to give their oath. Since it was necessary to be age 21 to give oath, he did not join them.

Gaspar married about 1745-50, when he was about age 20-25. Item (7) above yields the name Elizabeth as Gaspar Paul's wife. She is Elizabeth Wilkiss. The document "Virginia Vital Records From Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, the William and Mary College Quarterly and Tyler's Quarterly", indexed by Judith McGhan, has in a baptismal record a John Casper Vogt b 5 Dec 1763. The parents were John Casper Vogt and his wife Elizabeth nee Wilkiss. Sponsors were Jacob Arkebrecht, Peter Mueller, and Catherine Margret Vogt. This baptismal record was from a church near Hermann's Mill in the province of Peaked Mountain, VA. Also there was a daughter, Sarah, b 28 Nov 1761 to John Casper Vogt and his wife Elizabeth. Catherine Margret may have been the widow of John Paul Vaught or a daughter of Andrew. Evidence has been located in various records to indicate that probable sons of Gaspar are Adam and Paul. Possible sons are Joseph, Martin and Leonard.

Gaspar Vaught and his wife Elizabeth sold 270 acres of land in Rockingham Co., VA 12 Sep 1778 to Samuel Bear for 370 pounds VA money. This was land patented to Gaspar in 1768. On 10 Jun 1779 for 300 pounds VA money, Gaspar sold 67 acres to Michael Tanner. (See Chalkley item 4 above) This was part of the 400 acres deeded to John Paul Vaught by patent 20 Feb 1745, and was bounded by land owned by Christian Clemans and a Mr. Grubb.

The Rockingham Co. land sales had to be signed by Gaspar's wife Elizabeth. Men from the county seat went to her home to get her signature as she was not well enough to travel. This could indicate that she died before Gaspar moved to the headwaters of the James River.

In Botetourt Co., the next county south of Rockingham Co., on the headwaters of the James River, Gaspar was taxed 1780-1787. Gaspar Jr. was only 17 when the move was made to Botetourt Co., VA. Deeds for land on the Greenbrier River are recorded in Botetourt Co. In Dec 1796, a Gaspar Faut d in Greenbrier Co. Greenbrier was formed from Botetourt Co. and Montgomery Co. in 1778. The inventory of the estate was recorded in Jan 1797. The inventory was very small, not even large enough to indicate a wife or children, and too small for references of any settlement

There is no evidence that Cooper Vaught and his family ever got as far south as Va. Co. So John, David, George, Cooper, Christley, Andrew Jr., and Nancy all may have been sons of Andrew.

Cooper Vaught, s/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherine was b about 1725 in Germany. His name was formerly Schanlinger Cooper Jacobs Vogt.

Cooper was only age 12 when his father and mother went to Williamsburg to give their oath. Since it was necessary to be age 21 to give oath, he did not join them.

Cooper married about 1745-50, when he was about age 20-25. Item (7) above yields the name Elizabeth as Cooper Paul's wife. She is Elizabeth Wilkins. The document "Virginia Vital Records from Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, the William and Mary College Quarterly and Tyler's Quarterly", issued by Dodd Morrison, has in a baptismal record a John Cooper Vogt b 5 Dec 1745. The parents were John Cooper Vogt and his wife Elizabeth nee Wilkins. Witnesses were Jacob Arkwright, Water Mauzier, and Catherine Mauzier Vogt. This baptismal record was from a church near Kerrson's Mill in the province of Pualsol County, Va. Also there was a daughter, Sarah, b 30 Nov 1751 to John Cooper Vogt and his wife Elizabeth. Catherine Mauzier may have been the widow of John Paul Vaught or a daughter of Andrew. Evidence has been located in various records to indicate that probable sons of Cooper are Adam and Paul. Possible sons are Joseph, Martin and Leonard.

Cooper Vaught and his wife Elizabeth sold 270 acres of land in Montgomery Co., Va in 1772 to Samuel Hunt for 775 pounds Va money. This was land patented to Cooper in 1766. On 10 Jan 1775 for 300 pounds Va money, Cooper sold 67 acres to Michael Tanner. (See history item 4 above). This was part of the 400 acres deeded to John Paul Vaught by Charles in 1745, and was conveyed by John and Christian Clapham and a Mr. Grubb.

The Frontier Co. Jane Allen had in the support by Cooper's wife Elizabeth. Jan 1776 the county seat went to her home to get her signature as she was not well enough to travel. This could indicate that she died before Cooper moved to the headwaters of the James River.

In Botetourt Co., the best county south of Rockingham Co., on the headwaters of the James River, Cooper was taxed 1762-1767. Cooper Jr. was only 17 when the move was made to Botetourt Co., Va. Deeds for land on the Greenbrier River are recorded in Botetourt Co. In Feb 1775, a Cooper Paul d in Greenbrier Co. Greenbrier was formed from Botetourt Co. and Montgomery Co. in 1777. The inventory of the estate was recorded in Jan 1797. The inventory was very small. Not even large enough to indicate a wife or children, and too small for heirloom or any settlement to be recorded. If this was Gaspar Vaught Senior the estate would have been much larger. Therefore, this Gaspar was probably "John Casper Vogt Jr." On 27 Sep 1797 a Rachel Vaught m Jacob Johnston in Greenbrier Co. She may have been Gaspar Junior's widow or a sister.

There was another Gaspar Vaught, who d before 1753. See item (8) above. This is not the s/o John Paul Vaught as indicated by the items (1), (2), (4), and (9) above. Items (1) and (4) above indicate that Gaspar, s/o John Paul, was not only alive in 1761 but still alive in 1779. Tax records 1780-1787 indicate that Gaspar may have d after 1787.

It is thought by some that the Gaspar Vaught in Pu. Co., KY in 1810, who d there about 1832, was the s/o John Paul Vaught. If this is so then he was 107 years old when he died. This is possible but not likely. The Pu. Co. KY census of 1830 shows that the Kentucky Gaspar was b 1740-50. He would have been age 80-90 when he d, which is much more believable. The Kentucky Gaspar's wife was also named Elizabeth. Andrews and Gaspars, all with wives named Elizabeth, leads to much confusion. However, the Gaspar who d prior to 1753, and the Gaspar (s/o John Paul Vaught) who d after 1786, and the Gaspar who d in Kentucky ca 1832, and the Gaspar b 1763 who died in Greenbrier Co., would seem to be four different Gaspar Vaughts. A 1790 Wy. Co. VA petition to make changes in the county, is signed by a Gaspar Vaught and a Gaspar Vaught, Junior. This might indicate father and son, but could also simply mean an older Gaspar and a younger Gaspar. In 1790 only 2 of the 4 Gaspars are living, the Gaspar s/o Andrew and the Gaspar s/o Gaspar, i.e. first cousins. At that time Montgomery Co. extended up to Greenbrier Co. We believe that the so-called Wythe Co. petition included some petitioners from Montgomery Co., hence Gaspar Faught Jr.

In 1774, a Gaspar Vaught had 300 acres on the New River. In the 1780's, a Gaspar Vaught had land on the North Fork of the Holston River, VA. Christley also had land there. In 1782, a Gaspar Vaught is on the Montgomery Co. VA, tax list. This would have been the Gaspar who went to KY and who was a s/o Andrew.

In 1782, a Gaspar Vaught was in Captain Baird's Company. This was probably the Gaspar b in 1763 who was a s/o Gaspar Senior.

SECTION 2. JOHN PAUL VAUGHT--- SECOND GENERATION

No probate has been found for Andrew Vaught or Gaspar Vaught. Firm proof stating their children is therefore non-existent. As compilers of Vaught information we list here who we think are children of Andrew and Gaspar. We do this based on the facts that we know at the time of this publishing. We must all be aware that any facts turning up in the future could make changes necessary.

The 1781 list of Capt Love's Company has five brothers, sons of Andrew. All were older than 16. Andrew Jr. and Henry were under 16 and so are not in the Captain Love's Company. Southern Poll Tax lists had all men age 16 and over. The 1782 list above therefore has men born before 1766. Andrew, with six sons is on the list. A sixth son of Andrew, Henry, has appeared. The George on the 1782 list appears to have no taxable property and may be the George son of Andrew who owned a mill. The mill might have been tax exempt because of the grain going to the war effort, hence the note in the tax book "no taxable property". The George who m Anna King and the George who m Barbara Meece are too young for the 1782 tax list. On the 1787 list another son of Andrew appears, Andrew Jr. Andrew Sr. is on this list, so is still alive in 1787. Both Andrews are missing from the 1789 list. Andrew Sr. has probably died. Andrew Jr. went to NC. David is gone. On 18 Apr 1779, Michael Henninger claimed in Court that a group of 4000 men under John Griffith had shown Loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaught and "the old Vaught that owned the mill". George Vaught was only about 40 years old at that time. Today we would not consider that old. He was probably the eldest Vaught of his generation, and therefore was called "the old Vaught". At the trial of these men, John and David were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught Sr. of Cripple Creek was included in the group with Loyalist sympathies, by the testimony of Peter Kinder. Apparently these Germans took their oath to the King seriously. John and David Vaught later were fined 1000 pounds VA money each for their Loyalist beliefs. We are assuming that rather than pay this fine they left the county, David being gone by 1789 and John by 1790. From 1793 -1809 only Gaspar, Henry, Christley, and George are in the records in Wy. Co. John moved to Washington Co., VA and then on to TN. David went to TN. He trekked through part of TN with the Militia during the Indian Wars. Henry, Christley, and George are neighbors in Wy. Co., but Gaspar lives further away. Is this an indication that Henry could be a brother rather than a son of Gaspar? In the 1810 census, Gaspar has gone. Gaspar went to KY where he d about 1832. Two Christys are on the 1810 C list. In 1810 Christley is over 45. Christley d in 1829. George who m Christianna Phillippi is in the 1810 list. David in the 1782 list is too old to be the David in the 1810 list. David in the 1810 C is age 26-45. The 1810 David is the David s/o George, who m in 1803. Henry in 1810 is over 45, and was probably the Henry b by 1766 who had as a second wife Esther Baugh. John in 1810 is age 26-45 and is probably the John who m Elizabeth Slemp in 1809. The John in 1782 is older. Jacob, age 16-26 is the s/o Henry. Jacob m Molly Cormany in 1810. Christy, age 16-26 in 1810, is the s/o Christley and Elizabeth. George, age 16-26 in 1810, is the right age to be the George who m Barbara Meece,

The 1782 list of Capt Lewis's Company has five brothers, some of Andrews. All were older than 16. Andrew Jr. and Henry were under 16 and so are not in the Captain Lewis's Company. Southern tri Tax lists had all men age 16 and over. The 1787 list above therefore has been born before 1766. Andrew, with six sons 16 on the list. A sixth son of Andrew, Henry, has appeared. The George on the 1782 list appears to have no taxable property and may be the George son of Andrew who owned a mill. The mill might have been too example because of the strain going to the war effort. Bunce the note in the tax book "no taxable property". The George who's Anne King and the George who's Barbara Meece are too young for the 1782 tax list. On the 1787 list another son of Andrew appears, Andrew Jr. Andrew Sr. is on this list, so is still alive in 1787. Both Andrews are missing from the 1782 list. Andrew Sr. has probably died. Andrew Jr. went to NC. David is gone. On 14 Aug 1779, Michael Pennington claimed in court that a group of good men under John Griffith had shown loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaught and "the old Vaught that owned the mill". George Vaught was only about 40 years old at that time. Today we would not consider that old. He was probably the oldest Vaught of his generation, and therefore was called "the old Vaught". At the trial of these men, John and David were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught Sr. of Cripple Creek was included in the group with loyalist sympathies, by the testimony of Peter Kinder. Apparently these Germans took oath to the King earlier. John and David Vaught later were fined 1000 pounds VA money each for their loyalist beliefs. We are assuming that rather than pay this fine they left the country. David being gone by 1783 and John by 1782. From 1782 -1785 only Casper, Henry, Christley, and George are in the records in Wy. Co. John moved to Washington Co., VA and then on to IN. David went to KY. He crossed through part of IN with the Militia during the Indian wars. Henry, Christley, and George are neighbors in Wy. Co., but Casper lives further away. Is this an indication that Henry, could be a brother rather than a son of Casper? In the 1810 census, Casper has gone. Casper went to NY where he died about 1812. Two Christleys are on the 1810 C list. In 1810 Christley is over 45. Christley d in 1832. George who is Christiana Mississippi is on the 1810 list. David in the 1782 list is too old to be the David in the 1810 list. David in the 1810 C is age 26-45. The 1810 David is the David s/o George, who is in 1810. Henry in 1810 is over 45, and was probably the Henry b by 1756 who had as a second wife Esther Baugh. John in 1810 is age 16-45 and is probably the John who m Elizabeth Slaug in 1802. The John in 1782 is older. Jacob, age 16-26 in the s/o Henry, Jacob m Molly Conway in 1810. Christley, age 16-26 in 1810, is the s/o Christley and Elizabeth. George, age 16-26 in 1810, is the right age to be the George who m Barbara Meece.

in 1804. George who m Barbara Mees could be the s/o Christley and Betsey Vaught. George who m Anna King drowned when his boat sank ca 1820 so he cannot be the George s/o Christley named in Christley's will in 1828.

These may have been children of Andrew:

George Vaught is a known son of Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. Item (3) above lists George as teste. If he had to be 18 to be teste, then he was b by 1745. His wife was Christiana Phillippi, d/o John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi. Christiana was b 12 Dec 1763 in Pa. (see "The Phillippi Family Tree" by Royer and Strahley. Also "Rosenbaums of S.W. Virginia" by Clifford Canfield.) George and Christiana may have m about 1781. Christiana's age is consistent with a wife of third generation Vaughts, rather than second generation Vaughts. The fractur (birth certificate) for Andrew referred to previously, states that the child Andrew is the s/o George and Christiana (Phillippi) Vaught, and is the grandson of Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. There is a considerable age difference between George and Christiana.

During the 1774 Shawnee Indian War, George spent 41 days in Smith's Company.

In 1775, George settled on Cripple Creek, Wy. Co., VA. George was mustered out of the Continental Army because he had a flour mill. Flour was needed and it was felt that he could serve best at home. However, in 1781, he was in Capt. Love's Co.

in 1806. George was a Barbara Ross could be the s/o Christley and Betsey Vaught. George who w Anna King drowned when his boat sank ca 1820 so he cannot be the George s/o Christley named in Christley's will in 1824.

George Vaught is a known son of Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. Item (3) above lists George as twelve. If he had to be 16 to be taxed, then he was b by 1763. His wife was Christiana Phillippi, d/o John and Barbara (Kinsinger) Phillippi. Christiana was b 12 Dec 1761 in Pa. (see "The Phillippi Family Tree" by Boyer and Kennedy. Also "Genealogies of S.W. Virginia" by Clifford Canfield.) George and Christiana may have a about 1783. Christiana's son is considered with a wife or child genereation Vaughts, rather than second generation Vaughts. The Reactor (birth certificate) for Andrew referred to previously, states that the child Andrew is the s/o George and Christiana (Phillippi) Vaught, and is the grandson of Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. There is a considerable age difference between George and Christiana.

During the 1776 Revolutionary Indian War, George spent 61 days in Smith's company.

In 1778, George settled on Stipple Creek, Wy. Co., VA. George was discharged out of the Continental Army because he had a flour mill. Flour was needed and it was felt that he could serve best at home. However, in 1781, he was in Capt. Love's Co.

The will of George Vaught was dated 13 Mar 1825 and prov 11 Aug 1835. "Wife Christiana completely and fully to posse all my property. After her death sons David, John, Andre George, Peter, and Charles, and dau. Mary to be paid one doll each, they having been already provided for. My son Jose $30.00, my sons Abraham and Jefferson to have all my land and mill with the exception of one acre and a saw mill that I ha given to my two sons Charles and Joseph. Sons Abraham a Jefferson to pay to my two daughters Elizabeth and Christia $280.00." (see p 244 Kirkwood, in the section recording Partial History of the Vaught Family" by Judge Edgar S. Vaught.

John Vaught was probably a s/o Andrew Vaught. He may have been ca 1744-1748. His wife was Esther. John was taxed in Cart Co., TN by 1796. John's will, dated 1806 Carter Co., TN, names son Joseph and 2 daughters, Elizabeth Heaton and Barbara Howar John had land on the North Fork of the Holston River in 1789. was on the 1772 list of Boutetort tithables. The 1772 listing the first appearance of any of Andrew's children in the recor in southern VA. He had land on the South Fork of the Holst River 1775-1787. (Survey Book D, items 488, 491) He was on t 1789 Montgomery Co., Va. list of tithables. John was in Capt Love's Co. in 1781.

Gaspar Vaught appears to be a s/o Andrew Vaught. The Wy. C Gaspar was b 1740-1750. He is also in records as Jasper Casper. The 1830 Pu. Co., KY C gives his age as 80-90. His wif was Elizabeth. He lived on the headwaters of Cripple Creek Wy. Co., VA. He was the first Vaught to move to Pu. Co., KY. sold the Cripple Creek property around 1806 and bought land both sides of Pitman Creek, Pu. Co., KY in 1809, from Robertsc Burge for $1100. Gaspar's wife, Elizabeth, d before 1830 in KY Gaspar d about 1832 in KY.

His known ch are John Vaught, Sarah Vaught, Christine Vaugh who m John Meece 7 Oct 1811, Mary Vaught who m Edmund Newby 9 Oc 1811, and twins, Christian Vaught b 6 Apr 1782 and Elizabeth Vaught b 8 Apr 1782. Are the names of the twins an indicatic that the Wy. Co. Gaspar and Christley are brothers? The Wy. Cc Gaspar might name twins after a brother and his wife more readil than after a cousin and his wife.

Christley Vaught is believed to be a s/o Andrew Vaught and hi wife Elizabeth. We choose to call him Christley even though h is in the records as Christian, Christly, Christy, Chris, etc His son is called Christopher as well as the other variations Christley was b ca 1750-55. He m Elizabeth Phillippi, d/o Joh and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi. Elizabeth is in the

The will of George Vaught was dated 13 Mar 1823 and prov 21 Aug 1823. "Wife Christiana completely and fully to possa all my property. After her death sons David, John, Andre George, Peter, and Charles, and dau. Mary to be paid one doll mean, they having been already provided for. My son Jose 150.00, by some Arrahas and Jefferson to have all my land and will with the exception of one acre and a saw mill that I ha given to my two sons Charles and Joseph. Sons Abraham a Jefferson to pay to my two daughters Elizabeth and Christiana 150.00." (see p 244 Kanawha, in the section recording Marital History of the Vaught Family" by Judge Edgar S. Vaught.

Glen Vaught was probably a s/o Andrew Vaught. He may have been b 1764-1768. His wife was Esther. John was taxed in Cart Co., VA by 1796. John's will, dated 1805 Carter Co., TN, names son Joseph and 3 daughters, Elizabeth Beeson and Barbara Howard John had land on the North Fork of the Holston River in 1789. He was in the 1772 list of Boonsboro citizens. The 1772 listing has since appearance of any of Andrew's children in the record in southern VA. He had land on the South Fork of the Holston River 1773-1787. (Survey Book B. Items 488, 491) He was on 1782 Montgomery Co., Va. list of citizens. John was in Cap Lowe's Co. in 1781.

Esther Vaught appears to be a s/o Andrew Vaught. The Wy. Co. Census was b 1740-1750. He is also in records as Jacob c Carter. The 1810 Wa. Co., KY c gives his age as 40-50. His wif was Elizabeth. He lived on the headwaters of Cripple Creek Wy. Co., VA. He was the first Vaught to move to Pa. Co., KY. He sold the Cripple Creek property around 1806 and bought land c near Alcoa of Pilman Creek, Pa. Co., KY in 1809, from Robertson Surge for $1100. Cooper's wife, Elizabeth, d before 1810 in KY Cooper d about 1812 in KY.

His known ch are John Vaught, Isaac Vaught, Christine Vaugh who m John Acres 7 Oct 1811, Mary Vaught who m Edmund Newby 9 Oc 1811, and twins, Christian Vaught b 6 Apr 1792 and Elizabeth Vaught b 8 Apr 1792. Are the names of the twins an indicatio that the Wy. Co. Cooper and Christley are brothers? The Wy. Co Carter county name twins after a brother and his wife were reall that sister a cousin and his wife.

Christian Vaught is believed to be a s/o Andrew Vaught and hi wife Elizabeth. He chooses to call his Christley even though h is in the records as Christian, Christy, Christ, and his son is called Christopher as well as the other variations Christley was b ca 1780-85. He m Elizabeth Pulliam, d/o John and Deborah (Blondheyser) Phillippi. Elizabeth is in the the "Vaughts" from his grandfather William K. Vaught, reported that Henry, with his family and others, traveled by 2 wheel ox carts, and one of the men lost his wife on the way. There is nothing in the records to indicate that a Vaught family other than Henry's went to KY in the fall of 1811. This group of Vaughts joined Gaspar on Pitman Creek and bought land in 1811-1815 next to Gaspar. Certainly it would appear that Henry Vaught is closely related to Gaspar, probably a brother. Gaspar's last child was b in 1800. If Henry is a son of Gaspar then Gaspar's wife bore children for 35 years. This is not likely. If Henry is a brother of Gaspar, then Andrew and Elizabeth had children from ca 1745 to ca 1768, a period of 23 years. This is more likely.

Joseph Faught is in the Botetourt Co. records in 1785. This is where the last records for Gaspar Sr. are. Joseph is listed as the father of the bride at the wedding of Barbara Faught and John Edwards 1785. If Barbara was as young as 15, then she was b ca 1770. If Joseph was at least 18 when Barbara was born then Joseph was b before 1752. In 1789 George Faught m Mary Persinger. In 1794 John Faught m Jane Stull d/o Charlotte Stull (see pg 509 "Annals of Southwest Virginia" by Summers). George and John may be sons of Joseph. Most records of the Gaspar Vaught Sr. family have Vaught spelled with an "F", i.e. Faut, Faught, Fought, etc.

Paul (or Powell) Faught may be a s/o Gaspar and Elizabeth (Wilkiss) Vaught. Paul is listed in the Boutetort tithables 1780-86 along with Gaspar. He is also in Captain Baird's Company along with Gaspar. The Gaspar shown with Paul may be the one who d in Greenbrier Co., W. VA Dec 1795-Jan 1796, and is also likely to be the Gaspar b in 1763 and is probably a brother of Paul Faught. Powel Fought is on the 1795 tax list and the 1810 C of Franklin Co., KY. He may have had a son Joseper (Joseph?), and a son William, and a daughter Margaret, and perhaps a daughter Catherine.

Leonard Faught may be a s/o Gaspar and Elizabeth (Wilkiss) Vaught. He was b ca 1765 and is mentioned as giving permission for his daughter Barbara to marry 1799 Franklin Co., KY. He is in the 1810 C of Franklin Co., KY. He is too old to be a son of Paul so is probably a younger brother.

Gaspar Faught Junior, a son of Gaspar Vaught Senior, was b near Peaked Mountain in VA 5 Dec 1763. He is believed to be the Gaspar Faut who died in Greenbrier Co., WV. His wife may have the "Vaughts" from his grandfather William X. Vaught, reported that Henry, with his family and servants, traveled by 2 wheel carts, and one of the men lost his wife on the way. There is mention in the records to indicate that a Vaught family other than Henry's went to KY in the fall of 1811. This group of Vaughts joined Cooper on Pitman Creek and bought land in 1811-1812 next to Cooper. Certainly it would appear that Henry Vaught is closely related to Cooper, probably a brother. Cooper's last child was b in 1808. If Henry is a son of Cooper then Cooper's wife bore children for 35 years. This is not likely. If Henry is a brother of Cooper, then Andrew and Elizabeth had children from ca 1765 to ca 1792, a period of 27 years. This is more likely.

Grant Vaught is in the Botetourt co. records in 1783. This is where the last record for Cooper Sr. are. Joseph is listed as the father of the bride at the wedding of Barbara Vaught and John Bowman 1783. If Barbara was as young as 15, then she was b ca 1770. If Joseph was at least 18 when Barbara was born then Joseph was b before 1752. In 1785 George Vaught & Mary Persinger. In 1784 John Vaught & Jane Stull d/o Charlotte Stull (see dg sub "Morris of Southwest Virginia" by Summers). George and John may be sons of Joseph. Most records of the Cooper Vaught Sr. family have Vaughs spelled with an "y", i.e. Ybus, Vaughs, Voughs, etc.

Paul Jac. Powell Vaught may be a s/o Cooper and Elizabeth (Wilkins) Vaught. Paul is listed in the Doucecot estates 1780-84 along with Cooper. He is also in Captain Baird's company along with Cooper. The Cooper named with Paul may be the one who d in Greenbrier Co., W. VA. Dec 1795-Jan 1796, and is also likely to be the Cooper b in 1763 and is probably a brother of Paul Vaught. Paul Vaught is on the 1795 tax list and the 1810 c of Franklin Co., KY. He may have had a son Cooper (Joseph?), and a son William, and a daughter Margaret, and perhaps a daughter Catherine.

Samuel Vaught may be a s/o Cooper and Elizabeth (Wilkins) Vaught. He was b ca 1795 and is mentioned as giving permission for his daughter Barbara to marry John Franklin Co., KY. He is in the 1810 c of Franklin Co., KY. He is too old to be a son of Paul as is probably a younger brother.

Cooper Vaught Junior, a son of Cooper Vaught senior, was b near Peaked Mountain in VA 5 Dec 1783. He is believed to be the Cooper Vaus who died in Greenbrier Co., WV. His wife may have been a Rachel. In 1797, Rachel Faut m Jacob Johnston. The inventory of Gaspar's estate in Jan 1796 is not that of a man with a family, nor is it big enough to be the estate of Gaspar Senior. Rachel may have been a sister instead of a wife as Gaspar Senior and his wife were no doubt dead by that time. No children of Gaspar Junior are known. Gaspar was in Capt. Bairds Company in 1782 with Powell (Paul) Faught.

Martin Faught, a son? of Gaspar Vaught, had a daughter Elizabeth who married George Schaefer 30 Sep 1796. The Rockingham Co., VA marriage records list Adam as the father and may be in error. Adam did have an Elizabeth b ca 1805. In the Peaked Mountain Church record of George and Elizabeth's marriage, Martin is referred to as an elder at "Peter Ermentrauts church."

Adam Faught, a son of Gaspar and Elizabeth (Wilkiss) Vaught, was born ca 1760. Adam was m to Catherine.

In 1774, Lenard Miller patented land adjoining his own and Gaspar Vaughts on the N. River of the Shenandoah. In 1774, Gaspar Vaught patented 300 acres adjoining his own land on the N. River of the Shenandoah. In 1785, David Laird patented land adjoining Gaspar Vaught. This was in Rockingham Co., VA and Gaspar was not living there at that time. However, Gaspar's land could still be referred to as the land of Gaspar Vaught, or Gaspar might have still owned land there. In 1786, Adam Vaught had land surveyed to acquire a patent on 70 acres of land on Yeagers Branch of Smith Creek adjoining his own and David Lairds, and Robert Williams land. In 1786, Adam Vaught had land on Cub Run below Peaked Mountain next to David Laird. The close land ownership of Gaspar Faught, Adam Faught, and David Laird would seem to verify that Adam is a son of Gaspar.

Adam had ch Margaret, Catherine b ca 1784, Susana b ca 1793, Elizabeth b ca 1805 who m Jacob Cole, John who m Catherine Placker, Adam Vaught Junior, George who m Christina Yeagley, Barbara who m Abraham Teshler, and Mary who m John Wise.

There has been no record, so far, of any daughters of Andrew or his brother, Gaspar Vaught, except for Sarah, b 1761. Rachel is only a possibility.

Catharine Margret Vogt, who was a sponsor at the Baptism of John Casper Vogt in 1763, may have been a d/o Gaspar or Andrew or she could have been the widow of John Paul Vaught.

Of the 7 sons of Andrew listed above, three left wills: George, John and Christley. This helps determine their families. Henry's family can be put together from several sources, but primarily been a Rachel. In 1797, Rachel Paul m Jacob Tomlinson. The inventory of Casper's estate in Jan 1796 is not that of a man with a family, nor is it big enough to be the estate of Casper Hunter. Rachel may have been a sister instead of a wife as Casper Hunter and his wife were no doubt dead by that time. No children of Casper Hunter are known. Casper was in capt. Barton's company in 1782 with Revall (Paul) Pugsley.

Martin Vaught, a son of Casper Vaught, had a daughter Elizabeth who married George Scamater 30 Sep 1796. The Rockingham Co., VA marriage record lists Adam as the father and may be an error. Adam did have an Elizabeth b ca 1803. In the Hardwood Mountain church record of George and Elizabeth's marriage, Martin is referred to as an elder of "Peter Zimmerman's church."

Adam Vaught, a son of Casper and Elizabeth (Wilkins) Vaught, was born ca 1768. Adam was a ca Catherine.

In 1773, James Wilkes purchased land adjoining his own and Casper Vaught's on the W. River of the Shenandoah. In 1774, Casper Vaught purchased 300 acres adjoining his own land on the W. River of the Shenandoah. In 1783, David Laird purchased land adjoining Casper Vaught. This was in Rockingham Co., VA and Casper was not living there at that time. However, Casper's land could still be referred to as the land of Casper Vaught, or Casper might have still owned land there. In 1784, Adam Vaught had land surveyed to acquire a patent on 70 acres of land on Teagarden Branch of Dry Creek adjoining his own and David Laird, and Robert Williams land. In 1786, Adam Vaught had land on Cub Run below Peter Zimmerman next to David Laird. The close land ownership of Casper Vaught, Adam Vaught, and David Laird would seem to verify that Adam is a son of Casper.

Adam had ch Margaret, Catherine b ca 1784, Susanna b ca 1793, Elizabeth b ca 1805 who m Jacob Cole, John who m Catherine Fletcher, Adam Vaught Junior, George who m Christina Yantsey, Barbara who m Abraham Teagler, and Mary who m John Wise.

There has been no record, so far, of any daughters of Andrew or his brother, Casper Vaught, except for Sarah, b 1781. Rachel is only a possibility.

Catharine Margaret Vogt, who was a sponsor at the baptism of John Casper Vogt in 1783, may have been a d/o Casper or Andrew or she could have been the widow of John Paul Vaught.

Of the 7 sons of Andrew listed above, three have wills: George, John and Christley. This helps determine their families. Henry's family can be put together from several sources, but primarily from the sale of his land ca 1850 Pu. Co., KY signed by his heirs. David and Andrew Jr. left Wythe Co., VA. That left (by default) only Gaspar s/o Andrew as a father of any open-ended Vaughts in Wy. Co., VA, such as George who m Anna King, or Catherine who m Michael Creagar, or any girls m from 1790 -1809 whose fathers are not known. It is possible that George, Gaspar, and Christley all named their first son George, as did Andrew Sr. This could have been because "George" was the King of England.

SECTION 3. JOHN PAUL VAUGHT THIRD GENERATION

CHILDREN OF CHRISTLEY VAUGHT AND HIS WIFE ELIZABETH PHILLIPPI
(Christley s/o Andrew s/o John Paul Vaught)

Christley Vaught, to recap, was b ca 1750-1755 in VA and was probably the s/o Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. Christley m Elizabeth Phillippi about 1780. She was the d/o John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi. Elizabeth was b 15 Nov 1764 in PA. Christley d ca 1828-30 in Wythe. Co., VA. Christley's children, all b in Wy. Co., VA, were George, Barbara, Elizabeth, Christina, Rosanna, Christopher, Henry, Sally, Polly, Leah, Catherine, and John. The name of Christley was identical with the names Chris, Christian, Chrisley, Christy, Christopher, Christey, etc, and the records use a variety of these for each such individual.

George Vaught, s/o Christley and Betsy (Phillippi) Vaught, was once thought to be the George who m Christiana Phillippi. It is now known that this George is not the George who m Christiana. Instead he may have been the oldest child, b ca 1782, and the George who m Barbara Mees in 1804 in Wy. Co., VA. Barbara was b ca 1788. George moved to Grayson Co. possibly before 1820. There were 8 children. The George Vaught who m Anna King and who drowned about 1820 may have been the s/o Gaspar (s/o Andrew). Christley's George is mentioned in his will, 1828, therefore his George was still living in 1828 as is the George who m Barbara Mees. George Vaught who m Elizabeth Wampler was the son of George and Christiana as that George had no children. Judge Vaught reported that George Vaught's son George had no children. George Vaught who m Christina Yeagley was the son of Adam Faught. (s/o Gaspar, Sr.) George Vaught who m Christiana Phillippi was the s/o Andrew Vaught Sr. (see ref to the Fraktur)

Known ch of George and Barbara (source---Zion) were Elizabeth Vaught, Christiane Vaught, Andrew Vaught, and Solome (i.e. Sarah) Vaught. The 1830 C of Grayson Co., VA indicates 3 other boys and one other girl. The 1850 C Grayson Co., VA indicates that these sons were John, Jackson, and James H. Polly is a child in the Grayson Co., VA marriage record. She could be the other girl. The m rec does not say that Polly is the d/o George, but there is no other Vaught there at that time to whom she could belong.

Barbara Vaught, d/o Christley and Elizabeth (Phillippi) Vaught, was b about 1783. Barbara m Henry Copenhaver, 8 Jun 1802 in Wy. Co., VA. Henry was the s/o Captain John Thomas and Elizabeth

SECTION 2. JOHN FAUL VAUGHT - THIRD GENERATION

CHILDREN OF CHRISTEY VAUGHT AND HIS WIFE ELIZABETH PHILLIPPI

(Christley s/o Andrew was John Faul Vaught)

Christley Vaught, b. Feeg. Van s de 1750-1760 in VA. and was probably the s/o Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. Christley m Elizabeth Phillipi about 1780. She was the d/o John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi. Elizabeth was b 15 Nov 1764 in PA. Christley d ca 1824-30 in Wythe. Co., VA. Christley's children, all b in Rk. Co., VA. were George, Barbara, Elizabeth, Christina, Poesina, Christopher, Henry, Sally, Polly, Leah, Catherine, and John. The name of Christley was identical with the name Chris, Christian, Christey, Christy, Christopher, Christey, etc, and the records use a variety of these for each such individual.

George Vaught, s/o Christley and Betsy (Phillippi) Vaught, was once thought to be the George who m Christiana Phillippi. It is now known that this George is not the George who m Christiana. Instead he may have been the oldest child, b ca 1783, and the George who m Barbara Keep in 1804 in Rk. Co., VA. Barbara was b ca 1788. George moved to Grayson Co. possibly before 1820. There were 8 children. The George Vaught who m Anna King and who died about 1826 may have been the s/o Cooper (s/o Andrew). Christley's George is mentioned in his will, 1824, therefore his George was still living in 1826 as is the George who m Barbara Keep. George Vaught who m Elizabeth Waddle was the son of George and Christiana as that George had no children. Judge Vaught reported that George Vaught's son George had no children. George Vaught who m Cristina Vaughy was the son of Adam Faught. (s/o Cooper, Sr.) George Vaught who m Christiana Phillippi was the s/o Andrew Vaught Sr. (see ref to the Tracers)

Known ch of George and Barbara (Poesina---Hion) were Elizabeth Vaught, Christiana Vaught, Andrew Vaught, and Solomon (s.s. Saran) Vaught. The 1810 C of Grayson Co., VA indicates 3 older boys and one other girl. The 1820 C Grayson Co., VA indicates that these sons were John, Jackson, and James R. Polly is a child in the Grayson Co., VA marriage record. She could be the other girl. The m rec does not say that Polly is the d/o George, but there is no other Vaught there at that time to whom she could belong.

Barbara Vaught, d/o Christey and Elizabeth (Phillippi) Vaught, was b about 1793. Barbara m Henry Cooperhaver, 8 Jun 1802 in Wy. Co., VA. Henry was the s/o Captain John Thomas and Elizabeth Leah Vaught, d/o Christley and Betsy (Phillippi) Vaught, was b 7 Apr 1804 in Wy. Co., VA. Leah m Jacob Dutton 25 April 1822 in Wy. Co., VA. Jacob was b ca 1800.

The 1840 C Smyth Co. VA has ch listed as 7 boys and 1 girl. The 1850 C Smyth Co., VA has George Dutton 17, John Dutton 14, James Fleming Dutton 12, and Elizabeth Dutton 5. The 1860 C has James F. Dutton 21, and Elizabeth Dutton 15.

Catherine Vaught, d/o Christley and Elizabeth (Phillippi) Vaught, was b about 1801 in Wy. Co., VA. She did not marry. Catherine lived in Smyth Co., VA with her brother John. She d 16 May 1891 at age 86. The original record is hard to read and the age might be 96, but this would conflict with her age given in the 1850 C.

John Vaught, s/o Christley and Betsy (Phillippi) Vaught, was b about 1808 in Wy. Co., VA. John m Elizabeth Nickles, d/o Matthew and Polly Nickles. John and Elizabeth were m 1830-39. John d 12 Sep 1883 at age 76, in Smyth Co., VA. His wife Elizabeth was b in 1812 and d 17 Dec 1892. The Smyth Co., VA death records have John s/o Christley and Elizabeth, Elizabeth d/o Mathew and Polly Nickles, and Catherine d/o Christy and Elizabeth. The informant, Henry T. Vaught, is the same for all three. Henry T. Vaught was the son of John and Elizabeth. There is no doubt that this John m Elizabeth Nickles and was the s/o Christley and Elizabeth (Phillippi) Vaught.

The 1850 C in Smyth Co., VA has John Vaught 44, Elizabeth Vaught 35, James F. Vaught 15, Mary Vaught 13, Chrisley A. Vaught 11, Nancy E. Vaught 9, Elizabeth Vaught 7, Sarah C. Vaught 5, George D. Catherine Vaught, d/o Christley and Elizabeth (Phillippi) Vaught, was b about 1807 in WV, Co., VA. She did not marry. Catherine lived in Boyd Co., VA with her brother John. She d 12 May 1891 at age 84. The original record is hard to read and the age might be 84, but this would conflict with her age given in the 1850 C.

John Vaught, s/o Christley and Betsy (Phillippi) Vaught, was b about 1808 in WV, Co., VA. John m Elizabeth Nickles, d/o Mastney and Sally Nickles. John and Elizabeth were m 1830-19. John d 12 Sep 1893 at age 75, in Boyd Co., VA. His wife Elizabeth was b in 1811 and d 17 Dec 1897. The Boyd Co., VA death records have John s/o Christley and Elizabeth, Elizabeth d/o Mathew and Polly Nickles, and Catherine d/o Christley and Elizabeth. The informant Henry T. Vaught, is the same for all three. Henry T. Vaught was the son of John and Elizabeth. There is no doubt that this John m Elizabeth Nickles and was the s/o Christley and Elizabeth (Phillippi) Vaught.

The 1850 C in Boyd Co., VA has John Vaught 44, Elizabeth Vaught 38, James F. Vaught 19, Mary Vaught 13, Christley A. Vaught 11, Nancy E. Vaught 9, Elizabeth Vaught 7, Sarah C. Vaught 5, George D. Vaught 3, and a Catherine Vaught 18. The Catherine is John's sister, Catherine. (see above) The 1860 C Boyd Co., VA has John J. Vaught, Missouri Vaught, and Henry T. Vaught. William M. Vaught is in the state, Boyd Co., VA.

The will of John Vaught dated 1893 names sons William M., Henry T., James F., George D., and Andrew J. John Jackson is not in the will. Andrew J. appears only in the will. John J. is in many records. We believe they are the same person.

Descendants of Simon and Christina Vought

On the 28th day of April, 1708, a small band of Lutherans with the Rev. Joshua Kockerthal at their head, having left the lower Palatinate in Germany, journeyed to England and presented to Queen Anne a petition showing that they had lost all their property at the time of the ravages committed by the French, and that they were in absolute want, and requesting that they might be transferred to her Majesty's colonies in America. They presented to the Queen testimonials which they brought, duly authenticated by the magistrates of the several towns in which they resided, showing that they were of good character; and they made such a favorable impression that Queen Anne granted their request and they were accordingly sent to America in the year 1708.

On June 13, 1710, a second immigration of Palatines arrived at New York in the ship Lyon, which brought also General Robert Hunter, the new governor of New York and New Jersey. A large number of the immigrants died on the way over, and many were sick and disabled when they arrived here, owing to the poor food furnished them and the crowded condition of the ships. The authorities of the City of New York, fearing danger from infection if they were landed in the city, ordered that the immigrants should be landed on Governors Island, and directed that three doctors from the city should visit them, and that huts should be built for their accommodation.

Among these German immigrants were Simon Vought and Christina, his wife, from whom the members of the Vought family in America are descended. In the official list of the Palatines who came in this second immigration, appears the name "Simon Vogdt," and it was stated that he was then thirty years of age, and his wife twenty-six.

In 1710, a large tract of land on the Hudson River, near Newburgh, was bought by Governor Hunter from Robert Livingston and there in October of that year most of the Palatines were settled. A few of them remained behind at New York City, and afterwards settled in New Jersey and elsewhere.

Simon Vought and his wife were among those that remained behind in New York. It is probable that he stayed in New York City until the spring of 1711, when most of the remaining Palatines left the city.

Simon Vought settled in Western New Jersey in either Middlesex or Hunterdon County.

1. Simon[1] Vought was b. in Germany in the year 1680; he m. there previous to 1710 his wife Christina, who was b. in 1684. When he and his wife arrived in this country in 1710 they were unaccompanied by any children; probably their only children were those whose baptisms are recorded below. Simon Vought was alive as late as 1749. In that year he joined with seventy-seven other members of the Lutheran Church in Western New Jersey in a call to the Rev. John Albert Weygand. The names signed to the call are mostly German, and the signatures are written as a rule in German, though some are written partly in German and partly in English, while a few are entirely in English. Among the latter is Simon Vought's who wrote his name "Simon Vogt." In the baptismal record of his children, made by the Rev. Justus Falkner, Lutheran minister at New York, his name always appears as "Vocht."

Children of Simon[1] and Christina Vought:

2 i. Johannes Christoffle,[2] b. Feb. 24, 1714; bap. by Rev. Justus Falkner, Aug. 1, 1714, "at the house of Ari de Guinee on the Raritans, at our Christian Lutheran gathering." Sponsor: Johannes Wimmer.

ii. Margareta, b. Feb. 3, 1716; bap. "at Raritans," June 17, 1716, by Rev. Justus Falkner. Sponsors: "Johannes Wimmer, but in his place stood Ulrich Simthinger and Margareta Langmansen."

iii. Johannes, b. at Middlebush, Feb. 17, 1718; bap. "On the Raritans Middlebosch," Aug. 17, 1718, by Rev. Justus Falkner. Sponsors: Johannes Wimmer and Catharina Messnerin.

iv. Abraham, b. Jan. 22, 1720; bap. Aug. 7, 1720, "On the Raritans," by Rev. Justus Falkner. Sponsors: Hannes Wimmer and Catharina Messnerin.

SECOND GENERATION

2. JOHN CHRISTOPHER[2] VOUGHT (Simon[1]), was b. in New Jersey, Feb. 24, 1714. He m. Cornelia Putnam (the widow of Ralph Traphagen and daughter of David Putnam or Pootman.) John Christopher Vought resided in 1735 on the West Jersey Society's land in Hunterdon County. Among his neighbors at that time was Roeliff Traphagen, whose widow John Christopher Vought afterwards married. Cornelia Putnam was b. March 23, 1711, and bap. in the Dutch Church at Freehold, April 29, 1711. After the death of her first husband and before 1750, Cornelia m. John Christopher Vought. Although bap. "John Christopher" he was known as "Christopher," and the name John does not appear to have been generally used by him. It seems to have been a custom with these German families to give to several of their children the same first Christian name, the middle name only being different, and the child was then known by the middle name only. This is no doubt the explanation of the fact why John Christopher Vought was called sometimes "John Christopher" and sometimes "Christopher."

In 1759 Christopher Vought bought from the executor of James Alexander a farm of 285 acres in Lebanon Township, Hunterdon Co., N. J., for £712, 10*s*. Here he built a large stone house, barn and other buildings. His son bought a farm adjoining this in 1773.

At the breaking out of the Revolution, he with his son John took the side of the British, becoming staunch loyalists. He and his son John were at one time put in gaol and fined for their loyalist activities, and in December, 1776, they joined the British troops as the army under Sir William Howe marched to Trenton. Christopher lived on Staten Island during the war. After the surrender of Cornwallis he and his family were forced to go to Nova Scotia, where in 1783, they settled at a place called Parrsborough. He lived there with his son John until the year 1792, when they all returned to New York and settled at Duanesburgh, N. Y., on a part of a large tract of land containing 2,000 acres, which he bought of John Leake, May 19, 1770.

Family tradition says that he received a grant of a large tract of land in Canada, the present site of the City of Toronto, and his son a pension of 365 crowns a year from the British government.

Family tradition does not always agree with the facts as reference to the record in regard to this matter discloses.

A Commission of Enquiry into the Losses and Services of the American Loyalists, held under the Acts of Parliament of 23, 25, 26, 28 & 29, of George III., preserved amongst the Audit Office Records in the Public Record Office of England, shows that Christopher Vought and his son John made a claim for their losses and services during the American Revolution which was passed upon and partially allowed.

In a volume entitled American Loyalists, Audit Office Transcripts, Volume 28, Determinations in Nova Scotia, etc. On Claims for Various Provinces, at page 203, is to be found the following:

The claim of Christopher and John Vought appears in Volume 15, Examinations in Nova Scotia etc. and New Jersey, Book I., Claimants, at page 283, and is as follows:

TO THE HONORABLE THE COMMISSIONERS appointed by Act of Parliament for enquiring into the Losses and Services of the American Loyalists.

The Memorial of Christopher Vought, late of Hunterdon County, New Jersey, and of John Vought, his son, Captain in the 2d Battalion of New Jersey Volunteers, also late of the same County, but both now of the Province of Nova Scotia, by their attorney Daniel Cox, being thereto specially authorized,

SHEWETH:

That your Memorialists in the Fall of 1776, as faithful subjects, joined his Majesty's Army, under the command of Sir William Howe on his advance in the Jersies to Trenton, and by every active service in their power, endeavored to assist in crushing the Rebellion then existing in that province.

That your Memorialist John Vought took up arms, raised a Company, and was appointed a Captain in the 2nd Battalion of the New Jersey Volunteers, and in that capacity has acted and done Military Duty in various and severe services to the Northward and Southward during the whole course of the War in America.

That in consequence of the active loyalty, services and attachment of your Memoralists to the British Government, their Estate, Real and Personal, both in the late Provinces of New Jersey and New York, have been confiscated, and sold by the authority of the said States to the amount as in the Schedule thereto annexed and to which they beg leave to refer for the amount of their joint losses.

Your Memoralists therefore pray that you will take this case into your consideration in order that your Memorialists may be enabled under your report to receive such "A Partial History of the Vaught Family" by Edgar E. Vaught: "My personal interview with my closest relative living by Lawrence says disclosed that my direct ancestors came from Pennsylvania and settled in Augusta County, Virginia, and later removed to Montgomery County, Virginia.

"My reliable information, however, begins with my great-great-grandfather Christley Vaught, who removed from Augusta County, Virginia, to Montgomery County, Virginia, very young prior to the Revolutionary War. John Paul and his family probably lived briefly in Lancast Co., PA as did most Germans from the Palatinate. Then he ma his way to the Great Valley of Virginia. John Paul may ha attended the Hebron Church which is still in use in Madison C When John Paul was there the county was Orange Co. John Paul h land in Orange Co., VA, before 1745.

John P. d about 1760-61 in the vicinity of Peaked Mountai Augusta Co., VA. (now Rockingham Co., VA, see Area Two abov John's will was dated 9 Oct 1759 and was proven 18 Aug 1761. (s item (2) below) John's wife Mary Katrine (or Catherine or Mar Catherina or Catherina Margret?) may have lived past 176 Catherina Margret was one of the sponsors for the baptism of Gaspar Vaught in 1763 (from a baptismal record of a Luther church near Peaked Mountain, VA).

Lyman Chalkley's Vol's I, II, and III, "Chronicles of t Scotch-Irish Settlement in Virginia. Augusta County Records" ha many references to the Vaught family, under the names Bellfaugh Vaut, Faught, Faut, Vaught, Vought, Belfaut, Vogt, Vault, Naugh Vot, etc. Some of these references follow.

(1) Vol 3. p 94, (Will Book 3, P 448)--- 10 Sep 1761 Jo Bellfaught estate sold at vendue to, among others, Catri Faught, Andrew Faught, and Caspar Faught. In the settlement the estate the balance due the legatees (heirs) was divided equally between Andrew, Casper, and the wife of Christian Clements. Recorded 21 May 1766.

(2) Vol 3. p 64 (Will Book 3, P 50)-- 9 Oct 1759 John Paul Faught's will mentions his wife Mary Katrine, and three children; Katrine Clements (Cleman), Andrew, and Casper Faught.

(3) Vol 3. p 393 (Deed Book 11, P 107)-- 12 Feb 1763 Andrew Balfaut and Elizabeth his wife to Christian Clemans for 5 pounds; 266 acres, part of 400 acres patented to John Balfaut 20 Feb 1745. Teste: George Faut.

(4) Vol 3. p 393 (Deed Book 11, P 109)-- 15 Feb 1763 Same to Gasper Balfaut his brother for 2 pounds; 67 acres, part of 400 acres patented to John Balfaut 20 Feb 1745 on a small branch of the Shanando. Delivered to Casper Foght, April 1779.

(5) Vol 1. p 300 (Feb 1749 County Court Judgements, Augusta Co., VA)--- John Paul Vaught, orator, vs David Logan, defendant. Chancery. Writ dated 22 Aug 1748. In 1744 orator purchased 400 acres of David Logan on North River near John Bumgardner. The land was afterward surveyed for Andrew Vaught.

(6) Vol 2. p 379 (Land Entry Book 1.)-- 1749-50 John Faught, Christian Clayman's (Clemen's) survey on South River.

(7) Vol 1. p 309 (County Court Judgements at Rules) The suit of John Paul Vaught and his wife Catherine, Casper Vaught and his wife Elizabeth vs Robert Hooks, 24 Mar 1750.

(8) Vol 3. p 29 (Will Book 1 p 502)-- 16 May 1753 Paul Long's bond as appointed guardian to Conrad and Jacob Cood, Orphans of Casper Vaught, deceased, with surety, John Taylor.

(9) Vol 2. p 444 (Land Entry Book 1.)-- 1756 Processioned by Robert Hook and Pat Frazier, viz. among others Gasper Vaught for John Paul Vaught.

Items (3), (4), (5), and (6) above, refer to areas that are currently in Rockingham Co., VA.

Catherine Vaught, d/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina, was b about 1715 in Germany. She married Christian Clements (Clemens, Clemon, Clayman, etc.) about 1735 in VA. (See items (1), (2), and (6) above) Catherine's will was dated 1783 and was proved 1793. Christian's will was dated 1780 and was proved 1783. Ch were Gaspar, John, Catherine, who married Joseph? Trout, Elizabeth, who married Henry Liner, and perhaps a

Margaret who married Jacob Barger.

Maria Vaught, d/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina, was b about 1717 in Germany. She apparently had no children, as none are mentioned in her father's will. She is not mentioned either. Nothing more is known of Maria.

Andrew Vaught, s/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina, was b about 1721 in Karlsbad, Germany. His name was possibly Johan(nes) Andreas Paulus Vogt. The name appears occasionally as John Andrew. The Paul is from the 'Bellfaut' references. These are not just John Bellfaut, for John Paul Faut, but also Gaspar Bellfaut, for Gaspar Paul Faut, and Andrew Bellfaut, for Andrew Paul Faut?

Andrew m Elizabeth ca 1743, when he was about 22 years old. Item (3) above indicates that Andrew's wife was an Elizabeth.

Andrew Vaught was assignee of John Parkes for 600 acres on the head of Reed Creek. This tract of land was surveyed under the Loyal Company in 1753 and 1754. Andrew was to pay the interest starting 17 Nov 1762.

Andrew sold land to his brother Gaspar in May 1762, and again in Feb 1763. This would have been land in the Peaked Mountain area. Before 1772, Andrew and his family moved to Montgomery Co., now Wy. Co., VA.

A tax list of 1787 in Wy. Co., VA lists both Andrew Vaught and Andrew Vaught Jr. Andrew was still alive in 1787. In 1786 George Vaught granted 572 acres at headwaters of Cripple Creek, to Henry Vaught and to Christley Vaught for 20 pounds. On the same day Henry granted 130 acres of his share to Christley Vaught for 10 pounds. In 1788, the old survey above, 1753-54 was assigned to Gaspar Vaught, viz, 200 acres to Adam Dutton and 200 acres to Philip Dutton. In 1790 (Survey Book D p 61 item 463) Gaspar Vaught bought 600 acres in the name of Andrew Vaught on Reed Creek, Wy. Co., VA. The old survey (1753-4) apparently was being settled.

The above land maneuvers tend to paint a picture of estate settlement, and it is possible that Andrew Vaught Sr. died c. 1787-1788 in Wy. Co., VA.

Andrew's children are not known at this time. However, item (3) above has as teste a George Faut. Also, a fracktur found in the Neikirk-Vaught family bible states that the father of the baby Andrew is George Vaught, and that the grandfather is Andrew. This is certainly evidence that Andrew had a son George. During the 1770's in Wy. Co., VA, names of other Vaughts begin to appear in the records, starting with John Vaught in 1772. These are probably sons of Andrew Vaught Sr. who are reaching adulthood.

There is no evidence that Gaspar Vaught and his family ever got as far south as Wy. Co. So John, David, George, Gaspar, Christley, Andrew Jr., and Henry all may have been sons of Andrew.

Gaspar Vaught, s/o John Paul Vaught and his wife Maria Catherina was b about 1725 in Germany. His name was possibly Johan(nes) Gaspar Paulus Vogt.

Gaspar was only age 19 when his father and brother went to Williamsburg to give their oath. Since it was necessary to be age 21 to give oath, he did not join them.

Gaspar married about 1745-50, when he was about age 20-25. Item (7) above yields the name Elizabeth as Gaspar Paul's wife. She is Elizabeth Wilkiss. The document "Virginia Vital Records From Virginia Magazine of History and Biography, the William and Mary College Quarterly and Tyler's Quarterly", indexed by Judith McGhan, has in a baptismal record a John Casper Vogt b 5 Dec 1763. The parents were John Casper Vogt and his wife Elizabeth nee Wilkiss. Sponsors were Jacob Arkebrecht, Peter Mueller, and Catherine Margret Vogt. This baptismal record was from a church near Hermann's Mill in the province of Peaked Mountain, VA. Also there was a daughter, Sarah, b 28 Nov 1761 to John Casper Vogt and his wife Elizabeth. Catherine Margret may have been the widow of John Paul Vaught or a daughter of Andrew. Evidence has been located in various records to indicate that probable sons of Gaspar are Adam and Paul. Possible sons are Joseph, Martin and Leonard.

Gaspar Vaught and his wife Elizabeth sold 270 acres of land in Rockingham Co., VA 12 Sep 1778 to Samuel Bear for 370 pounds VA money. This was land patented to Gaspar in 1768. On 10 Jun 1779 for 300 pounds VA money, Gaspar sold 67 acres to Michael Tanner. (See Chalkley item 4 above) This was part of the 400 acres deeded to John Paul Vaught by patent 20 Feb 1745, and was bounded by land owned by Christian Clemans and a Mr. Grubb.

The Rockingham Co. land sales had to be signed by Gaspar's wife Elizabeth. Men from the county seat went to her home to get her signature as she was not well enough to travel. This could indicate that she died before Gaspar moved to the headwaters of the James River.

In Botetourt Co., the next county south of Rockingham Co., on the headwaters of the James River, Gaspar was taxed 1780-1787. Gaspar Jr. was only 17 when the move was made to Botetourt Co., VA. Deeds for land on the Greenbrier River are recorded in Botetourt Co. In Dec 1796, a Gaspar Faut d in Greenbrier Co. Greenbrier was formed from Botetourt Co. and Montgomery Co. in 1778. The inventory of the estate was recorded in Jan 1797. The inventory was very small, not even large enough to indicate a wife or children, and too small for references of any settlement to be recorded. If this was Gaspar Vaught Senior the esta would have been much larger. Therefore, this Gaspar was probab "John Casper Vogt Jr." On 27 Sep 1797 a Rachel Vaught m Jac Johnston in Greenbrier Co. She may have been Gaspar Junior widow or a sister.

There was another Gaspar Vaught, who d before 1753. See item (above. This is not the s/o John Paul Vaught as indicated by t items (1), (2), (4), and (9) above. Items (1) and (4) abo indicate that Gaspar, s/o John Paul, was not only alive in 17 but still alive in 1779. Tax records 1780-1787 indicate th Gaspar may have d after 1787.

It is thought by some that the Gaspar Vaught in Pu. Co., KY 1810, who d there about 1832, was the s/o John Paul Vaught. this is so then he was 107 years old when he died. This possible but not likely. The Pu. Co. KY census of 1830 sho that the Kentucky Gaspar was b 1740-50. He would have been a 80-90 when he d, which is much more believable. The Kentuc Gaspar's wife was also named Elizabeth. Andrews and Gaspars, a with wives named Elizabeth, leads to much confusion. However, the Gaspar who d prior to 1753, and the Gaspar (s/o John Pa Vaught) who d after 1786, and the Gaspar who d in Kentucky c 1832, and the Gaspar b 1763 who died in Greenbrier Co., wou seem to be four different Gaspar Vaughts. A 1790 Wy. Co. petition to make changes in the county, is signed by a Gaspa Vaught and a Gaspar Vaught, Junior. This might indicate fath and son, but could also simply mean an older Gaspar and a young Gaspar. In 1790 only 2 of the 4 Gaspars are living, the Gaspa s/o Andrew and the Gaspar s/o Gaspar, i.e. first cousins. that time Montgomery Co. extended up to Greenbrier Co. believe that the so-called Wythe Co. petition included so petitioners from Montgomery Co., hence Gaspar Faught Jr.

In 1774, a Gaspar Vaught had 300 acres on the New River. the 1780's, a Gaspar Vaught had land on the North Fork of th Holston River, VA. Christley also had land there. In 1782, Gaspar Vaught is on the Montgomery Co. VA, tax list. This wou have been the Gaspar who went to KY and who was a s/o Andrew.

In 1782, a Gaspar Vaught was in Captain Baird's Company This was probably the Gaspar b in 1763 who was a s/o Gaspa Senior.

SECTION 2. JOHN PAUL VAUGHT--- SECOND GENERATION

No probate has been found for Andrew Vaught or Gaspar Vaught. Firm proof stating their children is therefore non-existent. As compilers of Vaught information we list here who we think are children of Andrew and Gaspar. We do this based on the facts that we know at the time of this publishing. We must all be aware that any facts turning up in the future could make changes necessary.

The 1781 list of Capt Love's Company has five brothers, sons of Andrew. All were older than 16. Andrew Jr. and Henry were under 16 and so are not in the Captain Love's Company. Southern Poll Tax lists had all men age 16 and over. The 1782 list above therefore has men born before 1766. Andrew, with six sons is on the list. A sixth son of Andrew, Henry, has appeared. The George on the 1782 list appears to have no taxable property and may be the George son of Andrew who owned a mill. The mill might have been tax exempt because of the grain going to the war effort, hence the note in the tax book "no taxable property". The George who m Anna King and the George who m Barbara Meece are too young for the 1782 tax list. On the 1787 list another son of Andrew appears, Andrew Jr. Andrew Sr. is on this list, so is still alive in 1787. Both Andrews are missing from the 1789 list. Andrew Sr. has probably died. Andrew Jr. went to NC. David is gone. On 18 Apr 1779, Michael Henninger claimed in Court that a group of 4000 men under John Griffith had shown Loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaught and "the old Vaught that owned the mill". George Vaught was only about 40 years old at that time. Today we would not consider that old. He was probably the eldest Vaught of his generation, and therefore was called "the old Vaught". At the trial of these men, John and David were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught Sr. of Cripple Creek was included in the group with Loyalist sympathies, by the testimony of Peter Kinder. Apparently these Germans took their oath to the King seriously. John and David Vaught later were fined 1000 pounds VA money each for their Loyalist beliefs. We are assuming that rather than pay this fine they left the county, David being gone by 1789 and John by 1790. From 1793 -1809 only Gaspar, Henry, Christley, and George are in the records in Wy. Co. John moved to Washington Co., VA and then on to TN. David went to TN. He trekked through part of TN with the Militia during the Indian Wars. Henry, Christley, and George are neighbors in Wy. Co., but Gaspar lives further away. Is this an indication that Henry could be a brother rather than a son of Gaspar? In the 1810 census, Gaspar has gone. Gaspar went to KY where he d about 1832. Two Christys are on the 1810 C list. In 1810 Christley is over 45. Christley d in 1829. George who m Christianna Phillippi is in the 1810 list. David in the 1782 list is too old to be the David in the 1810 list. David in the 1810 C is age 26-45. The 1810 David is the David s/o George, who m in 1803. Henry in 1810 is over 45, and was probably the Henry b by 1766 who had as a second wife Esther Baugh. John in 1810 is age 26-45 and is probably the John who m Elizabeth Slemp in 1809. The John in 1782 is older. Jacob, age 16-26 is the s/o Henry. Jacob m Molly Cormany in 1810. Christy, age 16-26 in 1810, is the s/o Christley and Elizabeth. George, age 16-26 in 1810, is the right age to be the George who m Barbara Meece, in 1804. George who m Barbara Mees could be the s/o Christley and Betsey Vaught. George who m Anna King drowned when his boat sank ca 1820 so he cannot be the George s/o Christley named in Christley's will in 1828.

These may have been children of Andrew:

George Vaught	b ca 1745
John Vaught	b ca 1747
Gaspar Vaught	b ca 1749
Christley Vaught	b ca 1754
David Vaught	b ca 1757
Andrew Vaught Jr.	b ca 1761
Henry Vaught	b ca 1766

These may have been children of Gaspar:

Joseph	b ca 1751
Martin	b ca 1755
Paul	b ca 1757
Adam	b ca 1759
Sarah	b 28 Nov 1761
Gaspar Jr.	b 5 Sep 1763
Leonard	b ca 1765
Rachel	b ca 1770

George Vaught is a known son of Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. Item (3) above lists George as teste. If he had to be 18 to be teste, then he was b by 1745. His wife was Christiana Phillippi, d/o John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi. Christiana was b 12 Dec 1763 in Pa. (see "The Phillippi Family Tree" by Royer and Strahley. Also "Rosenbaums of S.W. Virginia" by Clifford Canfield.) George and Christiana may have m about 1781. Christiana's age is consistent with a wife of third generation Vaughts, rather than second generation Vaughts. The fractur (birth certificate) for Andrew referred to previously, states that the child Andrew is the s/o George and Christiana (Phillippi) Vaught, and is the grandson of Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. There is a considerable age difference between George and Christiana.

During the 1774 Shawnee Indian War, George spent 41 days in Smith's Company.

In 1775, George settled on Cripple Creek, Wy. Co., VA. George was mustered out of the Continental Army because he had a flour mill. Flour was needed and it was felt that he could serve best at home. However, in 1781, he was in Capt. Love's Co.

The will of George Vaught was dated 13 Mar 1825 and proved 11 Aug 1835. "Wife Christiana completely and fully to possess all my property. After her death sons David, John, Andrew, George, Peter, and Charles, and dau. Mary to be paid one dollar each, they having been already provided for. My son Joseph $30.00, my sons Abraham and Jefferson to have all my land and my mill with the exception of one acre and a saw mill that I have given to my two sons Charles and Joseph. Sons Abraham and Jefferson to pay to my two daughters Elizabeth and Christiana $280.00." (see p 244 Kirkwood, in the section recording "A Partial History of the Vaught Family" by Judge Edgar S. Vaught.)

John Vaught was probably a s/o Andrew Vaught. He may have been b ca 1744-1748. His wife was Esther. John was taxed in Carter Co., TN by 1796. John's will, dated 1806 Carter Co., TN, names a son Joseph and 2 daughters, Elizabeth Heaton and Barbara Howard. John had land on the North Fork of the Holston River in 1789. He was on the 1772 list of Boutetort tithables. The 1772 listing is the first appearance of any of Andrew's children in the records in southern VA. He had land on the South Fork of the Holston River 1775-1787. (Survey Book D, items 488, 491) He was on the 1789 Montgomery Co., Va. list of tithables. John was in Capt. Love's Co. in 1781.

Gaspar Vaught appears to be a s/o Andrew Vaught. The Wy. Co. Gaspar was b 1740-1750. He is also in records as Jasper or Casper. The 1830 Pu. Co., KY C gives his age as 80-90. His wife was Elizabeth. He lived on the headwaters of Cripple Creek in Wy. Co., VA. He was the first Vaught to move to Pu. Co., KY. He sold the Cripple Creek property around 1806 and bought land on both sides of Pitman Creek, Pu. Co., KY in 1809, from Robertson Burge for $1100. Gaspar`s wife, Elizabeth, d before 1830 in KY. Gaspar d about 1832 in KY.

His known ch are John Vaught, Sarah Vaught, Christine Vaught who m John Meece 7 Oct 1811, Mary Vaught who m Edmund Newby 9 Oct 1811, and twins, Christian Vaught b 6 Apr 1782 and Elizabeth Vaught b 8 Apr 1782. Are the names of the twins an indication that the Wy. Co. Gaspar and Christley are brothers? The Wy. Co. Gaspar might name twins after a brother and his wife more readily than after a cousin and his wife.

Christley Vaught is believed to be a s/o Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. We choose to call him Christley even though he is in the records as Christian, Christly, Christy, Chris, etc. His son is called Christopher as well as the other variations. Christley was b ca 1750-55. He m Elizabeth Phillippi, d/o John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi. Elizabeth is in the records as Betsy, Betty, etc. Elizabeth was b 15 Nov 1764 in Pa. She was a younger sister of the Christiana Phillippi who m George Vaught. George may have been an older brother of Christley and could have been as much as 9-13 years older. Christley and Elizabeth m about 1780-1781.

In 1774, Christley spent 68 days in Capt. Doak's Co. during the Shawnee Indian War. He must have been at least age 16 and b therefore before 1758. He was in Capt. Love's Co. 5 Apr 1781. In 1782, he was on the Montgomery Co., VA tax list. In 1789, he had land on the North Fork of the Holston River, Wy. Co., VA.

The will of Christley was dated 17 Mar 1828 Wy. Co., VA. and proved 9 Aug 1830, 'Being considerably advanced in years'. 'Wife Elizabeth Vaught, one third of my estate; son George Vaught; dau. Barbara, who m Henry Copenhaver; dau. who m George West (by name) Elizabeth; dau. Christena Vaught who m John Burkhart; my dau. Rosanna Vaught who m Adam Shaver; my son Christy Vaught; son Henry Vaught; dau. Sally who m Francis Coley; dau. Polly who m John (should be George) Burkhart; dau. Leah, wife of Jacob Dutton'; 'dau. David Vaught was b ca 1755-57, and may be another s/o Andrew Vaught. David was in the Fincastle Co. Indian War with the Shawnees, 1774. He spent 87 days in Capt. John Floyd's Co. He was in Capt. Love's Co. 5 Apr 1781. David was on the 1782 tax list of Montgomery Co. He had land on Reed Creek. (Survey Book D, item 470) David bought land on the South Fork of the Holston in Aug 1779.

Andrew Vaught was probably the s/o Andrew Vaught and his wife Elizabeth. Andrew Jr. was b ca 1761-63 in VA. He m Elizabeth. He lived near Cripple Creek, Wy. Co., VA. He went to N. Carolina after 1787. He had a son, Henry Vaught, b 26 Feb 1783, and a daughter Mary Vaught, b 21 Aug 1781. Both ch were b in Wy. Co., VA. There were no doubt other children.

Henry Vaught, s/o Andrew and Elizabeth Vaught, was born ca 1765-68. The 1830 C KY gives his age as 50-60 or b 1770-80. However, the 1810 C Wy. Co., VA says that he is over 45 so was b before 1765. He is on the 1782 tax list so is at least 16 in 1782 or b before 1766. Therefore the 1830 C Pu. Co., KY either has him checked in the wrong age bracket or the 1830 C Henry is someone else. Henry's oldest ch, Jacob, was b ca 1789. If Henry was age 18 when he m then he was b by 1770 or before. The Vaught family which followed Gaspar to KY from VA was Henry's. This move was in the fall of 1811. Chester Vaught, after listening to tales of Andrew J. Vaught, s/o John and Elizabeth (Nickles) Vaught, was named in his fathers will. He is not in the 1850 C or 1860 C. If he was b after 1860 his mother was over 45. We think that the scribe who wrote John's will confused "Jackson" with "Andrew Jackson". John Jackson is in the records but not in the will. We think John Jackson and Andrew Jackson are the same person.

TAX LIST OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY, VIRGINIA

PREFACE

The Montgomery County tax lists filed in the Virginia State Library, Richmond, Virginia consist of two books. One is a record of land owners, the other is a personal property tax list which itemizes the number of tithables, slaves, horses and cattle owned by each person. Approximately 1,600 names on these two lists were combined and arranged alphabetically.

According to an act passed in 1781, the list of land owners was to be available to the Clerk of the County on or before June 1, with a copy for the auditor of public accounts by August 1, and one for the sheriff or collector of public taxes before the 10th of June. The County justice for each precinct was required to take the list of personal property by April 10th if not a Sunday and then on the next day to show the number of free males over 21 (tithables), slaves except ones exempt by age and infirmity, horses, mares, colts, mules and cattle. The list was to be in the hands of the Clerk of the County by June 1st. (Hening's Statutes, Volume 10, XL, pages 501,504)

The spelling used in the original documents is printed in this volume. If there is a spelling discrepancy between the two lists, alternate spelling is noted in parentheses or footnotes.

Several names were repeated in the land tax record and it is difficult to determine if the individual owned more than one tract of land, or if there were two persons by the same name. To some extent this is resolved when the personal property lists include the same number of persons with the same name as the land records. Further information of course can be obtained from surveys, grants and deeds of Montgomery County.

Occasionally, when the terms Junior and Senior are used on one list, they may be ommitted on the second. This was noted in compiling this list. If three persons of the same name owned personal property and only two of that name owned land, an arbitrary assignment was made, and noted in the footnote. In several instances names appeared in the land records, but no fees were given, suggesting a question of land ownership.

Montgomery County, Virginia, in 1782 included territory now covered by several counties in West Virginia, as well as Giles, Bland, Pulaski, Floyd, Carroll, Grayson, Wythe and parts of Smyth and Tazewell in Virginia. For Montgomery County boundaries of 1777 and alterations later see Hening's Statutes, Volume 9, pages 257-261; 330, 331.

I wish to thank the Virginia State Library for allowing me to use and publish these records.

Focht

Focht-Vogt

THE family name of Focht was originally spelled Vogt, the latter signifying an official position, and is of anicent Teutonic origin. The family patronymic of Vogt is numerously found in the various municipalities and provinces of the Kingdom of Saxony, Germany, where this family patronymic was variously spelled Voigt and Voit, and also Vod and Fouth. These forms of spelling all carried with them the meaning of Security, "Protector," and is taken from the old Langobard law, according to which any individual occupying a position as Vogt was regarded as being of sovereign importance; for example a Land-Vogt, signified an office in the capacity of administrator or director of land interests. A Stadt-Vogt was an official position comparing with a city judge; a Schirm-Vogt, signified a patron of a monastery. In ancient times the term of Vogt gave the person holding the position of Vogt the distinguishment of the title of a count. The authority giving the above facts refers to Heinrich II., who called himself Vogt of Weyda, and his descendants bore the entailed title of Vogt von Weyda, Plauen and Grätz. This title still prevails to the present day, and is known as Vogt-Land, meaning the possession of a tract of land in any of the municipalities or provinces of the Kingdom of Saxony, Germany. That this family patronymic is an ancient one is also declared by Johann Siebmacher, the celebrated German heraldist, who describes the Vogt family coat-of-arms, with a copper plate illustration, in his work published in the city of Nuremberg, Kingdom of Bavaria, Germany, in which he describes the same as follows:

Arms—Quarterly, 1 and 4, sable a lion rampant or; 2 and 3, per fesse azure and or, a grenade proper fired gules.

Crest—The lion of the arms turned to the sinister.

Mantle—Gules, ermine and or.

Vogt, bürgerl. Geschlecht, aus Sachsen stammend. W.: Geviertet. In 1. und 4. ein g. Löwe in II; 2. und 3. von B. und G. getheilt, mit einer r. brennenden Granate. K.: Der g. Löwe, D.: g.

Another competent authority states that the early ancestors of the Vogt family were living in the region which now comprises Saxe-Weimar as early as the fourteenth century, and also refers to Christoph Vogt, who was a bourgomeister in the city of Zittau in 1512. Another representative of this family patronymic, Daniel Vogt, was a doctor of medicine, and for a number of years held the office of superintendent at Jessen, in the province of Saxony, from 1668 to 1675. We also find reference to Michael Christoph Vogt, who was a pastor, and held an official position with the court. His son, Franz Ernst Vogt, was born in the town of Bückeburg, in the principality of Schaumburg-Lippe, July 4, 1680. In 1696 he entered the high school at Rinteln, and in 1699 he is referred to as having gone to Olden-berg, where he held a position as governor to the young nobleman, Johann Heinrich von Engels. In 1700, Franz Ernst Vogt entered the army as an auditeur (auditor) under Colonel von Wedel. In 1703 he held the official position of Fiscal to the Count Friedrich Christian of Schaumberg-Lippe, and in 1705 he was one of the judiciary for the town of Bückeburg. The same authority refers to another representative of this family patronymic, namely Gabriel Vogt, who in 1668 served as Chur-Sächsicher Hof and Berg Rath. Still another representative of this family patronymic is mentioned as Georg Vogt, who was a celebrated organ builder in his day, and is accredited with having built the noted organ in the church at Mark-Ranstadt.

(I) The first representative of this branch of the Vogt (Focht) family which furnishes the caption of this review, was Daniel Vogt. Family tradition states that he was born in the town of Eisenach, a city of Central Germany, in the Grand Duchy of Saxe-Weimar, and the capital of the principality of Eisenach, situated on the River Hörsel, at the foot of Wartburg Mountain, midway between the cities of Leipzig and Cassel. Eisenach is the principal town in the Thuringian Forest District, and has many good public edifices, including a ducal residence, mint, town hall, hospitals, gymnasiums, forest and various other schools, manufacturies of cotton goods, soap, white lead, dye works and tanneries. Not far distant from this historic and enterprising town is situated the castle of Wartburg, which was once the residence of the Landgraves of Thuringia. It was in this historic castle that Martin Luther passed ten months of durance from May 4th, 1521, to March 6th, 1522, while under friendly arrest of the Elector of Saxony. Numerous legends associated with the period of the great reformer's career while he was engaged at his work in the Wartburg castle, have become matters of history.

It was in this ancient and historic city that Daniel Vogt first saw the light of day, and he was there educated in the Volks-schule. He was confirmed in the Lutheran church at the age of fourteen, and upon taking up the practical duties of life became apprenticed to learn the carpenter trade. Soon after acquiring a practical knowledge of the various details and technique of carpenter work, he pursued his trade throughout the active years of his life's career in his native city where he died in 1836.

Daniel Vogt had twice married. By his first union, he had born to him two children, as follows:

1. Karl, who was born at the family home in the city of Eisenach, where he was educated in the Volks-schule, and was confirmed in the Lutheran church. Soon after attaining to years of man's estate, he emigrated to the United States, and upon his arrival here he settled in the city of Reading, Berks county, Pennsylvania, with his wife, whom he had married in the Fatherland, and came with him across the Atlantic Ocean. Karl Vogt had learned the carpenter trade in his native land, and after settling in Reading he was there for many years employed at his trade with the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Company, and spent the remaining years of his life in his adopted city.
2. A daughter, who spent her life's career in her native city of Eisenach, in the principality of Eisenach, Germany.

Daniel Vogt married (secondly) Hannah Dorothea Hebig. She was born in the city of Eisenach, December 11, 1792. Her parents had also resided in Eisenach, where they spent the whole of their life's career. Doro-zation procedure. The residence requirement was fixed at seven years prior to application. Upon taking a prescribed oath before the chief judge or any other judge of the colony, the foreign-born Protestant was, with a few limitations, granted the same rights which every natural-born subject of Great Britain enjoyed. Numerous adult members of the Robinson River colony were naturalized at Orange County court in January and February 1742/43. The county clerks usually failed to specify the place of origin other than with the general remark "born in Germany." [19]

Some Germans went to the colonial capital for the ceremony. The clerk of the General Court recorded detailed information on each case and by doing so gave some indication of the places in German-speaking lands where the immigrants came from. Not all of the place names can be identified although the clerks of the court in Williamsburg struggled valiantly with the phonetic reproductions of German geographic names. Opequon settler Peter Stephan "of Hidelburgh" (Heidelberg) "on the River Mayne, in the Empire of Germany, who has resided for the space of seven years or more in that part of Orange County designed to be called Frederick," in October 1743 became a royal subject. A year later, "John Bum Gardner" (no doubt Hans Baumgartner), "native of Risenbach," took his oath. With him John Paul Vogt of Frankfurt and Andrew Vogt of "Carlsbad in Germany" became subjects. In April 1745 the General Court dispensed with the requirements for swearing the oath and submitting proof of having received the holy sacrament within three months prior to their appearance for Philip Lung of Saarbrücken and Nicholas Lung, "a native of Wigsden," both Mennonites from Massanutten. They were admitted to naturalization upon simple "affirmation" as "Quakers." At the same court session, Zachariah Blankenbecker and John Thomas, both natives of "Nienberg in the Bishoprick of Spire," Henry Ahler "of Wirtenberg," and John Zimmerman, "a native of Saltzfeld," were sworn in as citizens. In October 1745 German applicants kept the court at the Capitol busy again. On one day alone, Jacob Mansboil, Lawrence Grays, Thomas Weeland, Matthew Gesler, Conrad Broil, Christopher Uhl, and Martin Walk, all from the "Dukedom of Wirtemberg" and now neighbors on Robinson River, took their oath. During the following days, Tobias and John Wilhoid from the Electorate of Mainz were naturalized, as well as Jacob Chrisman on the Opequon, born in Worms, and William Rickley, registered as "a native of the Canton of Berne in Swisserland." [20]

Although it was only natural that eastern Virginians endeavored to play the leading role in governing the new areas, a few Germans were included among the early appointees once the counties of Frederick company who were almost certainly from the same part of the Vall were Abraham Miller, Robert McClanihan, Henry Funk, Hen Chrisman, Philip Long, and William Slack. In the census of 17 Abraham Keller, Robert McClanihan, Henry Funk, and Philip Lo are listed as heads of families in Shenandoah County.

In January, 1926, the author spent several days at Vincenn locating the fort which Clark and Bowman captured 147 years befo and in studying the surroundings. The Wabash River here is 2 yards wide. At this time it was flush and covered with floating i much as it must have been in February, 1779, when the you Virginians had to cross it. The fort stood on the river bank, ne the foot of Church Street, close by the old church and the Catho graveyard. The home of "Alice of Old Vincennes" is near by; a the spot where the women of Vincennes fed Clark's starving m Up the river, under the bank at the foot of Busseron Street, wh Abraham Lincoln ferried the stream in 1830, moving to Illin Major Joseph Bowman's company of Shenandoah Valley men t their position during the night of February 23, 1779, in the att on the fort. At this spot they were 300 yards from the palisades, under cover of the banks and the darkness they could move d within easy rifle range.

The grave of the gallant young Major Joseph Bowman is do less somewhere near the site of the old fort, but it is unknown unmarked. His older brother, Col. John Bowman, is buried Mercer County, Ky.; and Col. Abraham, who located in Kentu about the end of the Revolution, lived near Lexington and is proba buried there. Captain Isaac died at the old home on Cedar C and there is buried. He owned much land in Kentucky and Indi as well as a ferry across the Ohio at Louisville, as his wil Woodstock doth plainly show. Col. John Bowman had about 10 acres in Mercer County, Ky.

Mr. A. Smith Bowman of Indianapolis, a great-grandson of Abraham Bowman, has the huge bedstead in which General Lafay slept in 1824, when he was entertained at Lexington, Ky., by hi friend and companion in arms, Col. Abraham Bowman. The orig list of Clark's soldiers in the Illinois campaign is said to be at the court house in Jeffersonville, Indiana.

and Charles Snider each reported 13 whites in family. Fourteen heads of families reported twelve each in household; forty-four reported eleven each. Ten was also a popular number for a family in those days, for no less than 75 family heads each reported that number. Those reporting from six to nine in family are too numerous to count at this time.

So much for the census of Shenandoah County taken in the year 1783. We shall now give more particular attention to the enumeration of 1785.

In 1783 the whole county was canvassed by one man, Alexander Hite; at any rate, the whole long list of names is credited to him; and at that time Shenandoah County was almost twice its present size; but in 1785 sixteen different men, including Alexander Hite, made the numeration, and the list taken by each one is preserved under his name. By this lucky circumstance it is possible to locate each group geographically with more or less certainty. Below, each of these sixteen lists is presented, together with such explanatory notes and observations as are deemed justified or helpful. Instead of slaves in 1785, dwellings and other buildings were enumerated.

1. List of Abraham Keller

Mr. Keller, according to information given by Mr. P. S. Rhode, lived on the river at or near Front Royal. This conclusion is strengthened by the fact that a number of the family names given in Keller's list have long been familiar in the Front Royal region.

Netherton's list seems to beat all for Johns—26 per cent!

14. List of John Hutchirson

Hutchirson's list seems to have been taken also in that part of the county that is now upper Warren. Probably Hutchirson and Netherton covered that section in which are now found the towns and villages of Overall, Browntown, Bentonville, Limeton, Karo, Glen Echo, and Gooney Manor.

It will be observed that the families listed by Netherton and Hutchirson were nearly all provided with dwelling houses, but very few of them seem to have had out-buildings. However, it is probable that the several enumerators had different standards, some counting small structures that others made no note of at all.

sions at the county seat not only tried cases of misdemeanor and felony but also looked after the financial and industrial interests of the county, probated wills, provided for the appraisement and settlement of estates, appointed guardians, "bound out" orphans, and admitted deeds to record.

The records of the Adjutant General's Office, War Department, Washington, D. C., show that Jacob Strickler, a native of Shenandoah, was enlisted December 12 or 21, 1812, by Lt. Williamson, for the war, and served as a private in Captain Silas's company, 24th Infantry, War of 1812. He was discharged April 7, 1815, at Mobile, Ala.

In 1814 Isaac Strickler made his will, and therein stated that it was reported that his son Jacob had been killed in Canada; but left property in trust for him should he return. In 1817 this will was probated without change. Jacob may have lingered in the sunny South and have returned after his father's will was probated; or he may never have returned. It was a long way in those days from Mobile to Massanutten. A further search of the records may remove the uncertainty. This instance is indicative, however, of the wide range of territory over which at least one Shenandoah man served under arms in this war. No doubt there were many others with similar records.

Miss Mary C. Pittman, writing from The Plains, Fauquier County, Va., January 22, 1903, stated that Philip Pittman, father of John L. Pittman of Hawkinstown, served in the War of 1812 and also in the Confederate army. She was of the opinion that Gen. Peter Steenbergen also served in 1812. Peter Steenbergen was a son of William Steenbergen, Sr., of Mt. Airy.

Hon. Boutwell Dunlap of San Francisco has contributed the following roll of Captain Walter Hambaugh's company, 92d (97th?) Regiment of Virginia Militia, Shenandoah County, Va., of the period of 1812.

Vivian,
You can send me your source information on the VAUGHT line!
And send me a gedcom!

Also, do you have a copy of either of these books:

The Phillippi family tree by Clifford Canfield or
The Rosenbaums of S.W. Virginia by Clifford Canfield.

All my dead-ends are tough ones, And wouldn't even know what to ask you for help.

I don't have access to the records I need.

Research questions that I need are like:

I need the HUEY census for 1850/1860 Ohio. ✓ Indiana OH

Trying to locate the parents of John P. HUEY/HUGHEY b ca 1840,OH living in Pike co,ILL in 1880. wife mary FULCHER. JOhn may have had a sister/neice Melvina HUGHEY or Melvina SMITH b 1852,OH

I have nothing on him except him there in 1880. There is NO Pike Co,ILL records that can help me.
A dedicated researcher there spent hours on her own time trying to locate info on him.

We beleive he has a

Is there any estate records in Whyte Co,VA that name a son John BURKHART b 1785 sometimes spelled BURKETT. He is the husband of Christine VAUGHT ,d/o of Christley VAUGHT. Looking for the parents of John BURKHART.

Is there any estate/probate/land records for information on Aaron ALDERSON b 1767 Living in Astabula County, Ohio in 1850 probably died there prior to 1860. ALDERSON rarely spelled sometimes as ANDERSON. ✓ film for OH

Is there any info in SMYTH co,VA on CALDWELL that might lead me to the parents or siblings of Mahala NO
CALDWELL who md there in 1839 To Andrew THOMAS and lived in Wash Co,VA in 1850 and 1860. NO

Anyway January is long time away. I am sure you can fill your trip with more questions on your own tree to more than occupy your time.

Anyway, I'll get copies for you!

A PARTIAL HISTORY OF THE VAUGHT FAMILY

— by —

Edgar S. Vaught

Foreword

One is naturally interested in his ancestors. It is not difficult to know about one's grandfather, or even one's great-grandfather, but beyond that point, unless there are written records or documents of some character, the acquisition of definite information becomes almost impossible.

My desire to trace my own family ancestry is not actuated by the idea that the public would have any interest in such a research, but the members of my own family and their descendants would be interested, and it is for their benefit that I have made this research. It would be difficult for them to have reliable information on the subject unless those of us now living should collect and preserve such information as is available to us.

Edgar B. Vaughan

From early childhood I have learned from my oldest relatives that my father's ancestors came originally from Holland, or the Palatinate in Germany, or what was called the "Low Dutch," and my mother's ancestors came from England. The ancestors of both came to this country long before the Revolutionary War, and about 1710 to 1720. Records relating to their immigration are fragmentary and inaccurate.

Some years ago an article was published in the Washington Herald as follows:

> "The family spelling the name Vaught seems to be an offshoot of the family of Vought who traces descent back to some Simon Vought, who seems to have spelled the name Vogdt as frequently as Vought. Sometimes in early records the name is spelled Vocht.
> "This Simon Vought was a native of the Palatinate in Germany and was a member of a party of Lutherans headed by the Rev. Joshia Kockerthal who left Germany and went to England in 1708 in order to petition the English monarch, Queen Anne, to grant them a tract of land in the New World upon which to colonize. Queen Anne was no doubt favorably impressed by their appearance of thrift and industriousness. At any rate the grant was made and in 1708 the first load of these Palatinates came to this country. A second shipload of them came on the 'Lyon' in 1710. Gen. Robert Hunter, newly appointed Governor of New York, came on the same boat. The special tract granted by Queen Anne lay along the Hudson River near Newburgh, N. Y., but Vought was one of those who, having landed with the rest in New York City, preferred not to journey any further. He remained in that city for some time and later, 1711, removed to Western New Jersey, where he made his home either in Middlesex or Hunterdon County.
> "Simon and Christina Vought had the following children born in this country: Johannes Christoffle, Margareta, Johannes and Abraham. The eldest of these sons was known by his Anglicized name, John Christopher—usually, according to the German custom of the time, by the middle name. For this reason in many of the early records he is mentioned as Christopher. He married Cornelia Putnam, of the well-known New York Dutch family of that name. She was the widow of Ralph Traphagen at the time of her marriage with Vought. Christopher Vought was, for some reason, a loyalist in the Revolution. With his son John, who was born in 1759, he marched with Howe to Trenton, and after the surrender of Cornwallis he found it expedient to remove to Nova Scotia till the feeling against the loyalists had abated. His son returned after the death of the father, Christopher, and settled in Duansburgh, N. Y., on a tract of two thousand acres of land. Tradition has it that in Canada he received from the crown a large grant of land comprising almost all of the land on which Toronto is now built. With this land grant went an annuity of 356 crowns a year. Just why, under such royal favor, he chose to leave Canada and live in the United States it is hard to see. It is from some one of these early Voughts that most, if not all, of those who bear that name or the name spelled Vaught are descended."

My investigation has neither confirmed nor contradicted the substance of this article.

My personal interviews with my oldest relatives during my boyhood days disclosed that my direct ancestors came from Pennsylvania and settled in Augusta County, Virginia, and later removed to Montgomery County, Virginia.

My reliable information, however, begins with my great-great-grandfather Christley Vaught, who removed from Augusta County, Virginia, to Montgomery County, Virginia, many years prior to the Revolutionary War. His father apparently was either Casper Vaught or John Paul Vaught, Augusta County, residents there as early as 1750. His wife was named Elizabeth, but her maiden name is not disclosed. He had a large family of three sons and seven daughters.

Montgomery County originally was a large county and embraced a large section of southwestern Virginia. A number of counties were formed from this large county, among which were Wythe County and Smythe County. The date of the formation of these two counties was about 1789-90.

Christley's sons were George, my great grandfather, who settled on the headwaters of Cripple Creek, Wythe County; Christley, Jr., who settled south of White Rock Furnace in Smythe County, a few miles west of George; and Henry, who removed to Kentucky about the year 1830.

The daughters, Barbara, who married Henry Copenhaver; Elizabeth, who married George West; Christine, who married John Burket; Rosanna, who married Adam Shaver; Sally, who married Francis Coley; Polly, who married John Burket upon the death of his first wife; and Leah, who married Jacob Dutton. Apparently all lived in Wythe and Smythe Counties as the family names of Copenhaver, West, Burket, Shaver, Coley and Dutton are familiar names in those counties even to this day.

Christley Vaught lived to a ripe old age, as he died August 9, 1830. I have not attempted to trace the descendants of the families of the sons and daughters of Christley Vaught with the exception of George, who as stated was my great grandfather.

George Vaught apparently was the oldest child of Christley, and about 1775 settled on lands on Cripple Creek near what is now Cedar Springs, Virginia. He married Christiana Phillipi and they had twelve children. There was a constant emigration from Virginia about this time to western, northwestern and southern states. His sons were Andrew and John, both of whom moved to Kentucky about 1820; Charles, who reared a family in Wythe County; Abraham (my grandfather), who built a home on a portion of the lands settled by his father and about one fourth of a mile from his father's home; Joseph, who lived in the old home erected by his father and reared a family there; Peter, who reared a family in Wythe County; Jefferson, who reared a family in Smythe County; George, who died without issue; and David, who reared a family in Wythe County. His daughters were Mary, who married _____ Carson and removed to Kentucky with her husband; Elizabeth, who married _____ Nelson and with her husband removed to Indiana; and Christiana, who married _____ Horn and with him removed to Indiana. It will be noted above that two of George's sons and a daughter moved to Kentucky and two daughters with their husbands moved to Indiana.

From the oldest members of my family I learned much about the descendants of Charles, Joseph, Peter, Jefferson and David, and I remember many of them. They all lived within a radius of twenty-five miles from Cedar Springs. Many of these descendants reared families in these two counties and many removed later to other counties and other states. I particularly recall hearing my father and other of the elder relations discuss the families of my grandfather's brothers and sisters.

Charles' eldest son was George, whom I remember well, and from whom I received much of the information recorded here. In 1916 on a visit to Virginia, I had a long visit with him. He was more than ninety years of age but his mind was clear and his memory was almost as accurate as a written document. I also remember George's brother William, who was a railroad engineer and who died at Knoxville, Tennessee.

Peter Vaught, a brother of my grandfather Abraham Vaught, lived and reared a family of ten children in Wythe County. He was married to Mollie Wampler; the marriage license was dated September 11, 1810, as shown by the county records in Wytheville, Virginia. His family occupies a prominent chapter in the history of the Vaught family. His son Jefferson married Barbara Wynne in Wythe County, the marriage license bearing the date December 11, 1843. Soon after the marriage, he, with his wife and other Virginia families, moved to Crawford County, Illinois. He reared a family of eight children:

James Madison, who married and later removed to Bourbon County, Kansas, and died at Ft. Scott, Kansas, in 1924, and whose daughter, Mrs. Bertha Vaught Moore is living in Covington, Oklahoma; Peter Josiah, who lived, married and died in Lawrence County, Illinois; Nancy Jane, who married Alex Stewart and had no children; David Wynn, who married Mary Rider; Andrew Jackson, who married Mary Dora Allison. They lived on a farm in Lawrence County, Illinois, and reared five children—Rollie, a retired traveling salesman of Terre Haute, Indiana; Gifford, a minister of Kansas City, Kansas; James, deceased; Kelley, a physician of Detroit, Michigan; and Leslie M., a retired chief petty officer of the U. S. Navy and a veteran of World Wars I and II, whose present address is 150 West 190th Street, Bronx 63, New York City, N. Y. Elmira Frances, who married Henry Phillips. Hezekiah Martin, a physician, who lived in Lawrence County, Illinois. He married Elizabeth Parsons in 1877, who died in 1892. In 1895 he married Mary Redmand Arnold, who died at Sherman, Texas, in 1935. John Washington, who died unmarried in 1885. Hezekiah had a son Dr. P. T. Vaught, who now lives in Sherman, Texas. He also had a daughter Clara, who married Chas. D. Carter. She has a son, DeVere Vaught Carter, who lives in Dallas, Texas, and is now chief engineer for Magnolia Petroleum Company; a daughter Marion, who married Herbert L. Strang, an attorney, and who lives in Montrose, Colorado; and a daughter, Barbara Cornelia, unmarried, who is Dean of Women at Vincennes University, Vincennes, Indiana, and who resides with her mother at 710 Jefferson, Lawrenceville, Illinois.

Peter Vaught's youngest daughter Margaret (sister to Jefferson) married Madison Howell in 1854 and with her husband removed to Eastern Tennessee where they lived during the Civil War and thence to Kentucky, near Edmonton. They had nine children, four of whom are living: William Jefferson Howell, Rintha Jane Martin and Ellen Melinda Walker live in Edmonton, and Isaac Cullen Howell lives at Sumner, Okla. Rintha Jane Martin has a son, Joseph, of Edmonton, a practicing attorney, who has served in the Kentucky Legislature, as county judge, and as county attorney.

Peter Vaught's daughter Sallie married Andrew Fisher whom I remember well. Andrew Fisher was a very substantial citizen. He had a family of thirteen children. He died at the age of seventy-four. His wife, Sallie Vaught Fisher, died at the age of seventy-one. Two of the children died at birth. Mary Jane died at the age of twenty-two. Lucinda died at the age of thirteen. I have no record of Elvira except the date of her birth—1842. Lavina married Henry Neff and died within a year after her marriage, with no children. No record of Ann, except the date of her birth—1845. James Watson Fisher, the eldest son, was born in 1846, lived and reared a family on a farm adjoining my father's farm. John Ganaway Fisher, born 1848, and William Hicks Fisher, born 1849, were farmers and operated a grist mill and carding mill. Stephen Olin Fisher, born 1851, was my first public school teacher. He lived in the community and died at the age of eighty-eight on the farm where I was born. No record of Nancy Elizabeth, except the date of her birth—1853. Charles Crockett Fisher, the youngest son, born in 1855 and the only living child of Andrew Fisher, has had a distinguished career. He graduated with honors at Emory and Henry College, entered the Methodist ministry, was a college president, and has been recognized as a leader in church and education. He is now living a retired life with his interesting and faithful wife, in Bristol, Virginia, at the age of ninety-five.

Abraham Vaught, my grandfather, lived on a portion of the lands owned by his father George, and died in 1864. My father, Noah T., inherited the farm from his father. My brothers, sisters and I were born in this home that had stood for three generations.

I have prepared a diagram or "family tree," beginning with Christley Vaught and ending with the descendants of Noah T. Vaught. The diagram does not pretend to give the descendants after the fourth generation as above stated. This data may not be exactly correct but it is as nearly accurate as my memory and other available sources of information can make it. It is to be hoped that other members of the Vaught family may be sufficiently interested to make suggestions leading to a more complete record, as information is available to them. In other words this is intended to be a basis from which other members of the Vaught family can add such additional information as may be available.

In a vault in the clerk's office at Christiansburg, the original and present county seat of Montgomery County, Virginia, was found in August, 1937, a package of old papers, known as "Fincastle Papers," which contained the muster rolls of Revolutionary soldiers from Montgomery County, among which was one containing the list of Captain William Love's company as follows:

"Montgomery County
Capt. William Love's Company
April 5, 1781

William Love, Capt.	John Vaught, Private
James Crawford, Lt.	Christley Vaught, Private
Jarvis Smith, Lt.	David Vaught, Private
James White, Ensign	George Vaught, Private
George Ewing, Sergt.	Casper Vaught, Private"

It is believed that John, Christley and David were brothers and George Vaught was the son of Christley, as listed hereinbefore.

From this family of Vaughts in Augusta and Montgomery Counties came most, if not all, of the emigrants by that name to Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana and Illinois, and the descendants from those emigrants may be able to trace their lineage back to those pioneers as listed herein.

One striking characteristic of the Vaught family, aside from the very large families, is found in the given names. The names Christley, George, Peter, David, John, Casper, Charles, Jefferson, Andrew, James and Christopher appear in almost every generation. In the last few generations changes in the given names are noticeable.

Another family of Vaughts landed in this country in South Carolina. I have a statement, undated, written by Anthony S. Vaught, which I am quoting in full:

> "My Grandfather was Ten Days old when he landed at Charleston, S. C. He fought under Gen. Francis Marion through the Revolutionary war. He came from Germany, and was the father of Ten children, Thomas, Peter my Father, William, Solomon, Josephis, the Daughters were, Sarah, Martha, Elizabeth, and Rebecca. 'No mention made of one of the children.' My Grandfather was born on the ocean, and died the night the stars fell. He was 83 years old, when he died. We were living at that time in what was called Horry Dist. Alsaints Parrish S. C. There is where my people have always lived."

From this family of Vaughts there were migrations to Florida and other southern states.

I have had letters in recent years from Vaughts all over the United States, and one from Australia.

Some years ago my wife and I made a trip through Glacier National Park. Our guide was an educated young man and was very kind to give us all the information about points of interest. As we passed a beautiful mountain peak he said: "That is Mt. Vaught." He could not tell why the mountain was so named. When we arrived at headquarters, however, I contacted the chief ranger in the park and asked him if he could tell me why the mountain was named Mt. Vaught. He was glad to give me the information. Casper Vaught was a civil engineer with the Great Northern Railway Company and the United States Government secured his services in laying out the park. Casper Vaught surveyed and fixed the boundaries of Glacier National Park, and became its first chief ranger. He lost his life in an accident while trying to save a bridge in a period of high waters. The authorities named the mountain for him, and his name appears on the mountain in the official map of the park. I contacted his widow by mail but she could not give me the Vaught connection.

In the history of the Vaught family, however, the name Casper is as significant almost as the name Vaught. I feel sure that his ancestry is traceable to the Virginia family.

In my investigation I have found that the names Vaught, Vought, Voght, Vogt, Faught, and other similar names are in reality traceable to the same source, as is disclosed by the Pennsylvania records.

It is shown in these very early records that the same given names are used as in later generations.

In the public records of Pennsylvania and Virginia, the names Vaught, Faught, Vault, Vogt, are often used interchangeably, even as to members of the same family, which may be due to inefficient scriveners or clerks. In other instances information which had been handed down from one generation to another orally could have been misunderstood, or misspelled, resulting in the many apparent changes in the family name.

In accumulating this information I have had valuable assistance from Mrs. Rebecca Johnston of the Virginia Historical Society, of Richmond, Virginia. Following are excerpts from her report which may be of interest to many.

> "Will of Christly Vaught, March 17, 1828, Aug. 9, 1830. 'Being considerably advanced in years.' Wife Elizabeth; son George Vaught, dau. Barbara, wife, Henry Copenhaver; dau. CHAPTER II

VAUGHT-PHILIPPI

VAUGHT

The "Partial History of the Vaught Family", which will be found in the latter part of this chapter, was written by Judge Edgar S. Vaught, a descendant of our first ancestor in America, John Paul Vogt. My ancestry is the same as Judge Vaught's through George Vaught, Sr. and his wife, neé Christianna Philippi. The judge was descended from Jefferson Vaught, George's son, while the Carsons were descended from Mary, George's daughter, and Jefferson's sister.

Judge Vaught enjoined others to continue in the family research. I have truly labored over the chronicle of this family. As he said, the work has been very difficult. The families were large, names were repeated in almost every generation, and very often individuals were called by their second names.

I have had access to early records apparently not available to the judge. Along with fourteen other Palatinates who, with their families, totaled sixty-two persons, John Paul Voght (also called John Bellfaught, Faught, Fought, etc.) and his wife, Mary Katrine, arrived on the ship Charming Betty, with John Ball from London as Captain. From Germany, Johan (John) was then 53; Mary Katrine's age was not given. Their children were: Catherine, age 18; Maria, age 16; Andreas (Andrew), 12; and Casper, 8.

Whereas Judge Vaught believed that Christley Vaught was the son either of John Paul Vaught or Caspar, I believe that Christley was doubtless the son of Andrew and grandson of John Paul and Mary Katrine. John Paul Vaught had only the two sons and two daughters referred to. No mention was ever made of any others.

One reason which makes me believe that the descent is John Paul, Andrew, Christley, George, Sr., etc., rather than John Paul, Caspar, Christley, etc., is that in our branch of the family the name Andrew was used over and over while Caspar or Gaspar occurred infrequently in the later generations. Moreover, Conrad and Jacob Cood Vaught alone were mentioned as children of Caspar.

My sources were gained first from the census records of Pulaski County, Kentucky and from those of Wythe County, Virginia, which records I own. I also have an extensive library, the contents of which helped me to tie in my finds with these published works. My husband and I traveled to Kentucky and Virginia several times, where I did much research. Many cousins previously unknown to me are now dear and close relatives. They have been an invaluable source of family information.

Again, I must emphasize that the Vaught family has been hard to document because of similarity of names from generation to generation. One fact, somewhat humorous as well as sad, is that in any family research, it is easier to gain records of the deceased rather than of the living, for cemetery records are quite accurate. Another point to remember is that children often moved from their birthplaces and left no accurate trace.

Because the General U. S. Census stopped with the issue of 1880, some couples listed without children may well have had several. It is more than possible that some of the names listed may be duplicated. In a family as large as this one, it has not always been possible to identify individuals with more than one wife. It is hoped that Vaught descendants with additional information will let me know of it. Perhaps a supplement to this book could be published later.

The descent of the J. K. Carson family based on the premise of our descent through Andrew Vaught, is as follows:

(Johan) John Paul Vogt m. Mary Katrine
(Andreas) Andrew Vaught m. Elizabeth (not proved)
Christley Vaught m. Elizabeth
George Vaught, Sr. m. Christianna Philippi
Mary Vaught m. Wesley Carson
Wm. Jefferson Carson m. Amanda Reid
Joseph Kelly Carson m. Sallie E. A. Johnson

NOTE FROM CAPT. UMSTOT:
I have quite a few footnotes and slips of paper with notes regarding additional information, questions, etc., passed along to me by Elsa Vaught of Fayetteville, Ark. - a lifetime member of a Pennsylvania genealogical group. She is descended from a William Vaught - her husband Walter W. Vaught was 1st Cousin of Judge Vaught who wrote this article and a son of Jefferson Mitchell Vaught - raised until 18 in Wytheville, Va. when his family moved to Nebraska. He has visited Wytheville over the years.

VAUGHT

William Penn, early in the eighteenth century, visited the Rhine provinces of Germany and invited Rhinelanders to come to the state which he had acquired, assuring them that religious and civil liberty would prevail. The Palatinates, as these people were known, were skilled workmen, especially in metals, and were highly desirable as citizens of the new land.

My first ancestor and that of most of the Vaughts in this account, was Johan Paul Vogt, who with his family arrived in Philadelphia on the Charming Betty, John Ball, Captain, on October 11, 1733. On the ship were 15 Palatinate families, making in all 42 persons.

Johan Paul Vogt's family included: Johan Vogt, 53; Andreas Vogt, 12; Caspar Vogt, 8; Maria Vogt, 46; Catherina, 18; and Maria, 16.

My lineage is through either Andreas (Andrew) or Caspar. Judge Edgar Sullins Vaught did considerable research on the family and was able to determine the family record of Christley Vaught, who was the son either of Andrew or Caspar. George Vaught, Sr. was the son of Christley and was, in turn, the father of Mary Vaught Carson. I am convinced that Andrew, not Caspar, is my ancestor. I have also read wills of Christley and George Vaught, verifying Judge Vaught's findings on the children of Christley Vaught and his descendants.

Many of the Vaughts who came into Philadelphia remained there. My ancestor, John Paul Vaught, moved south to Virginia, where he took an active part in community affairs. Lyman Chalkley, in his Records of Augusta County, Virginia, has many references to John Paul Vaught. His name was spelled John Bellfaut, Ballfaut, Bellfaught, Faught, Fought, Faut, Vogt, Voght and Vaught. Anyone with a knowledge of German can understand the interchanging of "V" and "F".

CHALKLEY'S RECORDS OF AUGUSTA COUNTY, VIRGINIA

Johan Paul Faught (John Bellfaught), born 1680 in Palatinate, Germany. Married about 1695 and died in Augusta County, Virginia; will 9th October, 1759; proved 18th August 1761 - September 10, 1761. Christian Vought, 1 horse, 1 cattle, 12.0 tax Lancaster Co. 1772.

Vogtland or Voightland, a district of Germany, forming the southwest corner of the Republic of Saxony and also embracing parts of Thuringia. It is bounded on the north by the former principalities of Reuss, on the southeast by Czeckoslovakia and on the southwest and west by Bavaria. Its character is generally mountainous and geologically it belongs to the Erzzebirge Range. It is extremely rich in mineral ores--silver, copper, lead and bismouth. The name denoted the country governed for the Emperor by a Vogt bailiff or stewart) and was, in the middle ages, known as terra advocatorium. From the Encyclopedia Britannica

In the Courthouse of Wytheville, Virginia, I found a mounted ship's bell with this inscription:

"De. Welfahrt. Van. Het. Schip
De. Liffrau W. Elizabeth.
Voor de Heeren
Caspar Voight & Compagni.
Capt. Daniel Ioachim. Rohlap. Anno 1781
Me Iohiiven in Hamburg"

This bell was captured by the American forces in a naval engagement on Lake Erie in the War of 1812. It was brought to Wytheville by Gen. Alexander Smyth, who had been in command of a military expedition to Canada in this war and by him was presented to Wythe County for a courthouse bell. When the old courthouse was torn down in 1900, the bell was mounted by the Stuart Chapter of the D.A.R. and palced in this building for its preservation.

John Blankenbaker P.O. Box 120 Chadds Ford, PA 19317

JOHN PAUL VOGT

Part 1

John Paul Vogt was born circa 1680 in Frankfurt, West Germany.[1*] John was married to Maria Catharina some time between 1704 and 1714. Their children were Catharina Margret, Mary Catherine, John Andrew and John Casper.[3] All six arrived at Philadelphia, PA in October 1733. The only German name on the ship's roster that was later associated with John Paul was Burger. Spellings for the Vogt name in the old records include Vaught, Vaut, Vought, Vot, Faut, Faught, Fought, Wacht, Wocht, Nacht and Bellfaut.

Much of the land in the Great Fork between the Rappahannock and Rapidan Rivers in what is today Madison and Culpeper Counties in Virginia was settled by Germans. John Paul's patent for land in Orange Co., VA was recorded in 1735.[4] John Paul's land adjoined that of Christian Clements. Christian's land was on Deep Run and was patented 21 NOV 1734, a year before John Paul got his patent.[5]

Christian married one of John Paul's two daughters, probably Catherine Margret, since Christian's wife is referred to as Catherine. The marriage may have taken place before John Paul moved to the Great Valley circa 1744.

John Paul and his wife Mary Catherine sold 170 acres, part of his original patent, to William Caul on 07 JUL 1744. John Paul also sold 470 acres, the rest of his patent, in 1744 to John Thomas for 5 shillings. John Paul may have moved to the Massannuten Mt. area between July 1744 and October 1744. John purchased 400 acres of David Logan in 1744.[6] He patented land on a north draft of the North River of the Shenandoah 20 SEP 1745.

Christian Clements patented land on the SE side of the South River of the Shenandoah 25 SEP 1746. In 1749 John Paul and Christian Clemens had a survey run on land on South River.[7]

John Paul died at his home in the Shenandoah Valley in 1761. When he moved there in 1744 the county was Orange. When he died there the county was Augusta. Today the county is Rockingham. John Paul's will was dated 09 OCT 1759 and was proved 18 AUG 1761. His estate sale and appraisal was dated 10 SEP 1761.[8] Besides the sons Andrew and Gaspar, only one daughter, the one who married Christian Clements, is mentioned in John's will. It is therefore assumed that the other daughter died without issue prior to October 1759, the date of John's will.

Christian Clements' will was dated 13 FEB 1780 and was proved 18 MAR 1783 in Augusta Co., VA.[9] The will named his wife Catherine, the eldest son Gaspar, a son John, a daughter Catherine who is the wife of George Trout, grandson David Trout and mentions but does not name his daughters married to Henry Liner and Philip Burger. Burger is also Barger or Barrier. Catherine (Vogt) Clements' will was dated 12 JUN 1783 and was proved in 1793. It names her son John, daughter Catherine and also mentions Jacob Barrier who was probably a grandson. The five children of Christian and Catherine (Vogt) Clements are:

1. Gaspar Clements who was born about 1746. Gaspar left a will dated 25 MAY 1813 in Rockingham Co., VA which was proven 27 FEB 1815.[10] Gaspar named his wife Mary and his children Christian, John, Nancy the wife of George Crawford, Catren, Polly and James.

2. Mary Catherine Clements married George Trout. George may have been the brother of Nicholas Trout who was killed by accident in a fight in 1753. George and Catherine had a son David who married Susannah Whetsel 29 SEP 1787 in Rockingham County.

3. John Clemons was married to Elizabeth. John Clemons may have been in Washington Co., VA in 1800.

4. Margaret Clements married Philip Barrier. They had sons Casper, Jacob and John. George Trout and Mary Catherine deeded land to Margaret Barrier 14 FEB 1761. This land was delivered to Gaspar Barrier 03 APR 1769. Evidently Philip Barrier was deceased by 1761 and Margaret by 1769.

5. Elizabeth Clements married Henry Lyner (or Liner). A list of Rockingham Co. tithables in 1783 has Henry Liner and his sons Christopher and Adam.

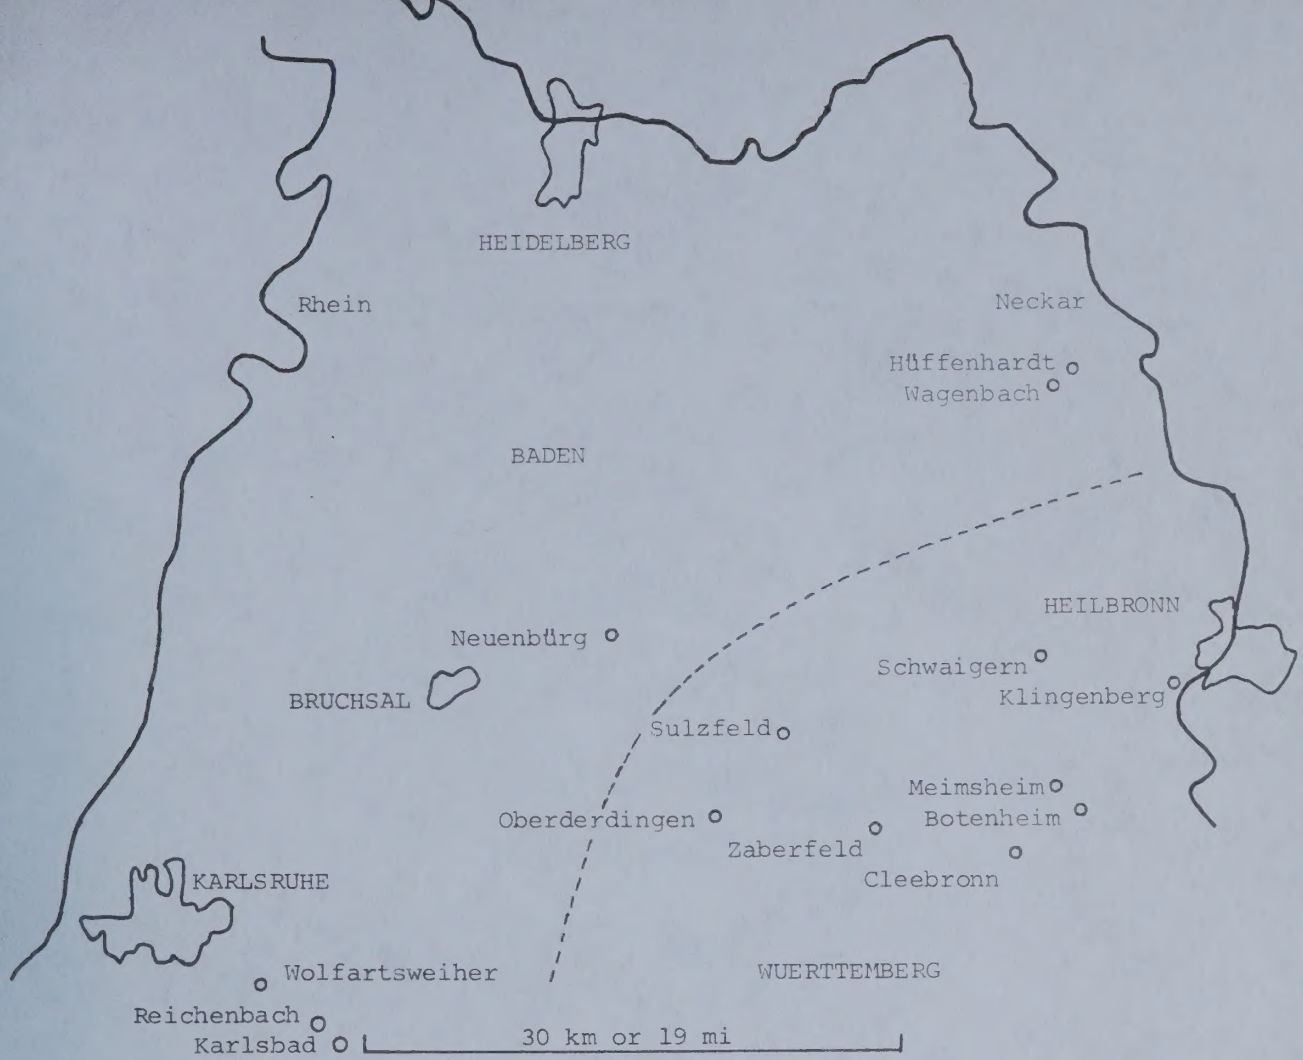
THE CHILDREN OF JACOB COONS (1740-1807) AND JOHN COONS (1742-1839)

David B. Boles, Department of Psychology, RPI, Troy, NY 12180

Jacob and John Coons are listed by Holtzclaw (1964) as children of Joseph Coons (1712-1794) of the Little Fork settlement, Culpeper co, Va. Although Holtzclaw identified a number of the children of these brothers, he was unable to separate them with any certainty according to whether their father was Jacob or John.

My father Harold W. Boles and I recently compiled documentation that establishes the children of both men. In an inventory dated 22 Sept 1807 in Montgomery co, Ky, the following persons among others are stated to have purchased items from the estate of Jacob Coons, deceased: Martin Coons, Daniel Rector, Lettis Coons, John Coons, John Coons son of John Coons, and Reuben Camper (Will Bk. A, p. 282-8, Montgomery co, Ky). Furthermore an account dated 16 June 1809 names the following as "Heirs and legatees" of Jacob: Mary Young, Elizabeth Rector, James Coons, Anne Coons, John Coons, Phebe Camper, Martin Coons, Nancy Coons, Henry Coons, Jacob Coons, and Joseph Coons (Will Bk. A, p.413-8, Montgomery co, Ky). The names of most of these legatees are repeated in a deed dated 8 Nov 1817, which also gives the names of several spouses (Deed Bk. 8, p.161-2, Montgomery co, Ky). Finally, on 10 Sept 1834, Letty Coons, along with several family members, participated in a deed that mentioned "dower out of the land of her late husband Jacob Coons deceased" (Deed Bk. 16, p. 473, Montgomery co, Ky).

From these and other records, it is established that Jacob Coons m. (1)



The boundary between Baden and Württemberg is only approximate. In the early 1700's much of this region of Baden belonged to the Bishops of Speyer (the see of Spire). In 1802 their lands on the east bank of the Rhein were ceded to the grand-duchy of Baden. Because boundaries in the German principalities shifted so often, locations are given in terms of modern definitions.

This region has been the scene of much violence and war. The Peasant's War, the Thirty Years' War and assorted wars with the French left scars. Heidelberg was a center of Reformed teaching and for this reason suffered badly during the Thirty Years' War (from Encyclopaedia Britannica, 13th edition, 1926).

Note the area here is only a very small part of Germany.

INTRODUCTION

THE Revolutionary history of Tennessee belongs to her mother state, and in the archives of North Carolina are to be found many interesting records of the valorous services performed by the men on her western frontier during the Struggle for Independence. Before the Revolutionary War began, the country west of the Allegheny Mountains, was being cleared and tended by pioneers who braved the dangers of forest and Indian to establish new homes in the beautiful valleys of what is now East Tennessee. The tide of emigration had turned westward in response to the reports of the Long Hunters of plentiful game and fertile soil.

As early as 1769, William Bean had staked his claim and built a cabin on Boon's Creek, in what is now Washington County, and very soon thereafter friends and relatives from Pittsylvania County, Virginia, from whence he came, joined him in the new country. Other settlers followed and the Watauga Association was formed.

In 1777, the territory lying west of the mountains was formed into the county of Washington.

These North Carolina frontiersmen were patriots. The same spirit of independence which moved them to face the dangers of the wilderness, turned them also against British taxes. The Indians with whom they were contending for the land whereon they were building their homes were allies of the English.

The extension of the western boundary line between North Carolina and Virginia, in 1780, threw a large settlement that had hitherto considered itself to be on Virginia soil, into the domain of North Carolina. This territory was formed into a second new county and named for General Sullivan.

The militia was organized in Washington and Sullivan Counties, after the manner of the rest of North Carolina. Companies were formed from tall gaunt men whith sharp eyes and steady fingers—bred to the rifle from childhood. But for them the fight was in both directions—English armies on the East, Indian bands on the West. Living with gun in hand they were always ready to answer the call to arms.

Ramsey, in his Annals of Tennessee, has preserved the names of a few of the men who were active in Captain William Bean's Company in 1779.

In the North Carolina Revolutionary Army Accounts (unpublished), Vol. XI, page 18, folio 2, claims dated November, 1777, are found the following items paid to men who were then living in the Watauga settlement.

"To Capt. James Holles for himself and company pay £67—£390,2,6."

"To Capt. George Russell, for pay for himself and company £77—£740,16."

P. 20, folio 2. "To Capt. James Robertson for himself and company's pay £91—2066,5,6."

"To Col. John Carter for himself and regiment £312—£166.10."

P. 20, folio 4. "To Col. John Sevier for sundry persons, for cart and horse £331—£175,5."

The militia of the two western counties was very active up to the close of the Revolutionary War, and for sometime thereafter in Indian campaigns. The Watauga and Holston settlers carried on a continuous struggle with the Indians. At one time a great tribal confederacy was planned by the British, which design, if carried out, would have created a formidable obstruction to the west of the colonists, extending from Canada to Florida.

An expedition against the Chickamauga Indians, in April, 1779, led by Col. Evan Shelby and Lt.-Col. Charles Robertson, destroyed this plan, and for the time being, checked the hostilities of the Indians. Five hundred men from Washington and Sullivan Counties took part in this campaign and overcame the Indians at the first Battle of Chickamauga.

In the summer of 1780, a regiment of Watauga men commanded by Col. Charles Robertson did good service in the South Carolina campaign and participated in several battles.

On October 7, 1780, the memorable Battle of King's Mountain took place, and the part played by the "over-mountain" men in defeat of General

PASSED INTO REST.

REV. WILLIAM PORTER VAUGHT.

Rev. William Porter Vaught, son of Andrew and Susannah Vaught, was born in Wythe county, Virginia, December 7, 1822. When six years old he was brought by his parents to Pulaski county, Kentucky, where he grew to manhood and was married on Nov. 20, 1847, to Ann L. Gragg, with whom he lived till his death, which occurred in Harrodsburg, Kentucky, Nov. 24, 1896. To Brother and Sister Vaught nine children were born; three died in infancy and childhood. Four sons, Rev. J. O. A. Vaught, E. P. Vaught, Dr. J. C. Vaught, and M. L. Vaught, with two sisters, Mrs. S. F. Moore and Mrs. J. C. Vanarsdall, are living and were present at the funeral [illegible] Brother Vaught was licensed to preach as a local preacher in the Methodist church more than forty years ago, since which time he has made full proof of his ministry. During the days of his stronger manhood he preached somewhere nearly every Sunday, most of the time in some country church or school-house, where those who had the poorest opportunities could hear the word. He loved to preach the gospel and many came to Christ under his ministry. The Western and Northern parts of Mercer and in most Anderson, was the field of his ministerial work for the last thirty years. Here his name is a household word and is as "ointment poured forth." It is said that in these parts of the counties mentioned, for years he buried more people than all other ministers. Many to whom he has ministered comfort and consolation will drop a tear when they hear of his translation. For thirty years he has lived in Mercer county; his life has been pure, peaceable and full of good works. All who knew him are his friends; he had no enemies. The world is richer for his life and it is poorer that he is gone. Truly "A prince and great man has [illegible] preacher Brother Vaught was above the ordinary. He held the great doctrines of the Christian system with a firm grasp. They comforted him in life and sustained him in death. He sleeps well. May the mantle of our ascended brother fall on those who are left. But a day or two before his death he was in a great state of ecstacy and said he was as happy as those who were shouting God's praise in the great Methodist meeting in the town. The last word he gave to his pastor for his friends was: "Tell them my way is clear; heaven is my home." His funeral sermon was preached by the writer and the burial services were conducted by the Masonic Fraternity.

JULIUS EDWIN WRIGHT.

AMANDA M. BRAKE.

Mrs. Amanda M. Brake was born Feb. 23, 1822, and died Oct. 28, 1896. She professed religion and joined the Methodist Church when but sixteen years of age. She was married to James Brake Dec. 6, 1840. Her husband died Apr. 2, 1871, and she remained a widow the remainder of her life. Sister Brake was a good, Christian woman, exemplary in life, and true to the church. She was a woman of true character and indomitable energy, reared her family well, and left, at her departure, the savor of a good name. Her membership was at Ash Spring church, in Logan county, Kentucky, where she was held in high esteem by her neighbors. Her death was triumphant and she rests well since the toils and trials of life are past. With the beautiful ritual of the church, we laid her remains in the grave to await the call of the resurrection trumpet when we hope to see her again. I. W. EMERSON.

HATTIE V. FUQUAY.

Miss Hattie V., daughter of Henry I. and Ellen Fuquay, was born in Dixon, Kentucky, July 31, 1873; professed religion and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, under the ministry of Rev. W. K. Piner, in 1886 and remained a faithful member of the same until Nov. 2nd, 1896, when she sweetly fell asleep in Jesus, aged 23 years, 3 months and 2 days. We have in the above statements the birth, brief life, and triumphant death of one who so recently gave hope of many years of happiness and usefulness. But, alas! How soon our hopes are blasted! Some years since her father died and left her mother with two sons and three daughters; she being the oldest, and one of twins, the burden of life fell heavily upon her, but young as she was, she bore it nobly, assisting her mother in raising the other children who are now about grown. Six months ago her mother died, and she, with the other children, were doubly bereft. But she and her twin sister, Delia, having engaged in business, were successful, having the esteem and confidence of all who knew them. But our Heavenly Father called, and she obeyed the summons. Her consistent, modest, unassuming life is before us. She died in perfect peace, leaving behind the legacy of a good name. How hard to give her up? But we bow submissively to the will of God. May the brothers and sisters so live that they may, after a while meet her in Heaven!

ANDREW WAYMAN.

Andrew Wayman was born in Madison county, Virginia, Feb. 1, 1813; was married in 1835 to Mrs. Perlina Mann. She died about the year 1850, and he was again married soon after to Miss Anna Heron. She died in 1889. He was the father of a large family of children, seven of whom still live to mourn their loss. He professed religion about forty years ago, and united with the M. E. Church, South, and to the day of his death endeavored to live the life of the righteous. He was sick for about three weeks before his death, which occurred Nov. 13, 1896, at his [illegible] had lived for more than half a century. He suffered much in his last sickness, but we believe his sufferings are now all over, and that he rests in peace on the celestial shore. A good number attended his funeral and the universal expression so far as I heard was that a truly good man had gone from earth to live in heaven. The memory of the just is blessed. May God sanctify the death of the father to the spiritual edification of each one of the children. JESSE L. MURRELL.

GREENBERRY B. KINMAN.

Greenberry B. Kinman was born in Harrison county, Kentucky, March 4, 1819; died October 19, 1896. He was twice married. First, to Miss Eliza Ann Faulconer, September 4, 1843; his second marriage was to Miss Elizabeth Kenney, June 13, 1871. Both preceded him to the better land. He died within two miles of the place of his birth. He was the oldest of six children, two of whom are still living. He joined the M. E. Church, South, in 1865, and since then lived an exemplary Christian life. By industry and frugality he amassed a considerable fortune with which he was always liberal. The poor, the widows and orphans ever found in him a friend. It would be difficult indeed to say too much in regard to the character and useful life of our deceased brother. His counsel was sought and many who learned its value now realize in his death an irreparable loss and the unanswered inquiry arises: "Who can fill his place?" The ministry he loved and honored may rejoice when they find his like again. He was a most devoted husband and constant friend. He loved his Church and was ever an able supporter of her institutions. He was always giving. One of the last acts of his business life was to purchase a comfortable parsonage for Hinton Circuit and deed it to the Church. He possessed a large degree of that charity "which suffereth long and is kind." He grew old gracefully. He seemed free from that gloom and moroseness which comes to many in old age. Even during his last illness he was always patient, resigned and cheerful. He was old-fashioned in his ways, unassuming, yet ever true to his convictions. A man of sterling integrity and a true friend. He remarked to the writer a few days before his death that his way was clear, not a cloud; that he had lived more than 30 years in reference to this hour. His life was a living epistle known and read of men. To the only living brother and sister who so kindly and patiently ministered to him in his last illness, we extend sympathy in their great sorrow. More than three score years and ten, numbered the days of his earthly pilgrimage. But he sleeps well and his works and words do follow him. He loved to hear the songs of Zion. One of his favorite songs was: "It is better further on." His funeral was preached by the writer, and his body laid to rest until the resurrection morn.

MARTHA JONES.

Martha Jones, wife of Tholly Jones was born September 1, 1839, and found in a pool of water drowned, Monday morning, Nov. 23, 1896. The community at large were very much shocked at the sad news. Sister Jones' mind seemed to be of a wandering turn, and she would allow herself to be greatly troubled over the things of life. We feel her act may be largely attributed to the condition of her mind. She had been a member of the M. E. Church, South, for a number of years, and was considered a good woman, though possessing a peculiar turn. She leaves a husband to mourn her loss. The funeral services were conducted by the writer, her pastor, assisted by Brother Chilton, of the Baptist Church, an old acquaintance of hers and her husband. GEO. W. BOSWELL.

JANE C. SAMUELS.

Departed this life, on Saturday morning, October 31, 1896, Mrs. Jane C. Samuels, (nee Coleman,) aged sixty-nine years, ten months and twelve days. Our sister was born in Nelson county, Virginia, Dec. 19, 1828. In 1855 she came to Kentucky. She was married to Reuben M. Samuels, in April 1857, whom she survived just a few days over thirteen months. Sister Samuels having professed conversion when but a girl, was received into the M. E. Church, South, where she remained a faithful member, and a consistent Christian until death. Her death is mourned by two sisters, a brother and two grand-children; besides quite a number of Christian friends. E. P. TINSLEY.

MARY JOSAPHINE MCBEATH.

Mrs. Mary Josaphine McBeath, (nee Smith,) was born in Russell county, Kentucky, August 24, 1867; was married to Hanibal McBeath, March 4, 1885. To them were born five children, three of whom still survive to know but little of a mother's love. She was converted when only twelve years old, and united with the Baptist church, and remained in it till after her marriage. She then joined the M. E. Church, South, in which she lived a faithful member till June 20, 1896, when God called her from labor to rest. Sister McBeath was a dutiful wife, a loving mother, and next to her family, for which she labored so earnestly for the happiness of every member, she loved the church, and was untiring in her efforts for its interest. She took great interest in her preacher, and was ever ready to lend a helping hand to any that needed help. She died as she lived, full of faith and love. May God's blessings be upon the husband and children. SMITH GIVAN.

New Cure for Kidney and Bladder Diseases, Rheumatism etc.—Free to our Readers.

Our renders will be glad to know that the new botanical discovery, Alkavis, from the wonderful Kava-Kava shrub has proved an assured cure for all diseases caused by Uric acid in the blood, or by disordered action of the Kidneys or urinary organs. It is a wonderful discovery, with a record of 1200 hospital cures in 30 days. It acts directly upon the blood and kidneys, and is a true specific, just as quinine is in malaria. We have the strongest testimony of many ministers of the gospel, well known doctors and business men cured by Alkavis, when all other remedies had failed.

In the New York Weekly World of Sept. 10th, the testimony of Rev. W. B. Moore, D.D., of Washington D. C., was given, describing his year's suffering from Kidney disease and Rheumatism, and his rapid cure by Alkavis. Rev. Thomas Smith, the Methodist minister at Cobden, Illinois, passed nearly one hundred gravel stones after two weeks' use of Alkavis. Rev. John H. Watson, of Sunset, Texas, a minister of the gospel of thirty years' service, was struck down at his post of duty by Kidney disease. After hovering between life and death for two months, and all his doctors having failed, he took Alkavis, and was completely restored to health and strength, and is fulfilling his duties as minister of the gospel. Mr. E. C. Wood, a prominent attorney of Lowell, Indiana, was cured of Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder disease of ten years standing, by Alkavis. Mr. Wood describes himself as being in constant misery, often compelled to rise ten times during the night on account of weakness of the bladder. He was treated by all his home physicians without the least benefit and finally completely cured in a few weeks by Alkavis. The testimony is undoubted and really wonderful. Mrs. James Young of Kent, Ohio, writes that she had tried six doctors in vain, that she was about to give up in despair, when she found Alkavis and was promptly cured of kidney disease and restored to health.

Many other ladies also testify to the wonderful curative powers of Alkavis in the various disorders peculiar to womanhood. So far the Church Kidney Cure Company, No. 420 Fourth Avenue, New York, are the only importers of this new remedy, and they are so anxious to prove its merits that for the sake of introduction they will send a free treatment of Alkavis prepaid by mail to every reader of THE CENTRAL METHODIST who is a Sufferer from any form of Kidney or Bladder disorder, Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Pain in back, Female Complaints, or other affliction due to improper action of the Kidneys or Urinary Organs. We advise all sufferers to send their names and address to the company, and receive the Alkavis free. It is sent to you entirely free, to prove its wonderful curative powers.

MEASURING AN ACRE.

Few farmers know the size of their fields or how many acres they contain. It is desirable—in fact, indispensable—for good work that a farmer should know this, otherwise he cannot apportion seed or manure for it, nor can he tell how much time it should take to plow, harrow or cultivate it. A good cotton cord, the size of a plow line, should be kept for the purpose of measuring.

To make one, buy sixty-seven feet of cotton rope, fasten a ring at each end, and make these rings precisely sixty-six feet apart. This is four rods. Tie a piece of red rag in the center.

One acre of ground will be a piece four of these cords long and two and a half wide, equal to sixteen by ten rods, making 160 square rods to an acre.

The adavntages of the rings is that one person can measure by driving a stake in the ground to hold the rope while he stretches it out. The rope should be soaked in tar and then dried. This will prevent it shrinking.

PASSED INTO REST.

Rev. W. P. Vaught

My father, Rev. W. P. Vaught, was born December 7, 1822, in Wythe county, Virginia, and died November 24, 1896, in Harrodsburg, Kentucky, after a lingering illness of more than six months. Truly a noble, useful life ended when he fell on sleep. This seventy-five years of life he lived through the stormy period of our church and country and amid all he was as true to his convictions as the needle to the pole. He was always consistent in politics and religion—lived up to the measure of his profession. If you would know the true estimate of his character, ask his neighbors of the past thirty years; those who knew him best loved him most. He was the third son and fourth child of Andrew and Rosannah Vaught nearly five years younger than his brother, Rev. Stephen K. Vaught of your Conference, who died sixteen years ago at his home near Point Pleasant, West Virginia. Like his brother my father was endowed with splended natural gifts and he used them to the best advantage. When six years old he was brought by his parents to Pulaski county, Kentucky, where he grew to manhood, and lived until he was more than forty years old. His religious opportunities in childhood and youth were good. His father and mother were deeply pious. His mother was one of the few women of that early day who would pray in the public congregation, and exhort sinners on occasion. He with his father and brother established what was known as Vaught's Campground about 1850, which continued as a meeting place for the saints 'till the war destroyed the encampment. His ancestors on both sides were Methodists for one hundred and forty years back, so he was truly a born Methodist. He believed our doctrines and loved our polity. In early life he felt called to the ministry and set his heart on the itinerancy, but hesitated on account, as he thought, of his poor equipment for such a responsible work. During the time of this waiting he was married and soon a growing family interposed what was to him an insuperable barrier to his success in the itinerant ministry; after a few years he was granted license to preach, and for forty years he exercised his gifts as a local preacher in the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; for a number of years he supplied work by Conference appointment; when not thus engaged he failed not to make full proof of his ministry whenever opportunity was offered. He loved to preach, and up to three years ago when a severe attack of la grippe broke the strength of his robust manhood and left him a wreck, it was an unusual thing to find him idle on Sunday. He went to the school houses and out of the way places, and many were brought to God under his ministry. He was always a strong preacher and sometimes he preached great sermons. Not educated according to the books but he had been a student of men and things, and he knew much. His use of plain, pure English was marvelous for one of his opportunities. He was wonderfully gifted in prayer and at times the spell of his unction swept a congregation like a storm in the forest. He held the doctrines of the Christian system with a firm grasp; he knew the nice distinction between the different schools of theology. He knew the Bible, and woe to the antagonist who dared to take issue with his interpretation of the Word. For many years he visited more sick and buried more dead possibly than all other preachers within miles of his home. Everybody was his friend for he had no enemies. He was always conservative; if he erred it was on the side of mercy. When twenty-four years old he was married to Ann L. Gragg with whom he lived happily for fifty-one years and four days. This was a match made in Heaven. For the past thirty years he lived in Mercer county, Kentucky, where he died. He was the father of nine children, three of them died in infancy and childhood, six remain to this present,—four sons and two daughters who were all with him to the last. He loved his family with a wealth of tenderness not always seen. It was his joy that they were all members of the church he loved and served and that the sons were all officers in that church. His tender thoughtfulness with regard to our mother and her tireless ministry to him were indeed beautiful, he wanted her with him all the time and it was a loving providence that seated her by his side, just as he stepped into the chariot to go home to God. When asked if all was well, his characteristic answer was "I have not served God sixty-five years for naught. It was a sad sweet privilege to his children to minister to him during his illness—to keep vigil over his body when dead, and with our own hands bear him to the place of burial, and lower his body to its final resting place. The earth was richer for his life; it is poorer that he has gone. Heaven and earth are nearer and dearer to us, the earth in that it contains his precious dust and Heaven his redeemed spirit. Farewell precious father for a season. We shall meet again.

J. O. A. Vaught.

Elizabeth Murrill.

Elizabeth Murrill, wife of Rev. C. S. Murrill, of the Western Virginia Conference, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ullman, Huntington, West Virginia, January 27, 1897, age eighty years, one month, and twelve days. She was born, in the city of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, December 15, 1816. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Barthing. She grew to womanhood in her native city, uniting with the church early in life, and was married to Rev. C. S. Murrill to whom she was a faithful help-mate and companion for nearly fifty-nine years. To them were born eight children, five of whom are still living. One a minister of the Gospel, and all are members of the church. Thus the faithful life and training of the mother is manifested in the children and brings forth fruit after its kind which taught them is stilled. Her life was not in words only, but a demonstration of good works; she ever sought to carry comfort and consolation to the needy and suffering, seeking them to minister both to their bodies and souls. Being a woman of strong convictions, and having started to serve God, she did not think of turning back, but "pressed toward the mark for the prize." She sought the right and consistently aimed to do her duty: helping her husband during his long and active ministry to do the work of the Lord. She loved her Bible and the church and was faithful unto death. She was impressed that the time for her departure was at hand, and with confidence waited the coming of the Lord. Her few last days were speechless and full of extreme pain. Those who knew her are confident that she has rest. Her husband in his eighty-sixth year still remains, in remarkable health and strength, a mourner, but with increasing hope and unshaken trust in Him who "doeth all things well." May the peace of God be upon him and his children.

Elizabeth S. Barlow.

Sister Elizabeth S. Barlow was born, I believe, in Bourbon county, Kentucky, July 4, 1821; died at her home in Washington county, Kentucky, near Springfield, December 20, 1896. She was married to E. R. Brand March 1, 1838, by whom she had two children. He only lived a few years, and after living a widow several years she was again married to Jesse Barlow, and was again blessed with two children. I do not know at what age she gave her heart to God, but I think it was early in life, and she joined the Methodist Church and lived in the same until her dying day. She was a strong believer in the doctrines of the Methodist Church, and loved her church most ardently, and was faithful to attend God's house when her health and other circumstances would permit. But while she was a devoted Methodist she was still a more devoted Christian. She loved all God's people and was ready to rejoice in the prosperity of sister churches. She was much devoted to her pastors and was always ready to help them with words of encouragement, and with that which is necessary to meet their temporal wants according as God prospered her. I was her pastor for two years just preceding her death. My pastorate ending about two years before it occurred, and I visited her often and my visits were enjoyed by me, and I feel sure were much appreciated by her. I talked to her frequently about her future prospects, and she was ever ready to give a reason for the hope she had in her with meekness and Godly fear. A few days before she died, her soul was filled with God's fulness, and she told her friends that Jesus had come for her. Sister Barlow served her generation, or rather generations, well, and has fallen on sleep, but while her body slumbers in the tomb, her soul, I believe is with God in heaven. May her three surviving children and her grand-children all emulate her example and meet her in glory. Jessie L. Murrell.

A New Shrub that Cures Kidney and Rheumatic Diseases.—A Free Gift.

A short time ago our readers were made aware of a valuable new botanical discovery, that of the Kava-Kava Shrub, or as botanists call it, piper methysticum, found on the banks of the Ganges river in East India. From a medical standpoint this is perhaps the most important discovery of the century. The use of the Kava-Kava Shrub, like other valuable medical substances, opium and quinine, was first observed by Christian missionaries among the natives as a sovereign remedy for Kidney diseases and other maladies caused by Uric acid in the system. Since its general introduction, this wonderful remedy (Kava-Kava Compound), has wrought many remarkable cures of Kidney and Rheumatic diseases.

The Kava-Kava Shrub (Piper Methysticum.)

Mr. R C Wood, a prominent attorney of Lowell, Indiana, was cured by Alkavis of Rheumatism, Kidney and Bladder trouble of ten years' standing. He writes:

"I have been treated by our home physicians all without the least benefit. My bladder trouble became so troublesome that I had to get up from five to twelve times during the night to urinate.

In fact I was in misery the whole time and was becoming very despondent. . . . I have now used Alkavis and am better than I have been for five years. I know Alkavis will cure bladder and kidney trouble. . . It is a wonderful and grand, good remedy.

And even more wonderful is the testimony of Rev. John H. Watson, of Sunset, Texas, a minister of the gospel in thirty years' service, stricken down at his post of duty by kidney disease and cured by Alkavis. Mrs James Young, of Kent, Ohio, writes that she had tried six doctors in vain, that she was about to give up in despair, when she found Alkavis, and was promptly cured of Kidney disease, and other ailments peculiar to women. Many other ladies give similar testimony.

So far the Church Kidney Cure Company, No. 422 Fourth Avenue, New York, are the only importers of this new remedy, and they are so anxious to prove its value that for the sake of introduction they will send a free treatment of Alkavis prepaid by mail to every reader of Central Methodist who is a Sufferer from any form of Kidney or Bladder disorder, Bright's Disease, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Pain in Back, Female Complaints, or other affliction due to improper action of the Kidneys or Urinary Organs. We advise all sufferers to send their names and address to the company, and receive the Alkavis free. To prove its wonderful curative powers it is sent to you entirely free.

Rev. Francis Waring.

Rev. Francis Waring the subject of this memoir was born December 23, 1830, at the old Waring homestead in Greenup county, Kentucky, and died at his residence, about a mile distant, January 6, 1897. These years, sixty-six and a few days, cover the life-limit of one of God's most faithful servants. Dedicated to God from his birth by pious parents he was early brought into the Methodist Church, and into the spiritual kingdom of heaven. Our dear brother was an enthusiastic student, and with an ardent appreciation of educational advantages improved all given him to the utmost of his ability, finishing his school-life at Transylvania University, Lexington, Kentucky. How vividly memory brings back the happy return of the dear eldest brother of the old homestead, full of enthusiasm for life and its work. Looking back over the long years, I can truly say that in the highest sense of the word he was a brother; attentive, tender and true. [illegible] he went to be taken, it was [illegible] planned it, who overcome all obstacles, and who made [illegible] and way for all to go. Soon after his return he began what was ever afterward his favorite secular occupation—teaching. In this he was very successful. Perhaps one may say truthfully, that under his teaching hundreds of children received the highest aspirations of their lives, for his ideas of education embraced the development of the soul as well as the intellect. On January 27, 1853, he was happily married to a former pupil, Miss Jennie B. Stewart, and immediately settled on the farm where he spent the remainder of his life. Soon after his marriage he gave himself in deeper consecration to God, and some years later yielded to the call to preach the gospel in the local ranks. In this capacity and as Sunday-school superintendent, steward, trustee, and class leader at times, he served his beloved church to the end of his days. As in his younger days he was leader in all the innocent diversions of his companions, so in mature years he was the religious leader in his neighborhood, persevering against the [illegible] and [illegible] front tho[illegible] God's worl[illegible] day-school [illegible] portant in [illegible] he carried [illegible] haps thirty [illegible] dren and h[illegible] its benefit[illegible] grew out o[illegible] trol in church matters, but of true spiritual power, of service and steadfastness. His attitude among his brethren was ever, "I am among you as one that serveth." Second hardly to his care for his own family and home was his thought and effort for his preacher and his church. His home, ever open to all, was in every sense "the preacher's home." Then they each and all felt sure of a true welcome, of comfort and sympathy, and he held it as his work and pleasure to have the church in read-

Rev. James Osgood Andrew Vaught, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, Versailles, son of William P. and Ann L. (Gragg) Vaught. His father was a native of Wythe Co., Virginia and came with his parents when a child to Kentucky, near Somerset. In 1865 he moved to Harrisburg - farmer and local Methodist preacher, now retired, being 73 years old.

Andrew Vaught (grandfather) native of Wythe Co., Va. Moved to Somerset, died there at 95. Vaughts came to this country about 1780 and have been prominent in Methodist church over 100 years. Rev. S. K. Vaught (uncle) who died a few years ago, was one of the most distinguished ministers in the Methodist church in West Virginia.

Ann L. Gragg (Mother) is a native of Pulaski County and is now in her 66th year and a mother in the Methodist Church.

Elisha P. Gragg (grandfather) was a native of Pulaski County; died in his 70th year. His father was a native of Virginia, came to Kentucky in 1790. Graggs are of English descent and, like the Vaughts, have been Methodists for over 100 years.

Rev. J. O. A. Vaught was born in Somerset February 9, 1847. He received the best education the schools of Somerset could afford and then went to Harmonia College, Russellville, Indiana, and graduated in 1870. In the following year he entered the ministry of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. Among the principal places where he has had charge are Clarksburg and Point Pleasant, West Virginia; Ashland, Catlettsburg, Paris, Newport, Millersburg, Richmond, Harrisburg, and Versailles, Kentucky, to which last named place he came in 1895. (Bishop Kavanaugh was m. in Versailles and spent 30 years there.) Mr. Vaught and Annie E., daughter of C. S. Ulen of Catlettsburg, married 1873 - 5 children: Anna Louise, Kate H., Stephen K., Sarah H., Mattie M. (MVC note: Elizabeth?). Miss Kate H. Vaught is Prof. of Sciences in Millersburg Female College.

Asbury Camp Ground was established in 1819, as shown by the following letter written in 1871: "By request of your preacher, you desire me to tell you something of the origin of Cripple Creek Camp Ground. I did the first work that was done on the encampment fifty-three years ago next September. Taylor and Evis were the preachers in charge. Lewis Festis was the Presiding Elder. The meeting continued five days, commencing about the last of September. At that Camp Meeting there were 82 conversions. "The next year, Samuel Kennerly, Morris and Rice were in charge. At that Camp Meeting there were over 100 conversions. "The third year John Tivis was the Presiding Elder and the same preachers had charge of the Circuit. At that meeting there were 186 conversions and 8 santifications. "Fourth year----------Green had charge of the Circuit, and J. Tivis, P. E., at which time there were over 100 conversions. I attended camp meetings on these grounds for ten years previous to leaving that section, and I witnessed over 1000 conversions.

"Yours in haste,

ANDREW VAUGHT."

John Newland and James Newland deeded the land, the first plot containing eleven acres, making the deed to Zacharial Mitchell, Casper Yost, David Horn, John Ganaway, Lewis S. Marshall, Peter Keesling, John Phillippi, on the 24th day of December, 1825, and recorded in Book No. 10, page 206. Among the names of the promoters of Asbury Camp Meeting in the early days were: Phillippi, Keesling, Vaught, Newland, Mitchell, Ganaway, Yost, Horn , Fisher, Scott, Marshall, Whitman, Umbarger, Gray, Johnson, Swecker, Foster, Henley, Ward, Brawley, Seagle, Moore, Hedrick, Hale, Bryant, Stephens. The above was taken from a short sketch of Asbury Camp Ground published by Rev. D. S. Gaines, in 1871. In the first year that services were held at Asbury Camp Ground, about fifteen camps or houses were erected. The first was erected by John Gannaway and the second by David Horn. A number of others followed shortly thereafter.

The last camp meeting held at Asbury Camp Ground was in September, 1864.

(6) Early in the summer of 1779 the Tories living near the head of the Yadkin River, North Carolina, and on New River and Walkers Creek, Montgomery county, Virginia, began to form into a body with the intention of destroying the lead mines on New River (now in Wythe county), robbing loyal citizens and afterwards joining Cornwallis. Col. Preston and the other officers of Montgomery made every effort to quiet the disaffected and protect the citizens; but had to call on the authorities of Washington County for aid. Col. William Campbell with 150 mounted militia from that county came to the rescue and dividing into small parties, together with the loyal militia of Montgomery, after several weeks active pursuit dispersed or captured the insurgents. Col. Walter Crockett, Capt. Charles Lynch, Capt. Robert Sayers and Capt. Isaac Campbell were equally active and successful. After the suppression of the outbreak in Virginia Isaac Campbell and Sayers assisted with their companies in suppressing a Tory revolt in Surrey and Wilkes counties, N. C. A little valley called Black Lick, in the present Wythe county, was a shelter from which Tories made raids. They were captured by William Campbell's men, and a number were hung on two oaks, long afterwards known as the "Tory Trees". The necessary; but rough handling of the Tories compelled the legislature in Oct.1779 to pass a law, justifying the acts of Campbell, Crockett and others and indemnifying them for any illegal actions.

George Vaught's Will

In the name of God amen: I George Vaught senior of the County of Wythe and State of Virginia being at this time weak in body but of sound mind and disposing memory and calling to mind the mortality of the body and knowing that it is appointed for all men once to die do make this my last will and testament

First It is my desire that all my just debts and funeral expences be paid by my executors out of my estate

Secondly it is my desire that my beloved wife Christianna do fully and completely possess and enjoy all my property or estate both real and personal during her natural life and after her decease the same to be disposed of in the manner hereafter directed and as to my sons David, John, Andrew, George, Peter and Charles

I think I already given them a sufficiency it is my desire that each of them receive one dollar to be paid by my executors also I think that my daughter Mary hath had a sufficiency I also desire that she receive one dollar to be paid by my executors as to my son Joseph I give and bequeath unto him the sum of thirty dollars to be paid by my executors and it is my desire that at the decease of my wife my two sons Abraham and Jefferson to have all my land and my mill with the exception of one acre of land and a saw mill site that I have given to my two sons Charles and Joseph and it is my desire that my two sons namely Abraham and Jefferson pay unto my two daughters namely Elizabeth and Christianna each one hundred and Eighty dollars and it is my desire that after the decease of me and my wife whatever property is left and not disposed of the same be equally devided among all my children

Mr. Charles Vaught Executor of this my last will and Testament hereby making void all other wills by me made. Acknowledging this to be my last will and testament. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my seal this 15th day of March 1825.

THE FORTY-FIFTH VIRGINIA INFANTRY

Was enlisted in the early months of 1861, Companies B, C and D largely recruited in Wythe county. The most active field service of this regiment was in 1864, when it was almost constantly engaged in the last effort to save the beautiful valley of Virginia from the spoilation of invading vandals. It was engaged against the Federal army of West Virginia, May 9 and 10, 1864, at Cloyd Mountain and New River Bridge, where nearly a thousand soldiers of the Confederacy gave up life or liberty; again at Piedmont, or Mount Crawford, against the same enemy, where many of the Forty-Fifth fell, and many more were captured, and the enemy were driven at a frightful cost. In Early's last campaign, the regiment was commanded by Major Alex. M. Davis, and served in Wharton's (old) brigade, Wharton's division. Opequan, Fishers Hill, Cedar Creek were the great battles of this campaign, the two former usually spoken of as the "Winchester battles." In these the Forty-Fifth maintained its reputation for gallantry, and at Early's last stand, at Waynesboro, its loss in captured was heavy.

The following muster by companies shows the principal enlistments in Wythe county. Where no date of enlistment is given it was at the organization of the company, in the early months of 1861; where no date of discharge is given the service was till the close of the war, or until a subsequent release from imprisonment; where no place of enlistment is given it was in Wythe county; where no rank is given the service was as private.

KETTERING

(Catron)

Kettering was originally spelled Kettenring. Some of the descendants changed the name to Catron. Christoff Kettenring was born in Germany and died in Wythe County, Virginia in 1795. He married Susannah Gose and they landed in America Sept. 9, 1765 on the ship "Chance." On Mar. 14, 1775 he bought 395 acres of land on Tait's Run, a branch of Reed Creek in Fincastle County, now in Wythe County, Virginia. His estate was appraised on July 4, 1795 (W.ct). Most of his children were born in Holland.

I-a FRANCIS KETTENRING, b- 1745, d- July 15, 1819 in Tennessee. He was a soldier in Robert Doak's Company in 1774-1776.

I-b ADAM KETTENRING and his wife, Anna Maria, were the parents of two children of record and perhaps others:

II-b-1 MAGDALENA KETTERING, b- Nov. 14, 1793 (Z.ch).

II-b-2 SUSAN KETTERING, b- Mar. 10, 1796 (StP.ch).

I-c DAVID SOLOMON KETTENRING.

I-d PETER KETTENRING, b- 1754, d- 1840 in Kentucky, m- (W.ct) July 4, 1809 Elizabeth Etter, the daughter of Daniel Etter. He was a soldier in Robert Doak's Company in 1774-1776. Peter purchased on Aug. 23, 1793, 200 acres on Elk Creek in Grayson County, Virginia. The children of Peter and Elizabeth were:

II-d-1 JOSEPH KETTERING, b- Nov. 11, 1811 (StP.ch).

II-d-2 JOHN KETTERING, b- June 6, 1813 (StP.ch).

I-e JACOB KETTENRING, b- 1756, d- 1816 in Tennessee. He married Elizabeth Gose (Gose (I-a), the daughter of Stephen Gose and Elizabeth Spracher. Jacob was a blacksmith and a farmer. He was a soldier in Robert Doak's Company in 1774-1776, and was appointed a constable on Nov. 3, 1779. A survey for 550 acres was made for him Dec. 12, 1774 on the South Fork of Reed Creek and another for 100 acres Mar. 15, 1775 on Tait's Run, a branch of Reed Creek in Fincastle County, now in Wythe County, Virginia. Two more surveys for 180 and 132 acres were made on Reed Creek in 1782 and 1783. The children of Jacob and Elizabeth were:

II-e-1 JACOB KETTERING, JR.

II-e-2 ANNA MARIA KETTERING, b- May 8, 1782 (K.ch), m- (W.ct) Aug. 18, 1803 David Vaught.

II-e-3 ELIZABETH KETTERING, m- (W.ct) Jan. 30, 1803 Michael Kinzer.

II-e-4 CHRISTOPHER KETTERING, b- in 1786, d- Aug. 19, 1819 in Tennessee.

II-e-5 JULIA KETTERING, d- in 1840.

II-e-6 BARBARA KETTERING, m- May 7, 1807 Ira Bedwell of Grayson County, Virginia.

II-e-7 SOLOMON KETTERING, b- Dec. 3, 1799, d- in 1865 in Missouri.

I-f PHILIP KETTENRING, b- in 1758, d- in 1828, m- Elizabeth Spracher (Spracher I-g), the daughter of Christopher and Elizabeth Spracher. Philip was a soldier in Robert Doak's Company in 1774-1776. The names of two of his children were found in church records and two more in his Will which was probated in Washington County, Virginia on June 17, 1828.

Will Book 1 - Orange Co. Va.

Preface

Orange County at the time of its creation embraced al of the land from the Rappahannock River, beginning at its fork, across to the Blue Ridge, down the Valley and west t include all of West Virginia and Kentucky. It was erected by Act of the General Assembly in 1734 from the upper port of Spotsylvania County (which was created in 1720 from the northern portions of Essex, King and Queen and King Willia counties) and was originally coterminate with Saint Mark's Parish which had been formed three years earlier.

During the whole of the period covered by Will Book I these bounds were not changed. There were still no settle in the more westerly portions of this vast area, but many the testators named herein were residents of what shortly became Augusta and Frederick counties. The Act creating t two counties was passed in 1738 but it contained a provisi that no courts were to be held until there was a sufficien population. The Court of Frederick County was organized i 1743 and that of Augusta in 1745.

After 1745 Orange County included the present countie of Culpeper, Madison, Rappahannock and Greene. In 1749 th first three of these were cut off, leaving only the presen territory of Orange and Greene. Orange reached its presen size with the creation of Greene County in 1838.

Saint Thomas ' Parish was formed from Saint Mark's in 1740. In general, its area was south of the Rapidan and t residents of the parish remained in Orange County after 17

Orange is fortunate in having the great majority of i records from the beginning of the county. Not only have t record books been preserved, but also there are many of th original loose papers still on file at the Court House. M George H. S. King has kindly submitted a clarification of will in this volume based upon his examination of the orig which has been preserved.

W. W. Scott's A History of Orange County, Virginia (Richmond: 1907) is the only extensive volume relating to county but much has appeared in print about its history an families.

The clerk of Orange County during the period from 173 until July 1740 was Henry Willis. Beginning in September 1740 Jonathan Gibson signed the records as clerk.

Whenever a mark rather than a signature was affixed t a document, the mark has been placed in parenthesis. An "X has been used to indicate not only that symbol but also a cross or any other symbol which cannot be reproduced on a typewriter.

THE SLEMP FAMILY

SOURCE OF MATERIAL: Most of the following was obtained from Redmond S. Cole, 1312 So. Owasso St., Tulsa 20, Okla. & from Mrs. Horace B.Slimp of 260 Taft Blvd., San Antonio, Texas. Other material was obtained from "Tenn. Records", from Dr. John Bell Shoun's article in the 12-21-1932 edition of the Johnson Co. News and from correspondence with various people.

It appears that the first of this family in America was Frederick Slemp. "Tenn. Cousins", "Tenn. Records" & Dr. John B.Shoun refer to him as Simeon Schlemp. This seems to be a confusion of names rather than of individuals. The family name was originally Von Schlemp, shortened to Schlemp and now to Slemp and Slimp.

Frederick was born in Alsace, a German principality on the Rhine River & he was of German origin. He probably was born about 1737. It seems the opinion of most authorities that he sailed from Amsterdam in 1751 & after a 9 months voyage landed at either Norfolk, Va. or Philadelphia.

Other Schlemps seem to have come to America later. There is the record of Johann Peter Schlemp who sailed or arrived 10-16-1754 on the ship "Peggy Abercombrie"; of Geo. Schlemp, 10-3-1764 on the ship "King of Prussia" & of John Frederick Schlemp 10-5-1767 on the ship "Sally."

Frederick Slemp located in Rye Valley near what is now Sugar Grove, Smythe Co. Va., was then Wythe Co. & Wytheville was the county seat. Frederick Slemp's will was dated 2-17-1807 & was proven in June 1807 at Wytheville. He specified that his iron works in Va. be sold & the proceeds to be divided between his wife & 9 children.

Frederick Schlemp married Mary Metz, Mitz or Mitts. There is a city Metz in Lorraine so that spelling is given preference here. The birth dates of their children would indicate that they were married about 1766. It seems probable that they were married in Washington Co., Va. altho some authorities believe that they were married in Europe before either came to America. She is reported to have been born in 1742, possibly in what is now Washington Co. Va. She died 4-20-1826 at Shouns, JCT or at least while living with her daughter at Shouns. She was buried in Washington Co. Va. at least a 2 days journey from Shouns.

Frederick & Mary Slemp had 4 sons & 5 girls. They were apparently born between 1767 & 1785. The dates of their birth are uncertain & their correct sequence is not of record. The following sequence seems fairly reasonable:

Name	Lived	Married
II-1.Jacob	1767-	1.Sally Shoun, probably Leonard's sister 2.Mary Daughtery in 1792
II-2.Michael	1773-1846	Nancy Rasor
II-3.Barbara	1775-1851	Leonard Shoun
II-4.Frederick	1778-	Celia Lynch B.1788; D.1881
II-5.Caty	1779-	1. Whisman 2-.Wm. Twyford in 1797.
II-6.Mary	1780-	Peter Shupe about 1804
II-7.John	1781-1837	Alpha Smythe, she died 1866.
II-8.Ury		Jacob Lowe
II-9.Elizabeth		1.Sam'l Wells 2-.John Vaught in 1809.

Jacob & Michael Slemp and their sister Barbara Slemp Shoun settled on the Roane & Little Doe in what is now Johnson Co. Tenn. prior to 1798. The Slemps built the first forge west of the Blue Ridge and south of Va.; Snodgrass, the second & Lewis Wills Sr. the third.

A partial list of Frederick & Mary Slemps descendants follows. The list is taken almost entirely & in almost equal numbers from lists furnished by Mr. Cole & Mrs. Slimp.

THE VAUGHT FAMILY

Generation & Name	Lived	Married	Lived
I-1. John Vaught		Esther

His last will dated 6-6-1806. A John & a Joseph Vaught are reported to have settled in what is now JCT, prior to 1798.

II-1. Elizabeth Vaught		Heaton
II-2. Barbara "		Howard
II-3. Joseph "	1773-1830	Nancy Goodwin	Smythe Co. Va.

Nancy Goodwin (Mary Dugger Goodwin; Julius C. Dugger)
Her father was Lawson Goodwin.

III-1. Sabra Vaught		Wilbur Hardin
III-2. Sarah "		John H. Vaught - her 2nd cousin
III-3. Mary "		Mathias Wagner

This would have been Mathias Miller Wagner (Mathias; Daniel; Mathias Wagner) born 1801 & elsewhere reported to have married Mary Fyffe in 1829.

III-4. John S. "	1810-1885	1. Rebecca Shoun (Leonard Shoun)
		2. Nancy Gambeal

See Rebecca Shoun Vaught's record.

III-5. John Goodwin Vaught. had 2 children

A John Vaught married Elizabeth Slemp, sister to Barbara Slemp who married Leonard Shoun. One assumes he would have been born about 1775, or a 2nd generation in above outline.

I-1. John Vaught - Probably not the first Vaught in Tenn. Else how could III-2. Sarah marry her 2nd cousin John H. Vaught. Who were John H. Vaughts' parents & grandparents.

III-4. & 5. How come 2 brothers named John.

JOHN PAUL VOGT

Part 1

John Paul Vogt was born circa 1680 in Frankfurt, West Germany.[1*] John was married to Maria Catharina some time between 1704 and 1714. Their children were Catharina Margret, Mary Catherine, John Andrew and John Casper.[3] All six arrived at Philadelphia, PA in October 1733. The only German name on the ship's roster that was later associated with John Paul was Burger. Spellings for the Vogt name in the old records include Vaught, Vaut, Vought, Vot, Faut, Faught, Fought, Wacht, Wocht, Nacht and Bellfaut.

Much of the land in the Great Fork between the Rappahannock and Rapidan Rivers in what is today Madison and Culpeper Counties in Virginia was settled by Germans. John Paul's patent for land in Orange Co., VA was recorded in 1735.[4] John Paul's land adjoined that of Christian Clements. Christian's land was on Deep Run and was patented 21 NOV 1734, a year before John Paul got his patent.[5]

Christian married one of John Paul's two daughters, probably Catherine Margret, since Christian's wife is referred to as Catherine. The marriage may have taken place before John Paul moved to the Great Valley circa 1744.

John Paul and his wife Mary Catherine sold 170 acres, part of his original patent, to William Caul on 07 JUL 1744. John Paul also sold 470 acres, the rest of his patent, in 1744 to John Thomas for 5 shillings. John Paul may have moved to the Massannuten Mt. area between July 1744 and October 1744. John purchased 400 acres of David Logan in 1744.[6] He patented land on a north draft of the North River of the Shenandoah 20 SEP 1745.

Christian Clements patented land on the SE side of the South River of the Shenandoah 25 SEP 1746. In 1749 John Paul and Christian Clemens had a survey run on land on South River.[7]

John Paul died at his home in the Shenandoah Valley in 1761. When he moved there in 1744 the county was Orange. When he died there the county was Augusta. Today the county is Rockingham. John Paul's will was dated 09 OCT 1759 and was proved 18 AUG 1761. His estate sale and appraisal was dated 10 SEP 1761.[8] Besides the sons Andrew and Gaspar, only one daughter, the one who married Christian Clements, is mentioned in John's will. It is therefore assumed that the other daughter died without issue prior to October 1759, the date of John's will.

Christian Clements' will was dated 13 FEB 1780 and was proved 18 MAR 1783 in Augusta Co., VA.[9] The will named his wife Catherine, the eldest son Gaspar, a son John, a daughter Catherine who is the wife of George Trout, grandson David Trout and mentions but does not name his daughters married to Henry Liner and Philip Burger. Burger is also Barger or Barrier. Catherine (Vogt) Clements' will was dated 12 JUN 1783 and was proved in 1793. It names her son John, daughter Catherine and also mentions Jacob Barrier who was probably a grandson. The five children of Christian and Catherine (Vogt) Clements are:

1. Gaspar Clements who was born about 1746. Gaspar left a will dated 25 MAY 1813 in Rockingham Co., VA which was proven 27 FEB 1815.[10] Gaspar named his wife Mary and his children Christian, John, Nancy the wife of George Crawford, Catren, Polly and James.

2. Mary Catherine Clements married George Trout. George may have been the brother of Nicholas Trout who was killed by accident in a fight in 1753. George and Catherine had a son David who married Susannah Whetsel 29 SEP 1787 in Rockingham County.

3. John Clemons was married to Elizabeth. John Clemons may have been in Washington Co., VA in 1800.

4. Margaret Clements married Philip Barrier. They had sons Casper, Jacob and John. George Trout and Mary Catherine deeded land to Margaret Barrier 14 FEB 1761. This land was delivered to Gaspar Barrier 03 APR 1769. Evidently Philip Barrier was deceased by 1761 and Margaret by 1769.

5. Elizabeth Clements married Henry Lyner (or Liner). A list of Rockingham Co. tithables in 1783 has Henry Liner and his sons Christopher and Adam.

THE CHILDREN OF JACOB COONS (1740-1807) AND JOHN COONS (1742-1839)

David B. Boles, Department of Psychology, RPI, Troy, NY 12180

Jacob and John Coons are listed by Holtzclaw (1964) as children of Joseph Coons (1712-1794) of the Little Fork settlement, Culpeper co, Va. Although Holtzclaw identified a number of the children of these brothers, he was unable to separate them with any certainty according to whether their father was Jacob or John.

My father Harold W. Boles and I recently compiled documentation that establishes the children of both men. In an inventory dated 22 Sept 1807 in Montgomery co, Ky, the following persons among others are stated to have purchased items from the estate of Jacob Coons, deceased: Martin Coons, Daniel Rector, Lettis Coons, John Coons, John Coons son of John Coons, and Reuben Camper (Will Bk. A, p. 282-8, Montgomery co, Ky). Furthermore an account dated 16 June 1809 names the following as "Heirs and legatees" of Jacob: Mary Young, Elizabeth Rector, James Coons, Anne Coons, John Coons, Phebe Camper, Martin Coons, Nancy Coons, Henry Coons, Jacob Coons, and Joseph Coons (Will Bk. A, p.413-8, Montgomery co, Ky). The names of most of these legatees are repeated in a deed dated 8 Nov 1817, which also gives the names of several spouses (Deed Bk. 8, p.161-2, Montgomery co, Ky). Finally, on 10 Sept 1834, Letty Coons, along with several family members, participated in a deed that mentioned "dower out of the land of her late husband Jacob Coons deceased" (Deed Bk. 16, p. 473, Montgomery co, Ky).

From these and other records, it is established that Jacob Coons m. (1)

Elizabeth Hanback, daughter of Jacob Hanback, and fathered the following seven children, all believed to have been born in Culpeper co, Va:

1. Mary Coons, b. ca 1765?, m. 11 Mar 1786 in Culpeper co to Samuel Young, d. ca 1820.

2. Elizabeth Coons, b. ca 1767?, m. 21 Sept 1792 in Culpeper co to Daniel Rector, d. p 1816.

3. James Coons, b. ca 1769?, m. 25 Nov 1791 in Culpeper co to Ann Atwood, d. 1815/6 in Culpeper co. These are the author's ancestors.

4. Ann(e) Coons, b. ca 1771?, m. 22 Aug 1792 in Culpeper co to John Coons, Jr., d. p 1816.

5. John F. Coons, b. 3 May 1773, m. 23 May 1794 in Montgomery co, Ky, to Elizabeth P. Ellis, d. 8 July 1862, bur. near Spencer, Montgomery co.

6. Phoebe Coons, b. ca 1775?, m. ca 1798? to Reuben Kemper, d. bef 1835.

7. Martin Coons, b. ca 1779?, m. 1804 in Fayette co, Ky, to Mary Whitesides, d. p 1819.

Elizabeth Hanback Coons d. ca 6 Oct 1793, and Jacob Coons m. (2) ca 1794? to Letitia ("Letty" or "Lettis") Kemper. There were four children of this marriage, all believed to have been born in Montgomery co, Ky:

1. Jacob Coons, b. ca 1795?, m. 8 Nov 1820 in Montgomery co to Matilda Jane Howe, d. p 1833.

2. Henry Coons, b. ca 1797, m. 4 Dec 1817 in Montgomery co to Nancy Evans, d. p 1850.

3. Joseph Coons, b. 1799/1800, m. ca 1818 in Montgomery co to Lucretia Dalzell, d. p 1839.

4. Nancy Coons, b. ca 1801?, m. ca 1819? to Robert Evans, d. bef 1835.

It is interesting to note that the marriages of some of Jacob Coons' children were performed by John Hickerson, who from 1791-1809 was the preacher at Hedgeman's River Church (later called Jeffersonton Church) on the border of Fauquier and Culpeper counties (Semple, R.B. A History of the Rise and Progress of the Baptists in Virginia. Richmond: Pitt & Dickinson, 1894). The children so married include James (1791), Ann (1792), and Elizabeth (1792).

A list of the children of John Coons (1742-1839), as well as those of Jacob, appears in A Roster of Revolutionary Ancestors of the Indiana D.A.R. (Evansville, Ind: Unigraphic, Inc., 1976). With information added from other sources, they were:

1. John Coons, Jr., b. ca 1768?, m. 22 Aug 1792 in Culpeper co, Va to Ann Coons, d. p 1808.

2. Ann(a) Coons, b. ca 1770?, m. 29 Feb 1792 in Culpeper co to Joel Kemper.

3-9. Joseph, William, Benjamin, Elizabeth, Phebe, Sarah, and Shely Coons.

We know very little about these children, in large part because they are not in our direct ancestral line, and so they have received little attention. However, descendants of John may want to follow two leads in acquiring more information. First, the 1810 Census shows Coons men named John, Joseph, William, and Benjamin in Henry co, Ky. Second, the D.A.R. Roster cited above states that John Coons d. 16 Jan 1839 in Oldham co, Ky, which is just west of Henry co and which was in part formed from it in 1824. No doubt a search in these two counties would turn up more information on this branch of the family.

As noted in a previous issue of the newsletter, my father and I are currently preparing for publication a genealogy which in part covers the ancestors and some of the descendants of the Coons family. More information will be available there. Also covered will be ancestry relating to the Atwood, Hanback, Holtzclaw, Utterback, and Young families, among others. The publication date is expected to be in 1990.

NOTES ON THE COLONY OF 1714
Part 3, Relationship to Lt. Gov. Spotswood

John Blankenbaker, 38 Stirling Way, Chadds Ford, PA 19317

I'll start with several quotations from the period 1713 to about 1718. The first comes from "Christoph von Graffenried's Account of the Founding of New Bern" in Publications of the North Carolina Historical Commission by Vincent H. Todd, Raleigh, 1920.

"Meanwhile I (Graffenried) cannot omit to relate that when (fall of 1713) I reached London I was shocked to learn that Mr. J. Justus Albrecht with some forty miners had arrived. This caused me not a little pains, worry, vexation and expense, since this people had come there so blindly, thinking to find everything necessary for their support and their transportation to the American mines. But there was nothing on hands for them, and I was myself so lacking of money that I could scarcely get enough for my needs. Meanwhile no money remained from America and at London no note had been made for me, so that it was impossible for me to assist such a number of people. What an unendurable load this was for me can well be imagined, because they thought that on account of the treaty I was under obligations to look out for them, and they had come, thus, at my command. But I had written to them from America, and that often, and they had received several letters to the effect that the chief miner Justus Albrecht with his company should not come without my orders, saying that on account of the disturbances in Carolina and the Indian wars there was nothing to be done with the mines; that they had not been shown by Mr. Michel, but if the chief miner wanted to come immediately with one or two others to have a look, very well. But he went right about it in this thoughtless way."

"What was now to be done? I knew nothing better than to direct these people back home again, but this seemed so hard for them they preferred to hire themselves out for four years as servants in America then to return. In the meantime no ship was ready to sail for America, and they had to stay through the whole winter till spring in London. But what were they going to live on? This question caused me much trouble (a footnote at this point is quoted later). Finally I ran to one great man and another in order to procure work and bread for them. For some I found places, for others not. Meantime I was pressed to go home. At last I found two merchants of Virginia to whom I represented the matter as best I could, and recommended myself to Colonel Blankistore and was advised by him. I had been recommended to him by the Governor of Virginia with reference to the mines in order that his officers should help me at the court. The result was that these people were to put their money together and keep account according to the proportion of it. The rest of it certain above mentioned merchants advanced to make up the transportation and living charges of these people. At their landing the Governor was to accept them and look out for paying the ship captain,* the money they had advanced. For this purpose I wrote a circumstantial letter to Governor Spotswood to whom I represented one thing and another as well as I could, telling him that the little colony should be appointed to the land which we had together in Virginia not far from the place where minerals were found and, as supposed, the traces of the mine, where they could settle themselves according to the wise arrangements and under the helpful supervision of the Governor."

"Meanwhile if there were not sufficient indications for a silver mine they were to look elsewhere, and because in Virginia there were, at any rate, neither iron nor copper smelters but yet plenty of such minerals they could begin on these. And for these we needed no royal patents as we did for the silver mines. In the hopes that they would succeed, I commended these good miners to the protection of the Most High, and so they departed at the beginning of the year 1714. A whole year has now passed that I have received no report either from the Governor or from them, and for this reason I am in great anxiety." (These three paragraphs start on page 257. The following quotation, the footnote mentioned above, is from page 388.)

"At length I bestirred myself very much with some great lords in order to procure work and bread for these people. They employed them to make or repair a great dike. But a heavy rain came on and all was overturned. So then we had to look about for new expedients to enable them to subsist. I found place for a part, but not for all. Nevertheless I was anxious to go home, fearing a voyage in winter, feeling already an attack of the gout which does not suit well with cold. At last I found two powerful merchants, traders of Virginia. To them I proposed and recommended this affair as best I could. Along with that I consulted a lord of distinction to whom I was recommended by the Governor of Virginia regarding these very mines, in order that he might serve me and do his good offices at the court."

March 15, 1713/14
To Colo. Blakiston: "...I perceive you have alter'd y'r opinion by sending over those People (the Siegeners), partly at my charge. This makes me believe you have now greater hopes of her Maj't's Concessions in y't Affair (the mines) ... ...Wherefore I request you will use y'r endeavours, and also quicken My Lord Orkney to dispatch her Maj'ty's answer as soon as possible, that we may have some prospect of being reimburs'd the charge of maintaining so many people, w'ch must remain idle in the meantime."

January 27, 1714/5
To ye Lords Commissioners of Trade: "The Act for exempting certain German Protestants from ye payment of Levys, and is made in fav'r of several Familys of that Nation, who, upon the encouragement of the Baron de Graffinreed, came over hither in hopes to find out Mines, but the Baron's misfortunes obliged him to leave the Country before their arrival. They have been settled on ye Frontiers of Rappa. and subsisted since chiefly at my charge and the Contributions of some Gentlemen that have a prospect of being reimburs'd by their Labour whenever his Maj'tie shall be pleas'd, by ascertaining his Share to give encouragem't for working those Mines,"

Decem'r ye 1st, 1714
To Col. Blakiston: "...they (the Germans) will be a vast charge without any prospect of benefit till they can be set to Work."

February 7, 1715/6
To ye L'ds Comm'rs of Trade and Plantations: "As to the other Settlement, named Germanna, there are about forty Germans, Men, Women and Children, who, having quitted their native Country upon the invitation of the Herr Graffenriedt, and being greiviously disappointed by his failure to perform his Engagements to them, and they arriving also here just at a time when the Tuscaruro Indians departed from the Treaty they had made this Government to settle upon it Northern Frontiers, I did, both in Compassion to those poor Strangers, and in regard to the safety of the Country, place them together upon a piece of Land, several Miles without the Inhabitants, where I built them Habitations and subsisted them untill they were able, by their own Labour, to provide for themselves, and I presume I may, without a Crime or Misdemeanour, endeavor to put them in an honest way of paying their Just Debts."

Febrary 7, 1715/16
To ye L'ds Comm'rs of Trade and Plantations: "...I have frequently mentioned how the Germans came to be settled on this Land, and 'tis well known y't when they arrived in this Country they were so far from being able to undergo the charge of taking of Land for themselves, that they had not wherewithall to subsist. So that, besides the expence of one hundred and fifty pounds for their Transportation, they are still indebted for near two years' Charge of subsisting them. I cannot, therefore, imagine myself guilty of any oppression by placing them as Tenants upon my Land, when I had pursued the common methods of the Country and taken the advantage of the Law here--instead of being Tenants, they might have been my Servants for five years. ... The terms upon which the Germans are settled will not appear very like oppression, seeing they have lived for two years upon this Land without paying any Rent at all, and that all which is demanded of them for the future is no more than twelve days' work a year for each Household..."

In studying the relationship of the Siegeners to Spotswood, it is clear that Spotswood was a member of a partnership. Graffenried says this partnership was formed in London. Spotswood's letters confirm that others were in on the financial arrangements. Also John Fontaine confirms other gentlemen were involved. Also later land transactions refer to a iron mine partnership. However Spotswood was probably the majority interest and his name is used as a proxy for the partnership.

My conclusion as to the nature of the relationship between Spotswood and the Seigeners is that it was never formally defined and that the Siegeners and Spotswood had different opinions. In the end the Siegener's version prevailed.

Graffenried was initially at a complete loss for helping the Siegeners in London. He had no assets or means to assist them and could only recommend that they return to Siegen. The Siegeners were equally without financial resources but they offered to hire themselves out as servants for four years in order that they could go on to America. With this as a bargaining tool, Graffenried busied himself in finding a means for getting them to the Colonies and in finding temporary work for them until they sailed. I believe that the Siegeners regarded themselves as four-year indentured servants to commence on their arrival in the Colonies.

These agreements may not have been clearly communicated to Spotswood by Col. Blakiston. I believe that Spotswood initially regarded the Siegeners as a labor pool of indefinite duration. An analogy might be made to a "company town" where the company owns the land and the houses and the tenants are always in debt. In this case the company town was Germanna.

However, it should be noted that Spotswood was not always consistent in describing the Siegeners as tenants. He once wrote "until they can be set to work". Another time it was "reimbursed by their labors". These phrases sound more appropriate when describing servants than tenants. In the letter in which Spotswood does mention the Siegeners as tenants he also says that he has charged them no rent up to then which belies his description of them as tenants.

This last-mentioned letter is in a distinct category from the other letters of Spotswood. In this letter Spotswood is fighting for his job with respect to the accusations that were made against him and the performance of his duties. He gives one-sided testimony and we do not have the benefit of cross-examination of the witness. However, I believe Spotswood was describing his state of mind which, while slightly confused and inconsistent, did place the Siegeners as tenants.

Almost two years after the arrival of the Siegeners, Spotswood sounds as if the Siegeners had not performed any work for him or his partners. At this time, the Siegeners were in debt for their transportation and two years of subsistence. At about this time, work (mining and quarrying) began which went on to December 1718. I doubt that two and one-half years of labor would have been sufficient for a head of family to pay the expenses of transporting his family and of two years subsistence. (Many Germans died with personal estates of less than 50 pounds after 20 or 30 years here. Trans-Atlantic transportation cost about 6 pounds per person.)

The work for Spotswood did not go beyond December 1718 since that was the last date John Justus Albrecht and Jacob Holtzclaw gave for the work. Also Jacob Holtzclaw, in 1722, described himself as a resident of the County of Stafford for several years.

The fact that the work for Spotswood did not go beyond December 1718, which would have been insufficient to pay their debts, supports the idea that the Siegeners were convinced that their obligations were for four years. Actually the four years would have been up in March or April of 1718 but this would have been a very poor time to move to Germantown. There would not have been time to build shelter, clear ground and plant gardens and crops for the 1718 season. By staying at Germanna until December they could move in the winter and prepare ground for a spring planting. This would minimize the time that they had to live on a store of provisions.

I conclude that the Siegeners and Spotswood had distinctly different ideas about their relationship. The Siegeners believed they were not obligated for more than four years. Spotswood was treating them as labor which he could keep indefinitely. At some point, the Siegeners made it clear to Spotswood that they regarded their obligations as finite in time. Apparently there was no contract between Spotwood and the Siegeners and Spotswood could not press his view at court.

Probably the Siegeners had made their position known by the time the Colony of 1717 arrived. Spotswood now required a written contract with the term of service set at seven years. By his own statement five years was the norm but perhaps he was attempting to recover what he considered a short fall.

Having read the letters of Spotswood, I find several things to admire about the man and how he attempted to perform his job as Governor of Virginia. But I cannot admire him for his attitude toward the German immigrants.

INTERESTS, QUERIES, NOTES

STONECYPHER, SMITH. I believe Stonecyphers went to Rowan or Wilkes Co., NC. Edward Smith was in Burke Co., NC before Carter Co., TN where he died ca 1808. He supposedly was married twice with Catherine as one of the wives. I would like to exchange information on these families.
Mrs. James P. (Marge) Turner, 4723 West Highway 44, Leesburg, FL 34748.

GALLION, GALYEN GALYEAN. Will be glad to exchange information on this family surname. Emigrated from France to England to Baltimore Co., MD (1667). Descendants migrated to VA, NC and TN.
Leatrice Tanner Wagner, 2440 46th Avenue, Longview, WA 98632.

RECTOR, GLASSCOCK, WHARTON. I am looking for information on the two wives of Charles Rector (John, John Jacob Rector). I would like to know when and where Charles married Elizabeth Glasscock and Charlotte Wharton and when and where did Elizabeth and Charlotte die.
Malcolm R. Dixon, 5431 Merkens Drive, San Antonio, TX 78229.

MILLER, MOODY. I am searching on George Miller who was in Rev. War 1777 and was on 1790 tax list of what is now Adair Co., KY. Also I am working on John Moody who got a divorce from Mary Eve Moody in 1811-12 in Adair Co. I think George Miller was in Culpeper Co., VA.
Margaret L. Kilpatrick, 1854 Indiana Drive, Galesburg, IL 61401.

WILLHITE. I would like to locate record of first marriage of George Willhite, b. ca 1790, Greene Co., TN. Also I have information that Geo. Willhite was bought at a sale in 1827 in Alabama. Could anyone explain this?
Ruby Martin, 518 E. Dumble, Alvin, TX 77511.

HAWKINS, KILBY, HUDSON. Information is desired on Germanna families who married into the Hawkins, Kilby and Hudson families of Spotsylvania, Culpeper, Madison and Rappahannock Co., VA from 1700's to mid 1800's. Some were affiliated with Ragged Mt. (later known as F.T.) Baptist Church in area near Hughes River and Sperryville.
Joyce Colleen Libes, 818 W. Riverside, Apt. #B-6, Muncie, IN 47304.

YEAGER, WEAVER. Susanna Yeager, d/o Cornelius Yager and Elizabeth Fisher, b. 05 FEB 1802, d. 11 SEP 1888, m. James Weaver (ca 1799-1854) in Washington Co., KY. Can anyone help me with the ancestry of James Weaver?
Dorman D. Wright, 4412 Briar Cliff Drive, Alton, IL 62002.

BEFORE GERMANNA. Lineages, Inc., a professional genealogical firm, has announced a monograph series on the German origins of the early Robinson River settlers of Virginia. The families to be covered include Wilhoite, Clore, Kaifer, Thomas, Blankenbaker, Fleshman, Slucter, Weaver, Utz, Folg, Sheible, Peck, Milcker, Smith, Holt, Spade, Broyles, Paulitz, Moyer, Motz, Aylor, Castler, Manspiel, Reiner, Snyder, Amburger, Kerker, Kabler, Zimmerman, Yowell, Wegman, Leatherer, Yager, Stoltz, Crees, Beyerbach, Crisler, Teter, Deer, Baumgardner and Lotspeich. In the future, I would not be surprised if additional families were added. When these monographs are issued, BEYOND GERMANNA will carry reviews of them. Meanwhile, you may write to Lineages at P.O. Box 417, Salt Lake City, UT 84110 for more information. "Before Germanna" and BEYOND GERMANNA have no connection or affiliation.

THE SOCIETY OF GERMANNA COLONISTS. Lineages, Inc. (see above) is attempting to form "a lineage society organized to strengthen the bonds of kinship between the descendants of those affiliated with the Germanna Colonists of Virginia, and to perpetuate their memory by collecting and publishing the history, genealogy, traditions, and achievements of the colonists and their descendants". For more information write to them at P.O. Box 2607, Salt Lake City, UT 84110. In noting this item, I abstain from any recommendations either pro or con on the subject.

MAPS. For sheer fun and as an aid in researching land patents and localities where people lived, I recommend three maps of Madison and Culpeper Counties in Virginia. The Madison County map measures 24" by 31" and is filled with geographic features such as mountains, streams and valleys, locations of ruins and locations of private cemeteries. A very similar type of map for modern Culpeper Co. measuring 35" by 45" is equally crammed with details. Each of these maps is available from the Second National Bank, P.O. Box 71, Culpeper, VA 22701 for $4.00 postpaid. They come folded and one may wish to investigate their availability as unfolded maps. A slightly smaller map, very nicely done and suitable for framing, of old Culpeper Co. is available from the Corner Bookshelf Bookstore (213 Southgate Center, Culpeper, VA 22701) for $3.95 plus $1.25 postage.

If anyone can recommend other similarly detailed maps, I would appreciate receiving their comments.

THE 1787 CENSUS OF VIRGINIA. This census was derived from the 1787 tax returns in which the tax commissioner called on every person subject to taxation. All free males over 21 were, in theory, named. A count was also made of the number of free white males between 16 and 21. The lists were arranged by the dates that the commissioners visited the citizens so this shows the neighbors of an individual. An alphabetical list shows the personal property data. In 1787, Virginia included most of today's Virginia, West Virginia and Kentucky so the 1787 tax lists are of major importance. The entire set is expensive (over 2,000 pages) but is available by counties. For a few counties, the original 1787 data is missing and for these an attempt has been made to substitute alternative lists. For information, contact Genealogical Books in Print, 6818 Lois Drive, Springfield, VA 22150. I have enjoyed using the Culpeper Co. census in conjunction with the maps above to trace the steps of the tax commissioners.

MADISON COUNTY HOMES. Vee Dove is the author and publisher of this collection of pre-Civil War homes and family heritages. One hundred and seventy-one homes are included, each with at least one photograph and a short set of notes which often include genealogical data. Twenty-eight pages of every name index are included. I have enjoyed this book very much though I admit I may be prejudiced toward numerous Madison County ancestors. Vee's address is Mrs. Graham Tull, Jr., P.O. Box 847, Madison, VA 22727.

ROBERT TANNER AND HIS DESCENDANTS, A FAMILY HISTORY. 583 pps, privately printed (1989) by the author Leatrice Tanner Wagner (2440 46th Avenue, Longview, WA 98632) including 11 pages of references and 48 pages of indices. Though the first printing has been sold, the author is considering a revised edition. The first chapter is a history of Germanna and reading this chapter told me the author had done her homework. Checking the index, the following families may also benefit: Aylor (140 entries), Barlow (15), Beeman (21), Berry (15), Blankenbaker (18), Broyles (39), Carpenter (61), Clore (23), Cook (27), Crigler (56), Crisler (17), Fink(s) (9), Hawkins (14), House (55), Huffman (30), Rouse (130), Snyder (18), Thomas (14), Utz (56), Weaver (24), Wilhoit (12), Yowell (18) and Zimmerman (29). Many other families have mentions also including, for example, Deer, Delph, Deal, Fishback, Fisher, Fleshman, Hitt and Holtzclaw.

BUNGER, ANCESTORS AND DESCENDANTS AND ALLIED FAMILIES. 294 pps, softcover, (1982) by Ina Ritchie Sipes (405 Lake View Drive, Brandenburg, KY 40108) including 27 pages of indices. A nice touch to this book are the illustrations and the poetry of the author. One could wish that more were known about Velden (Felta) and his wife Elizabeth who purchased land on Deep Run in Culpeper Co., VA in 1775. Enough is known to launch a history as their children married Houses, Hoffman, Garriotts and Mossbarger.

SPOTSWOOD, RUSSELL. Gov. Spotswood referred to Catherine Russell or Mrs. Russell as the manager of his family's business in Virginia and as the only relative he had in Virginia. Does anyone know how they were related? John Blankenbaker, 38 Stirling Way, Chadds Ford, PA 19317.

John Paul Vogt, the 1733 immigrant, moved with his family to the Great Valley circa 1744. One of the expansion areas from the Shenandoah Valley was southwestern Virginia on Reed Creek and Cripple Creek, tributaries of the New River. Seventy-five German families were there before the Revolution.[11] One of these was John Andrew Vaught, son of John Paul Vogt. Andrew was the assignee of John Parkes for 600 acres on the head of Reed Creek. Andrew was to pay the interest starting in 1762. Andrew sold his land in the Massannuten Mountain area during the 1760's. Andrew is mentioned in a road crew in Augusta Co. in 1768. By 1772 the Vaught name appears on the militia lists from SW Virginia so Andrew moved there between 1768 and 1772. Politically the area was Botetourt County in 1770, Fincastle County from 1772 to 1777, Montgomery County in 1777 and lastly Wythe County in 1790.[12] The records from 1772 to 1800 yield the names of Andrew Vaught, Sr., Andrew Vaught, Jr., George Vaught, John Vaught, Gaspar Vaught, Christian Vaught, David Vaught and Henry Vaught.[13]

There is no evidence that Gaspar, brother of Andrew (Sr.), or any of Gaspar's family, ever moved to this southwestern part of Virginia. A German birth fraktur exists that states the parents of the babe, Andrew, are George and Christina (Phillippi) Vaught and the grandparents are Andrew and Elizabeth Vaught. John Paul's son Andrew is known to have married an Elizabeth.[14] The date on the fraktur, February 1787, provides good proof that Andrew, Sr. had a son George. The other six men above are assumed also to be sons of Andrew and Elizabeth Vaught. There is no proof of this assumption other than land association and the lack of any other known Vaught in the area to whom they could be assigned. No evidence of daughters has been found. Andrew could have married Elizabeth before moving from the Robinson River area circa 1744 but probably he married after the move to the Valley. A 1787 tax list is the last known record of Andrew and he probably died circa 1788.[13]

The following are believed to be seven sons of Andrew, Sr. and Elizabeth:

1. George Vaught was born circa 1745. (He appears as teste on a document in 1763.[14]) George married Christina Phillippi, daughter of John and Barbara (Eichelberger[15]) Phillippi[16] circa 1781. George was in the Continental Army and was mustered out in 1775 because he owned a mill. The will of George Vaught was dated 13 MAR 1825 and proved 11 AUG 1835, Wythe Co., VA. The will names sons David, John, Andrew, George, Peter, Charles, Joseph, Jefferson and Abraham. It also names daughters Mary, Elizabeth and Christiana. There was also a son Stephen who died young.[23]

2. John Vaught was born circa 1747. John was the first Vaught to appear in the records of the Wythe Co. area and therefore he was probably one of the oldest sons. John was in the militia in 1772. His wife was Esther. John's will was dated 1806 in Carter Co., TN and it names a son Joseph and two daughters, Elizabeth Heaton and Barbara Howard.

3. Gaspar Vaught was born circa 1749. The 1830 census of Pulaski Co., KY gives his age as 80-90. Gaspar married Elizabeth Butcher circa 1777 and their children were born in Virginia. Gaspar left no will. A Catherine Vaught who married Michael Cregar 16 JUN 1795 in Wythe Co. was probably a daughter. Another possible daughter was Barbara who married George Goodman in 1798. Twins, Chirstley and Elizabeth, born in 1782, are children of Gaspar and Elizabeth as listed in the Kimberling Church baptismal records.[17] George Vaught who married Anna King in 1804 may have been a son. George was a riverboat Captain who drowned when his boat sank January, 1820. George's widow and children moved to Indiana. Nathan Vaught who married Sally Gleaves in 1810 may have been a son. John was a son of Gaspar and Elizabeth and was born 10 JAN 1788 according to the Kimberling Church records. Christine married John Meece 07 OCT 1811 and Mary married Edmund Newby 09 OCT 1811, both in Pulaski Co., KY. Gaspar was listed as the father of the brides. Sarah was born 28 MAY 1800 to Gaspar and Elizabeth and the birth is in the Kimberling Church records.

4. Christley Vaught was born circa 1751-1755. He married Elizabeth Phillippi, daughter of John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi[16] circa 1781. Elizabeth was a younger sister of Christina who married Christley's brother George. Christley's will was dated 17 MAR 1828, Wythe Co., VA and was proved 09 AUG 1830. The will names sons George, Christopher, Henry and John. Daughters named were Barbara, Elizabeth, Christina, Rosanna, Sally, Leah and Catherine.[18]

5. David Vaught was born circa 1757 and he was in the militia in 1774 during the Indian wars. David and his wife Margaret sold land in Wythe Co. in 1792. David's wife may have been Margaret Dobler, daughter of Jacob Dobler.[19] Another spelling for Dobler was Tobler. Margaret was the sister of Betsy Dobler who may have been the wife of David's brother Andrew, Jr.

6. Andrew Vaught, Jr. was born circa 1759-61. He was the last of the seven sons to appear in the records and was probably one of the youngest but maybe not the youngest. Andrew, Jr. married Elizabeth circa 1779. She may have been Betsy Dobler, daughter of Jacob Dobler.[19] Known children of Andrew, Jr. and Elizabeth were Henry and Mary.[17]

7. Henry Vaught was born circa 1764. (He was over 45 in the 1810 Wythe Co. census.) The name of his first wife was Catharina Datteringin (from a German marriage fraktur for Henry's son William). The "in" ending is the feminine case. The baptismal records of the Zion Lutheran Church at Cripple Creek (in German) give the following spellings for Dutton: Dothner, Derting, Derding, Dollinger and Dutton. The introduction in the book on the Kimberling Church records[17] indicates that Doddinger was also used for Dutton. It is therefore believed that Dattering is another form of Dutton. Children of Henry and Catherine were Jacob, William, Elizabeth and Henry. Henry, Sr. married second Esther Baugh on 28 JUL 1795. Children of Henry and Esther were Barbara, Isaac, Anna, Sarah, Jemina, Jeremiah and Abraham.[20]

The Vaughts in southwestern Virginia were sympathetic to the Loyalists and not to the Revolution. On 18 APR 1779, in Wythe Co., Michael Henninger claimed in court that a group of 4,000 men under John Griffeth had shown Loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaught and "the old Vaught who owned the mill". At the trial of these men, John and David Vaught were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught of Cripple Creek was included in the group with Loyalist sympathies by the testimony of Peter Kinder. These Germans took their Oath to the King seriously. John and David Vaught were later fined 1,000 pounds each. John, David and Andrew, sons of Andrew, Sr. and Elizabeth, went to Tennessee circa 1790. It is possible that John and David left Wythe Co. rather than pay such a heavy fine.

Two of Andrew's sons went to Pulaski Co., KY, Gaspar in 1809 and Henry in 1811. Two remained in Wythe Co., VA and died there, Christley in 1828 and George circa 1835. From Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee descendants spread out to Missouri, Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas and Illinois. Now Andrew's descendants extend across the United States and use the name Vaught.

'Before Germanna' MONOGRAPHS

Volume 1, 55 pages+: Johann Michael Willheit and Anna Maria Hengsteler
Volume 2, 55 pages+: Clore, Kaifer and Thomas Families
Volume 3, 45 pages+: Blankenbaker, Fleshman, Slucter Families
Volume 4, 57 pages+: Weaver, Utz and Folg Families
Volume 5, 59 pages+: Sheible, Peck, Milker, Smith, Holt Families
Volume 6, 46 pages+: Broyles, Paulitz, Moyer, Motz Families

The authors are Johni Cerny and Gary J. Zimmerman. Each volume is 5 3/8" by 8 3/8" and is indexed. Available from Lineages, Inc., P.O. Box 417, Salt Lake City, UT 84110. $10.00 per volume or three for $25.00 plus postage.

The number of pages is misleading as twenty-two pages are repeated from volume to volume. The amount of information on each family varies considerably. The parentage of Michael Käfer takes less than one page while the parentage of Michael Willheit and his wives takes 17 pages. Any information from Europe is welcome though and these monographs will help satisfy that quest. They will probably sell briskly and become a major reference source.

Since BEYOND GERMANNA has published the research of Margaret Squires on the Blankenbaker, Fleshman and Sluchter families, see BG:21, I took Volume 3 of the monographs for comparison purposes. The evidence in Baden agrees very well with only small differences. For example, Mrs. Squires reports that Maria Barbara Blanckenbühler (d/o John Nicholas) died the day after birth and 'Before Germanna' did not report this. But'Before Germanna' does carry some history of the Plankenbühlers from Gresten, Austria. No evidence was presented which shows the link from Baden back to Austria and this was a disappointment.

Unfortunately the editorial preparation of the monographs is poor. I understand that Gary Zimmerman, the principal researcher, had health problems and for this reason the monographs may have been sent to the printers without a thorough proofing.

Several errors, many arising from speculation and not solid facts, have entered into the traditional histories of several families. The informantion from Germany should lay some of these to waste. At the same time, new relationships were discovered. Some of these were reported in BEYOND GERMANNA, but new relationships have been found in the Weaver and Clore families. The Weaver family, not counted previously among the 1717 Colony, is a member of the 1717 Colony.

If any of your families are in the group to be covered by the 'Before Germanna' monographs, you will want to obtain the appropriate copies.

Part 3

The first two parts of this article have considered the immigrant family and two of the surviving children, Catherine who married Christian Clements and Andrew who married Elizabeth _____. This concluding part treats the second son, Gaspar.

Gaspar Faught, son of John Paul and Catherine, married Elizabeth Wilkiss ca 1750. Gaspar lived near North River as did his father, John Paul. Gaspar sold his land in the 1770's. In 1780 Gaspar moved south to a German community in Botetourt County, VA on the headwaters of the James River. Gaspar last appears on the tax lists of Botetourt County in 1787. A Caspar Faught died by May 1753 in Augusta County and left orphans, Conrad and Jacob Cood. This was not Caspar the son of John Paul Vogt.

Gaspar Faught, son of John Paul, left married sons and daughters in Rockingham County and in Botetourt County. Some sons moved west to Greenbrier County and on to Franklin County, KY. This branch of the family spells the surname with an "F". The children of Gaspar and Elizabeth (Wilkiss) Faught are:

1. Martin Faught was born circa 1755 in Augusta County. He had a daughter Elizabeth who married George Shaeffer 30 SEP 1796. Martin was probably married by 1778. He was an elder at Ermentrout's Church[2].

2. Paul (or Powell) Faught was born circa 1757. He was listed with Gaspar in the Botetourt tithables 1780 to 1786, therefore he was born before 1763. Paul went to Franklin County, KY by 1795. He may have had sons Josepher (Joseph?) and William and daughters Margaret and Catherine[21].

3. Adam Faught was born circa 1759. He had land next to his father in the Shenandoah Valley. Adam stayed in Rockingham County, VA. Adam married a Catherine circa 1780. Children of Adam and Catherine were Margaret born circa 1782, Catherine born circa 1784, John who married Catherine Placker, Adam, Jr., George who married Christina Yeagley, Barbara who married Abraham Teshler, Susuanna born circa 1793, Mary who married John Wise and Elizabeth born circa 1805 who married Jacob Cole[22].

4. Sarah Faught was born 28 NOV 1761. The birth is in the Peaked Mountain Church baptismal records.

5. Gaspar Faught was born 05 SEP 1763. The birth is also in the Peaked Mountain Church baptismal records[2]. Gaspar, Jr. died in Greenbrier County, (WV) in December 1795. In 1797 Rachel Faut married Jacob Johnston there. This could have been the widow of Gaspar, Jr. but it is not known at this time who Rachel really was.

6. Leonard Faught was born circa 1765. Leonard's name appears near Paul's in Kentucky. Leonard is too old to be a son of Paul so is probably a brother. Leonard gave permission for his daughter Barbara to marry in 1799 in Franklin County.

7. Barbara Faught was born circa 1767. Barbara married John Edwards 04 JUL 1785 in Botetourt County, VA. The marriage record names Gaspar as the father of the bride.

8. Elizabeth Faught was born circa 1769. She married Thomas Jackson 31 AUG 1786 in Botetourt County, VA. The marriage record names Gaspar as the father of the bride.

9. George Faught was born circa 1771. He married Mary Persinger 11 SEP 1789 in Botetourt County, VA.

BEYOND GERMANNA

Volume 2 Number 3 May 1990

John Blankenbaker P.O. Box 120 Chadds Ford, PA 19317

Mother's Day and Memorial Day, 1990

This issue is dedicated to the Mother Anna Catharina Friesenhagen who faced a difficult choice in 1713. Few of us, under similar circumstances, would have decided to go to the New World as she did. She traded a life of some degree of comfort and certainty for major unknowns. The outcome for her was one that she could have least expected in 1713.

ANNA CATHARINA FRIESENHAGEN

Anna Catharina was the daughter of Jacob Friesenhagen (1629-ca 1674) who had married at Siegen on Whittuesday 1651 Anna Maria Dresler of Siegen. Jacob and Maria lived for a few years in Siegen until they moved to Freudenberg ca 1654. He was taken into the Guild of Smelters and Hammersmiths in 1654. Jacob and Anna Maria had ten children and Anna Catharina was the sixth. Six of these children died young, three have known marriages and the fate of one is unknown.

Anna Catharina was born 24 MAY 1663 and she was the youngest surviving child of about eleven years of age when her father died. Only a few years later when she was fifteen and a half (03 DEC 1678) she married Johann Henrich Haeger, better known later as Rev. Henry Haeger (or Hager). They had twelve children who were all born at Siegen except the last who was born at Oberfischbach:

	1. Johann Henrich,	b. 1680
	2. Johann Jacob,	b. 1682
+	3. Johann Friederich,	b. 1684
	4. Elsbeth,	b. 1687,	d. 1693
	5. Johannes,	b. 1689
	6. Anna Maria,	b. 1692
	7. Johann Moritz,	b. 17 MAR 1695,	d. 28 MAR 1695
	8. Johannes,	b. 20 AUG 1696,	d. 03 SEP 1696
+	9. Agnes,	b. 26 OCT 1697
	10. Johann Henrich,	b. 27 APR 1700,	d. 11 MAY 1701
+	11. Anna Katharina,	b. 15 MAY 1702
	12. Johann Jacob,	b. 1704,	d. 21 JUL 1705

In a May 1708 census of the District of Freudenberg, the household consisted of:

father	Henrich Häger
mother	Anna Catharina
son	Johann Friedrich
daughter	Agnes Catharina
daughter	Anna Catharina
a	manservant, and
two	maids.

Apparently only three of the children had survived since the names of the first two sons were used again and Johannes, at 19 years of age, would probably still be in the home if he were living.

Johann Friederich Häger was baptised at Netphen on the 18th Sunday after Trinity in 1684. He matriculated 05 JUL 1703 at the Herborn Paedagogium. After examination by the Consistory in Siegen, he was licensed as a preacher 14 FEB 1708. Upon agreeing to cross-ordination by the Church of England, he was appointed minister to the Palatines in New York where he arrived in 1710. The Society for the Preservation of the Gospel records show that he baptised 61 children and married 101 couples from July 1710 to July 1712. He was naturalized 04 OCT 1715 at New York City. He married Anna Catharina Rohrbach 13 NOV 1716. In 1721 Johann Friederich Häger died and his widow remarried to Rev. Ogilvie. There are no known surviving children of Johann Friederich. A first cousin of Johann Friederich, Johann Henrich Häger, born in Netphen, came also in 1710 and died that same year. He left one son who, by his mother's testimony in 1749, had 11 living children. (Jones and Holtzclaw differ on facts concerning Johann Friederich; I have followed Jones.)

As the citizens of Nassau-Siegen were considering, from 1710 to 1713, the mining venture in the New World, I have wondered about the motives of the senior Pastor Henry Hager and his wife Anna Catharina. Perhaps they hoped to be reunited, at least for a visit, with their son. This could have been a positive factor in the decision to go. On the other hand, Pastor Hager was 69 years old in 1713 and Anna Catharina was 50. For two years he had been retired from the pastorate because of ill health. At home they would seem to be well provided for if there were a manservant and two maids. Pastor Hager's life expectancy was short and to him it might have mattered little where he spent the last few years. To Anna Catharina though, the prospect of a move to the New World could have been a challenge. She had to leave a comfortable home and perhaps face many years alone without her husband. Also she had the chance of being responsible for two daughters who were only 16 and 11 in 1713. Anna Catharina (Friesenhagen) Häger showed an unusual fortitude in moving to America.

Events turned out somewhat differently than might have been expected in 1713. Anna Catharina's husband lived until 1737 and she herself was living in 1733. The two daughters were married in Virginia:

> Agnes Haeger married John Fishback ca 1714/15 as his first wife.
> Anna Catherine Haeger married John Hoffman as his first wife on 07 NOV 1721 at Germantown. She died 09 FEB 1729 at the birth of a stillborn son, her fifth child.

Whether Henry and Anna Catharina Haeger were ever reunited with their son in New York is uncertain but probably not. The parents outlived all of their children.

(Editor's note.) I omitted my name as author since I contributed only some interpretations and took the facts from two sources: Holtzclaw, B.C., Ancestry and Descendants of the Nassau-Siegen Immigrants to Virginia 1714-1750, (1978) Green Publishers, Orange, Virginia; Jones, Henry Z, Jr., The Palatine Families of New York 1710, (1985) Universal City, California.

If these recognitions of our foremothers are to be an annual event, start now on your contribution. I have in mind mothers who were born in Germany and who came to America but the requirement is not rigid. More than anything, I wish to recognize the role of the Mothers.

THE IMMIGRANT CHRISTOPHER ZIMMERMAN

Margaret Squires, S. 1906 Ridgemont, Veradale, WA 99037

The Zimmermann family came from Steffisburg, canton of Bern, Switzerland, before 1665 to Ravensburg, Baden, Germany. Ravensburg is very near Sulzfeld where John (s/o Christopher) Zimmerman stated in Virginia that he was from.

The Sulzfeld Evangelische Church Parish shows the birth of Johann Christoph Zimmermann as 16 March 1692 and his baptism as the 17th. He was the third son of Christian (Christian^2 Michael^3) Zimmermann and Eva Dünstler of Langenbruck, the daughter of Michael Dünster (as written).

Christoph's life in Germany was filled with tragedy in the form of the death of family members. When Christoph was six years old, his mother, Eva, died. Her death was about nine months after she had given birth to a daughter, Maria Eva, of whom no later record is found.

Nine months after the death of his mother, Christoph's father remarried. The new wife and stepmother was Maria Barbara Edel, the daughter of Engelhard Edel and his wife Anna Maria of Sulzfeld. A large second family followed.

Christoph's only brother whom he had known, Johann Conrad, who was two years older than Christoph, died when Christoph was eight years old. Three years later in 1703 his Grandfather Zimmermann died when Christoph was eleven. His Grandmother Zimmermann died in 1708 when young Christoph was sixteen.

Johann Christoph, at the early age of eighteen years (27 JUL 1710), married a girl five or six years his senior. This was Dorothea Rol or Rottle (the third letter of the name was marked out or possibly written over making the name very difficult to read). She was the daughter of Martin Rol (or Rottle) of "Horndorff". Their first child Johannes was born 11 April 1711 and was baptized the next day. Their second child (sex not indicated) was stillborn the 26 April 1713. Less than a year after the stillborn child, Christoph's wife, Dorothea, died at the age of twenty-seven years on 16 January 1714. Christoph was a widower at twenty-two years of age with a son Johannes of less than three years of age.

A year and a half later Christoph appears in the same parish with a wife, Anna Elizabeth, when their first child, Johann Martin, was born 15 June 1715 (baptized on the 16th). Where Christoph had remarried and the surname of Anna Elizabeth are not known. At the age of twenty-five, Christoph decided to leave his father, possibly his sister Maria Eva, and his six living half-brother and sisters. He landed in Virginia with his wife Elizabeth and sons John and Andrew. It is presumed that during the trip Johann Martin died and Andrew was born.

The identity of this family with the Virginia family of Zimmerman is indicated by the names Christopher, Elizabeth and John and by the village John Zimmerman gave for his origin. It is also confirmed by an oath in Madison Co., VA by a John Zimmerman and an Elizabeth Weaver to the effect that Frederick Zimmerman was the only brother of "the whole blood" and heir at law of Christopher Zimmerman (II), deceased. This shows that the John Zimmerman who came to Virginia was not the son of Elizabeth. (Madison Co., VA Order Book #1-3, 1793-1798, p.9)

Johann Christopher Zimmermann's father was Christian Zimmermann (Jr.), (s/o Christian Zimmermann and Maria Schucter), chr. 30 December 1669, d. 22 May 1735, m.1 Eva Dünstlerin, (d/o Michael Dünster) on 28 January 1688 and by

John Paul Vogt, the 1733 immigrant, moved with his family to the Great Valley circa 1744. One of the expansion areas from the Shenandoah Valley was southwestern Virginia on Reed Creek and Cripple Creek, tributaries of the New River. Seventy-five German families were there before the Revolution.[11] One of these was John Andrew Vaught, son of John Paul Vogt. Andrew was the assignee of John Parkes for 600 acres on the head of Reed Creek. Andrew was to pay the interest starting in 1762. Andrew sold his land in the Massannuten Mountain area during the 1760's. Andrew is mentioned in a road crew in Augusta Co. in 1768. By 1772 the Vaught name appears on the militia lists from SW Virginia so Andrew moved there between 1768 and 1772. Politically the area was Botetourt County in 1770, Fincastle County from 1772 to 1777, Montgomery County in 1777 and lastly Wythe County in 1790.[12] The records from 1772 to 1800 yield the names of Andrew Vaught, Sr., Andrew Vaught, Jr., George Vaught, John Vaught, Gaspar Vaught, Christian Vaught, David Vaught and Henry Vaught.[13]

There is no evidence that Gaspar, brother of Andrew (Sr.), or any of Gaspar's family, ever moved to this southwestern part of Virginia. A German birth fraktur exists that states the parents of the babe, Andrew, are George and Christina (Phillippi) Vaught and the grandparents are Andrew and Elizabeth Vaught. John Paul's son Andrew is known to have married an Elizabeth.[14] The date on the fraktur, February 1787, provides good proof that Andrew, Sr. had a son George. The other six men above are assumed also to be sons of Andrew and Elizabeth Vaught. There is no proof of this assumption other than land association and the lack of any other known Vaught in the area to whom they could be assigned. No evidence of daughters has been found. Andrew could have married Elizabeth before moving from the Robinson River area circa 1744 but probably he married after the move to the Valley. A 1787 tax list is the last known record of Andrew and he probably died circa 1788.[13]

The following are believed to be seven sons of Andrew, Sr. and Elizabeth:

1. George Vaught was born circa 1745. (He appears as teste on a document in 1763.[14]) George married Christina Phillippi, daughter of John and Barbara (Eichelberger[15]) Phillippi[16] circa 1781. George was in the Continental Army and was mustered out in 1775 because he owned a mill. The will of George Vaught was dated 13 MAR 1825 and proved 11 AUG 1835, Wythe Co., VA. The will names sons David, John, Andrew, George, Peter, Charles, Joseph, Jefferson and Abraham. It also names daughters Mary, Elizabeth and Christiana. There was also a son Stephen who died young.[23]

2. John Vaught was born circa 1747. John was the first Vaught to appear in the records of the Wythe Co. area and therefore he was probably one of the oldest sons. John was in the militia in 1772. His wife was Esther. John's will was dated 1806 in Carter Co., TN and it names a son Joseph and two daughters, Elizabeth Heaton and Barbara Howard.

3. Gaspar Vaught was born circa 1749. The 1830 census of Pulaski Co., KY gives his age as 80-90. Gaspar married Elizabeth Butcher circa 1777 and their children were born in Virginia. Gaspar left no will. A Catherine Vaught who married Michael Cregar 16 JUN 1795 in Wythe Co. was probably a daughter. Another possible daughter was Barbara who married George Goodman in 1798. Twins, Chirstley and Elizabeth, born in 1782, are children of Gaspar and Elizabeth as listed in the Kimberling Church baptismal records.[17] George Vaught who married Anna King in 1804 may have been a son. George was a riverboat Captain who drowned when his boat sank January, 1820. George's widow and children moved to Indiana. Nathan Vaught who married Sally Gleaves in 1810 may have been a son. John was a son of Gaspar and Elizabeth and was born 10 JAN 1788 according to the Kimberling Church records. Christine married John Meece 07 OCT 1811 and Mary married Edmund Newby 09 OCT 1811, both in Pulaski Co., KY. Gaspar was listed as the father of the brides. Sarah was born 28 MAY 1800 to Gaspar and Elizabeth and the birth is in the Kimberling Church records.

4. Christley Vaught was born circa 1751-1755. He married Elizabeth Phillippi, daughter of John and Barbara (Eichelberger) Phillippi[16] circa 1781. Elizabeth was a younger sister of Christina who married Christley's brother George. Christley's will was dated 17 MAR 1828, Wythe Co., VA and was proved 09 AUG 1830. The will names sons George, Christopher, Henry and John. Daughters named were Barbara, Elizabeth, Christina, Rosanna, Sally, Leah and Catherine.[18]

5. David Vaught was born circa 1757 and he was in the militia in 1774 during the Indian wars. David and his wife Margaret sold land in Wythe Co. in 1792. David's wife may have been Margaret Dobler, daughter of Jacob Dobler.[19] Another spelling for Dobler was Tobler. Margaret was the sister of Betsy Dobler who may have been the wife of David's brother Andrew, Jr.

6. Andrew Vaught, Jr. was born circa 1759-61. He was the last of the seven sons to appear in the records and was probably one of the youngest but maybe not the youngest. Andrew, Jr. married Elizabeth circa 1779. She may have been Betsy Dobler, daughter of Jacob Dobler.[19] Known children of Andrew, Jr. and Elizabeth were Henry and Mary.[17]

7. Henry Vaught was born circa 1764. (He was over 45 in the 1810 Wythe Co. census.) The name of his first wife was Catharina Datteringin (from a German marriage fraktur for Henry's son William). The "in" ending is the feminine case. The baptismal records of the Zion Lutheran Church at Cripple Creek (in German) give the following spellings for Dutton: Dothner, Derting, Derding, Dollinger and Dutton. The introduction in the book on the Kimberling Church records[17] indicates that Doddinger was also used for Dutton. It is therefore believed that Dattering is another form of Dutton. Children of Henry and Catherine were Jacob, William, Elizabeth and Henry. Henry, Sr. married second Esther Baugh on 28 JUL 1795. Children of Henry and Esther were Barbara, Isaac, Anna, Sarah, Jemina, Jeremiah and Abraham.[20]

The Vaughts in southwestern Virginia were sympathetic to the Loyalists and not to the Revolution. On 18 APR 1779, in Wythe Co., Michael Henninger claimed in court that a group of 4,000 men under John Griffeth had shown Loyalist sympathies. This group included John and David Vaught and "the old Vaught who owned the mill". At the trial of these men, John and David Vaught were released on their good behavior. Andrew Vaught of Cripple Creek was included in the group with Loyalist sympathies by the testimony of Peter Kinder. These Germans took their Oath to the King seriously. John and David Vaught were later fined 1,000 pounds each. John, David and Andrew, sons of Andrew, Sr. and Elizabeth, went to Tennessee circa 1790. It is possible that John and David left Wythe Co. rather than pay such a heavy fine.

Two of Andrew's sons went to Pulaski Co., KY, Gaspar in 1809 and Henry in 1811. Two remained in Wythe Co., VA and died there, Christley in 1828 and George circa 1835. From Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee descendants spread out to Missouri, Indiana, Alabama, Arkansas and Illinois. Now Andrew's descendants extend across the United States and use the name Vaught.

'Before Germanna' MONOGRAPHS

Volume 1, 55 pages+: Johann Michael Willheit and Anna Maria Hengsteler
Volume 2, 55 pages+: Clore, Kaifer and Thomas Families
Volume 3, 45 pages+: Blankenbaker, Fleshman, Slucter Families
Volume 4, 57 pages+: Weaver, Utz and Folg Families
Volume 5, 59 pages+: Sheible, Peck, Milker, Smith, Holt Families
Volume 6, 46 pages+: Broyles, Paulitz, Moyer, Motz Families

The authors are Johni Cerny and Gary J. Zimmerman. Each volume is 5 3/8" by 8 3/8" and is indexed. Available from Lineages, Inc., P.O. Box 417, Salt Lake City, UT 84110. $10.00 per volume or three for $25.00 plus postage.

The number of pages is misleading as twenty-two pages are repeated from volume to volume. The amount of information on each family varies considerably. The parentage of Michael Käfer takes less than one page while the parentage of Michael Willheit and his wives takes 17 pages. Any information from Europe is welcome though and these monographs will help satisfy that quest. They will probably sell briskly and become a major reference source.

Since BEYOND GERMANNA has published the research of Margaret Squires on the Blankenbaker, Fleshman and Sluchter families, see BG:21, I took Volume 3 of the monographs for comparison purposes. The evidence in Baden agrees very well with only small differences. For example, Mrs. Squires reports that Maria Barbara Blanckenbühler (d/o John Nicholas) died the day after birth and 'Before Germanna' did not report this. But'Before Germanna' does carry some history of the Plankenbühlers from Gresten, Austria. No evidence was presented which shows the link from Baden back to Austria and this was a disappointment.

Unfortunately the editorial preparation of the monographs is poor. I understand that Gary Zimmerman, the principal researcher, had health problems and for this reason the monographs may have been sent to the printers without a thorough proofing.

Several errors, many arising from speculation and not solid facts, have entered into the traditional histories of several families. The informantion from Germany should lay some of these to waste. At the same time, new relationships were discovered. Some of these were reported in BEYOND GERMANNA, but new relationships have been found in the Weaver and Clore families. The Weaver family, not counted previously among the 1717 Colony, is a member of the 1717 Colony.

If any of your families are in the group to be covered by the 'Before Germanna' monographs, you will want to obtain the appropriate copies.

THE CHILDREN OF PETER HITT AND LUCY ROSSER

Mary Wiley, 190 Goldsmith Road, Pittsburgh, PA 15237

This Peter Hitt was the son of Peter Hitt II and the grandson of the Peter Hitt who came to Germanna in 1714. Called Peter Hitt the 3rd, Peter Hitt, Jr., and sometimes Peter Hitt V, he is best identified as the Peter Hitt who married Lucy Rosser. Born in 1776 he married Lucy Rosser and they had five children before he died in 1808 leaving no will. His children are named in Fauquier Co., VA Deed Book 18:186-187 when land they received in the distribution of the estate of their grandfather, Peter Hitt II, was sold to their uncle, Rueben Hitt. They were named in the will of their uncle, Nimrod Hitt, (Culpeper Co. Will Book K, p.170) but the relationship is not made clear. New findings by several Hitt researchers include a Chancery Court case, Hitt vs Hitt Heirs, in Augusta Co. in 1870. The children of Peter and Lucy (Rosser) Hitt are:

Lucinda
Mary (Polly)
Aldridge A.
Nimrod Milton
Elizabeth

Lucinda married Peter Pierce and had three children, Peter, Jr., Robert and Lucy before she died ca 1825. Her husband and children were in Missouri in 1870.

Mary, or Polly as she was called, was living in a boarding house in Rappanhannock Co., VA in 1850. She died in that county, unmarried, in 1882.

Aldridge married Catherine Allensworth in Kentucky in 1828 and settled in Tazewell County, Illinois. He died at 94, leaving 50 grandchildren and 38 great-grandchildren. Five recently discovered letters written by Aldridge in 1882 tie the family together.

Nimrod Milton became a doctor and practiced medicine in Augusta County. Dr. Hitt's two children died young.

Elizabeth married John Green in 1826. (Aldridge signed their marriage bond.) They had three children before they both died between 1831 and 1835 near Paris, Fauquier Co., VA. The children's uncle, Dr. Hitt, who had married Elizabeth Krogler in 1831, had no children when he adopted them in May of 1835. Of the three children, only Nimrod Milton Green had offspring.

Lucy Rosser Hitt remarried in 1808 George James, son of Thomas James. A son, William, of George and Lucy James went west and was not heard from again.

(Editor's note.) Mary Wiley omitted many citations of data sources to conserve space. If anyone wishes to have the citations, Mary will provide them.

THE HEBRON LUTHERAN CHURCH

John Blankenbaker, 38 Stirling Way, Chadds Ford, PA 19317

Built in 1740, the Hebron Lutheran Church in Madison County, Virginia, is 250 years old this year. This makes it the oldest Lutheran house of worship in continuous use by Lutherans in the U.S. The congregation which built it numbered some sixty odd families of about 300 persons in 1740.

Some of the history of the first members of the congregation is recorded in the London Record Office (Board of Trade, Virginia, vol. 20, S.33-34):

To the Kings most Excellent Majesty in Council
The humble Petition of the Minister Elders and Members of a German Lutheran Congregation Settled in the Prince of Oranges County (formerly called Spotsilvania County) in Virginia

Sheweth
That the said Congregation consists of Sixty-two Familys making in number 274 Persons. That they came to Virginia in the year 1717 and were then Settled on some Lands belonging to Colonell Spotswood but in the year 1725 they removed forty miles further and were then seated upon Lands belonging to the Crown at the very borders of the Country under the Great Ridge of Mountains where they have served as a Defence against the Indians and in which dangerous Scituation they have continued ever since.

(The body of the petition asks for relief for ten years from tithes to the Church of England if the congregation supports its own minister.)

(Signed)
Johannes Casparus Stoeverus
dictae Congregationis Pastor
Michael Smith one of the Elders of the L. Congregation
Michael Hollt one of the Members of the said Congregation

R 11 Febry 1734

Not all of the sixty-two families of the petition came in 1717. Those that did move to the base of the Blue Ridge Mountains in 1725 went to work clearing ground, building rude huts and cultivating the soil. Almost immediately permission was sought for two of their number to go to Germany to seek a pastor. Though it is not known whether the two did go (circumstantial evidence says yes), they were certainly unsuccessful in securing a minister. At the same time a German chapel, of log construction, was built on the site of the present Hebron Church. Even though no pastor was secured in these early days, the congregation probably organized themselves and held worship services with Michael Cook as lay reader.

This state of affairs continued until 1733 when Johann Caspar Stoever, a teacher, passed through the Robinson River area. The congregation persuaded him to accept the duties of Pastor. To receive his ordination, Mr. Stoever went to Pennsylvania with a member of the congregation, George Sheible. Upon assuming his duties, Rev. Stoever and the congregation organized a fund raising drive. The treasurer's report for this period is on file in the Orange County Courthouse. At this time, a farm was purchased of William Carpenter on which to build a parsonage.

However, the members felt that they could not support both the parish church and their own church. The decision was reached to send Rev. Stoever and two members of the congregation, Michael Smith and Michael Holt, to Europe to raise money. The petition, cited above, was no doubt filed by Stoever, Smith and Holt when they passed through London in early 1735 (NS). His Majesty was recorded as being favorably impressed with the petition. The Council in Virginia in 1735 renewed the exemption, first made in 1714, to exempt Germans from the payment of parish levies for ten years provided they maintained a minister of their own (see Dodson, Alexander Spotswood, p. 245 which cites C.O.5/1316-1325, p. 239, "Original Papers, Letters and Enclosures relating to Virginia sent to the Board of Trade"). The balance of the trip to Europe was also very successful in securing money and in calling an assistant pastor, George Samuel Klug. Though the calling of Rev. Klug had been controversial, it was important to the history of the congregation because the Rev. Stoever died on the way home in 1739.

In May 1739, when Holt, Smith and Rev. Klug had returned home, the collection in Europe was verified. In July of that year, a farm of 685 acres was purchased of Thomas Farmer and the work of building the present church commenced. Trees had to be felled, logs hewn for the framework, weatherboards sawn, shingles riven and shaved and the nails and hinges had to be made in the blacksmith shop. When erected, the date 1740 was carved in the great girder beam.

The church was a rectangular structure of fifty feet by twenty-six feet by thirty feet high with a small vestry room, nine by thirteen feet, on the north side (one of the lengths). There were doors at the ends. Inside, at each end, there were galleries with interior stairways. The elevated pulpit was in the middle of one long wall (the north). In 1740 the congregation addressed a letter of thanks to all of their benefactors.

In 1787 William Carpenter (a native son of the congregation) became pastor and during his ministry 865 persons were baptized. The original church building had become too small and an annex was added to the south between 1790 and 1802. The annex became an integral part of the church forming the leg of a cruciform. Within the annex, on the south end, an organ loft was created. In 1802 an organ built by David Tannenburg of Lititz, Pennsylvania, was installed. One tradition says that Jacob Rouse and Michael House went to Pennsylvania and brought the organ back by oxen team. The organ, still used today, is the only surviving Tannenburg organ without major alterations.

In 1850 the original 1740 box pews were removed and the wood incorporated into the wainscoting. In the 1880's Joseph Oddenino frescoed the ceiling. In 1903 the cemetery received its first internment. In 1961 the church underwent major renovation while keeping the framing, galleries and original roof trusses. Miraculously the church was spared during a windstorm in 1968 which destroyed the trees outside. Today it stands silhouetted against the farmland in its valley having survived the vicissitudes of a quarter-millennium.

By name the church was known to the first members as "die Hoffnungsvolle Kirche" (The Hopeful Church) while it was known to its English neighbors as the Dutch (Deutsch or German) Church. Before long, the present name of Hebron came into use. (Continued on the next page)

(Editor's notes.) The major reference work in the preparation of this note is History of the Hebron Lutheran Church, Madison County, Virginia from 1717 to 1907 by Rev. W.P. Huddle (1908). An updated version of this book is being printed by the Hebron Church and anyone interested in securing a copy should write to the Hebron Church at P.O. Box 100, Madison, VA 22727.

Thanks are extended to Rev. James E. Baseler for comments on this article. Rev. Baseler has a note on page 100 to which special attention is directed.

WHO BUILT THE HEBRON LUTHERAN CHURCH?

John Blankenbaker, 38 Stirling Way, Chadds Ford, PA 19317

The 1739 list of Orange Co., VA tithables contains a first approximation to the membership of the Hebron Lutheran Church in 1740 who built the first permanent structure. But even this list requires adjustment to account for families such as the Criglers. The head of the Crigler family, Jacob, died in 1734 leaving a wife and children. Though the wife, Susanna, married Nicholas Yager, making her and her children a part of the Yager household, it would be unfair not to name the Criglers as members of the congregation. For reasons such as this, the list of Germans and others to be given here is not complete. (I would be interested in hearing from readers of names they believe are missing.)

In going through the lists, it was of interest to compare the sequence of names with a map of the original land patents. Believing that readers might also find this of interest, I have reproduced D.R. Carpenter's Map of First Patents of Land in Madison County, Virginia (1940) on page 97.

The list presented here is an extraction of the German names with a few English names who lived among or near the Germans. The Germans are given with the names as written by the collector, the number of tithes and my interpretation of the name. Selected comments follow the list.

In the lists, "quarters" refers to land owned by a person which was not his residence. The number of tithables includes all males sixteen and over and all female slaves and indentured servants sixteen and over. Thus William Carpenter with four tithes may have consisted of himself and three slaves/ servants. Some short comments follow.

Though Michael Holt appears to be separated from the other Germans, his land joined Thomas Wayland and John Broyle. Lawrence Crees' patent is known and gives a starting point. Cortney Browel is considered to be Conrad Broyles. The collector works his way rather logically through Long, Hoffman and John Carpenter who was probably on lands of his father-in-law, Andrew Kerker. After going back for Matthias Castler, the collector continues with Cook, Snyder and Robert Tanner. From the physical proximity, George and Robert Tanner were probably related.

Lewis Fisher is an expected name; the problem is that the name occurs twice in the 1739 tithables. After the English names who were probably between Pass Run and the Robinson River, the collector returns to Adam Garr who has one more tithe than would be expected. William Carpenter has more tithes than his family members would suggest. Nicholas Yager also has more tithes than expected but some of these are probably his Crigler stepsons.

After a visit to several English families, the collector returns to Theobald Crisler who was deeded land in 1736. Again there is a duplication of names as two Theobald Crislers are present. Adam Yager and Matthew Smith follow plus an unknown, Henry Crowder. This person might be the Henry "Coller" who married Margaret Thomas, d/o John and Anna Marie Thomas.

The name Christley Broyles is a problem. Two Broyles, Conrad and Jacob, are expected and both are found. Christley is an unknown.

From the position in the sequence, John Harnsberger must have lived on Garr's Mountain. A natural order follows to Michael Smith, an unknown Theobald Crisler, Michael Kaifer, George Moyers, John Rouse and Thomas Wayland. Mark Finks may not have been adjacent to other Germans.

John Michell's course in counting the tithes is easier to follow if we start with Michael Willheit at line 35. From Michael he goes in a direct way to George Utz and Balthasar Blankenbaker. Notice that John Mickell's precinct is on the north side of the Robinson River whereas James Pickett was on the south side. Working backwards from Michael Willheit, we gain a general picture of where Tobias Willheit, John Stoltz, Frederick Baumgardner, Christopher Moyers and Peter Weaver were located. The John Stoltz land patent is actually given and Christopher Moyers was probably on his father's patent so this helps even more to locate Willheit, Baumgardner and Weaver.

Returning to line 38 for Lewis Fisher, this is not an unnatural location for him since he is the son-in-law of Balthasar Blankenbaker. Also Matthias Blankenbaker and Nicholas Blankenbaker follow in the expected order.

D.R. Carpenter, who drew the patent map, reversed the relative locations of the Sheible and Tower (Thomas) patents, I believe. If he did, then George Sheible would be expected next and he is. The next patent belonged to John and Michael Thomas. John lived elsewhere and Michael is not in the tithe list. Instead there is a name which I haven't identified, Conrad Pater. Probably he was leasing land from the Thomases.

Cyriacus Fleshman sold part of his original patent to his son-in-law Jacob Broyles who is the next tithe. Cyriacus himself appears next followed by his son Peter who had set up housekeeping.

The next land patent, of Henry Snyder, is not represented because Henry lived on the south side of the Robinson River. Robert Tanner sold his original 216 acre patent to Richard Burdyne and that is the next tithe on the list.

John Willheit is the next tithe and this may be on the land of Jacob Crigler. This would be reasonable as John's mother-in-law was Susanna Clore Weaver Crigler Yager. The next tithe is Michael Clore. Several English names follow before David and Christopher Yowell appear.

John Thomas had a 400 acre patent in the neighborhood of Jacob Broyle and the two Fleshmans. At this point we are going off D.L. Carpenter's patent map in a northerly direction. Close to John Thomas were two of his 'cousins', Henry Slucter and John Zimmerman. Henry Slucter may have been on a Fleshman patent as he was a stepson of Cyriacus Fleshman.

Again several English names follow and it is not clear whether John Mickell has continued to the north or swung back in a loop. He concludes with John Paul Vogt, Christian Clemons and Jacob Manspiel.

In the lists there are these problems:

Two Lewis Fishers
Two Theobald Crislers
An Unidentified Christley Broyles
An Unidentified Conrad Pater
The Identity of George Tanner
The Identity of Henry Crowder

Names which might be expected but which are not found include Conrad Amburger (d. 1742) who had a joint grant with Joseph Bloodworth; John Motz who had a joint grant with John Harnsberger. Bloodworth had three tithables so Amburger may be included there. Harnsberger had only one tithe so Motz may have been dead by 1739.

Christopher Barlow was in the 1736 list (as Parter) but not in the 1739 list. He probably died before 1739 and his descendants should be counted as a family in 1739 as should the Criglers. Also John Jacob Aylor is perhaps in this category.

Other possible families include Matthias Kerchler (proved his importation in Orange Co. in 1736), Paul Lederer (came in 1733 and was in Orange Co. by 1735), Jacob Miller (grant in 1733 adjoining Adam Yager), Martin Walke (came in 1728, joint grant with Tobias Willheit in 1736), Harmon and Henry Wayman (came in 1738) and Leonard Ziegler (came in 1732, died in 1757). It is of interest that Lederer, Walke and Harmon Wayman married daughters of Michael Clore who had no tithes for his name in 1739. Perhaps his sons-in-law (if married by 1739) were in the Clore family.

In the lists it is noteworthy how often relatives were clustered together. Some of these relationships were unknown until the German origins were uncovered. To name a few, Tobias Willheit and Frederick Baumgardner were cousins. Peter Weaver's sister married John Willheit. John Willheit lived, apparently, on his mother-in-law's land. Lewis Fisher lived on his father-in-law's land. Jacob Broyle had land from his father-in-law. Thomas, Slucter and Zimmerman were cousins by blood or marriage. Christian Clemons married John Paul Vogt's daughter.

On the whole, the count of families in 1739 is approximately equal to the number 62 that had been given in the 1735 petition.

My thanks are extended to Gene Dear who provided information from Barbara Vines Little's Orange County, Virginia, Tithables (1734-1782).

Part 3

The first two parts of this article have considered the immigrant family and two of the surviving children, Catherine who married Christian Clements and Andrew who married Elizabeth _____. This concluding part treats the second son, Gaspar.

Gaspar Faught, son of John Paul and Catherine, married Elizabeth Wilkiss ca 1750. Gaspar lived near North River as did his father, John Paul. Gaspar sold his land in the 1770's. In 1780 Gaspar moved south to a German community in Botetourt County, VA on the headwaters of the James River. Gaspar last appears on the tax lists of Botetourt County in 1787. A Caspar Faught died by May 1753 in Augusta County and left orphans, Conrad and Jacob Cood. This was not Caspar the son of John Paul Vogt.

Gaspar Faught, son of John Paul, left married sons and daughters in Rockingham County and in Botetourt County. Some sons moved west to Greenbrier County and on to Franklin County, KY. This branch of the family spells the surname with an "F". The children of Gaspar and Elizabeth (Wilkiss) Faught are:

1. Martin Faught was born circa 1755 in Augusta County. He had a daughter Elizabeth who married George Shaeffer 30 SEP 1796. Martin was probably married by 1778. He was an elder at Ermentrout's Church[2].

2. Paul (or Powell) Faught was born circa 1757. He was listed with Gaspar in the Botetourt tithables 1780 to 1786, therefore he was born before 1763. Paul went to Franklin County, KY by 1795. He may have had sons Josepher (Joseph?) and William and daughters Margaret and Catherine[21].

3. Adam Faught was born circa 1759. He had land next to his father in the Shenandoah Valley. Adam stayed in Rockingham County, VA. Adam married a Catherine circa 1780. Children of Adam and Catherine were Margaret born circa 1782, Catherine born circa 1784, John who married Catherine Placker, Adam, Jr., George who married Christina Yeagley, Barbara who married Abraham Teshler, Susuanna born circa 1793, Mary who married John Wise and Elizabeth born circa 1805 who married Jacob Cole[22].

4. Sarah Faught was born 28 NOV 1761. The birth is in the Peaked Mountain Church baptismal records.

5. Gaspar Faught was born 05 SEP 1763. The birth is also in the Peaked Mountain Church baptismal records[2]. Gaspar, Jr. died in Greenbrier County, (WV) in December 1795. In 1797 Rachel Faut married Jacob Johnston there. This could have been the widow of Gaspar, Jr. but it is not known at this time who Rachel really was.

6. Leonard Faught was born circa 1765. Leonard's name appears near Paul's in Kentucky. Leonard is too old to be a son of Paul so is probably a brother. Leonard gave permission for his daughter Barbara to marry in 1799 in Franklin County.

7. Barbara Faught was born circa 1767. Barbara married John Edwards 04 JUL 1785 in Botetourt County, VA. The marriage record names Gaspar as the father of the bride.

8. Elizabeth Faught was born circa 1769. She married Thomas Jackson 31 AUG 1786 in Botetourt County, VA. The marriage record names Gaspar as the father of the bride.

9. George Faught was born circa 1771. He married Mary Persinger 11 SEP 1789 in Botetourt County, VA.

SOME LAND PATENTS

John Blankenbaker, 38 Stirling Way, Chadds Ford, PA 19317

There is a set of land patents for which I have never read any discussion. The three below are taken from Nugent, N.M., Cavaliers and Pioneers, Abstracts of Virginia Land Patents and Grants, v.3 (1695-1732), Virginia State Library, Richmond:

William Moore, 380 acres of new land in Spotsylvania Co. in St. George's Parish; on head of the branches of the Mine Run; adjacent Edward Haily; & Person Jones; 27 SEP 1729 (Patent Book 14, page 362). Importation of 8 persons: John Camper, Alice Catherine Camper, John Huffman, Katherine Huffman, Jacob Richart, Elizabeth Richart, John Richart and Katherine Cunk. (Nugent:410)

William Hallaway, of K. and J. Co., 250 acres of new land, Spotsylvania Co. in St. George's Parish; on south side of Nassaponax; 28 SEP 1732 (Patent Book 14, page 521). Importation of 5 persons: Johannes Martin, Margaret Halscrow, Henry Halscrow, John Halscrow & Maria Katherina Martin. (Nugent:425)

Laus Crest, 200 acres of new land in Spotsylvania Co. in St. Mark's Parish; on south side of Robinson River, corner to Matthias Castler; on Dark Run; 28 SEP 1732 (Patent Book 14, page 528). Importation of 4 persons: Katherine Cuntz, John Cuntz, Likewin Peter Hill, Eliza. Peter Hill. (Nugent:426)

All of these importees are members of the 1714 Colony if Cunk is taken to be Cuntz and if Hill is taken to be Hitt. Since the proof of importation of Peter Hitt was as Lekewin Peter Hitt (see Spotsylvania Co. Will Book A), there would seem to be little question. Also Nugent has a difficult time distinguishing "tt" and "ll", see Nugent:389 and the entry for Thomas Watts.

The Moore patent was very close to Germanna, note the location on Mine Run. The Hallaway patent was south of Germanna. The Crest patent, in the Robinson River area, can be found on D.R. Carpenter's Map of First Patents of Land, page 97 of this issue. This may be the same man who had a 1727 patent under the name Lancelot Crest in Hanover Co. (Nugent:326). There was a Lawrence (Lorenzo?) Grays who was naturalized in October 1745 and who came from the "Dukedom of Wirtemberg". Crest, Crees and Grays are perhaps the same man.

> Since some of these importations occur very close to the end of Patent Book 14 which is also close to the end of Cavaliers and Pioneers, there may be importation records for other members of the colony in later patent books.

My interpretation of these records is that the families sold their rights to land, obtained at their proof of importation, to Moore, Hallaway and Crest. There are other interpretations. Some questions arise such as:

Why did some of the people not sell all of their rights?

Are there other head right sales?

Moore, Hallaway and Crest seem like a diversified group who had no connection or even a close physical location to Germantown; how was contact between the sellers and the buyers made?

HEBRON LUTHERAN CHURCH COMMEMORATIVE SERVICES
Rev. James E. Baseler, P.O. Box 100, Madison, VA 22727

In connection with the Reunion of the Germanna Foundation, Hebron Lutheran Church is holding a Service of Holy Communion conducted in German on Saturday, July 14th at 11:00 AM at the church. The historic communion ware will be used and a guest pastor, the Rev. Heine Hoffman, from Goettingen, Germany, will lead the service. This is a religious service in which photography and videotaping will not be allowed. (The church has designated one person to videotape the service and copies will be available.) Everyone is cordially invited to come and partake in the Communion Service. A reception will be held in the Parish House following the service.

The next special day will be Sunday, August 19th. The morning service of Holy Communion will have Dr. Virgil A. Moyer, former Bishop of the Virginia Synod, as the guest speaker. At noon, the traditional "Homecoming Dinner" will be served. At 3:00 PM, a service of Rededication will be held with the Rev. Morris A. Sorenson, assistant to ELCA Bishop Herbert Chilstrom, as guest preacher.

The annual reunion of The Germanna Foundation will be held on July 14 and 15. Saturday's program includes the Service of Holy Communion (see above) and afternoon tours of the Clore Furniture Factory. In the evening there will be a dinner at the Holiday Inn in Culpeper. On Sunday registration begins at 10:15 at the Germanna Community College. A program will be given at 11:00 with lunch (bring your own) following. Afterwards family sections will meet and the library will be open.

THE VAUGHT ASSOCIATION
313 CHAMBERLAIN
MURFREESBORO, TENNESSEE 37130

Greetings:

Thank you for your membership application and family information sheet. It is a joy to welcome you to the membership of the Vaught Family Association. Our membership is formed of descendants of the Vaught families from many states. We are continually contacting families whose information we do not have.

Our files are small; but, as we grow in membership and information, we hope to help those of you with special needs and requests. Won't you help us, help you? As you learn new facts about our Vaught family, won't you send the association a copy? Together we can trace the Vaught families over America.

There are no membership dues. We operate on contributions ONLY. All we are asking is for information to help us and other Vaught families preserve our heritage.

If we can assist you in any way, please write and let us know. This is our association. Thank you for helping to make it a great one.

The annual reunion is scheduled for the last Sunday in July every year. It will be held in Somerset, Kentucky. A letter with directions and information will be sent out closer to the date of the reunion. This is a time for you to come and meet other members of our Vaught family.

Sincerely,

Aneta Vaught Gentry
